Sunshine Queen Wins Roar of London Pride

(See Also Page 26)

LONDON, Ont. (CP)—The Queen and Prince Philip kicked off the seventh day of their Royal Tour of Ontario in a scorching sun today. They took this picturesque old city by storm.

Upwards of 60,000 people — some leathery veterans of the Boer War and the Riel Rebellion and many wildly cheering school children—jammed the main arteries and tree-lined boulevards to welcome the royal couple.

The Queen and Prince, who arrived here from Stratford at 9.54 a.m., spent 21 minutes longer than their scheduled stay of one hour. They departed by royal train for Chatham at 11.15 a.m., 15 minutes late. They had arrived six minutes early.

The Queen, who appeared tired Thursday night after a whirlwind tour of six Ontario cities, was a striking figure in her cherry-red and white-spotted silk dress as she and the Prince drove four miles from the CNR station to Little Memorial Stadium on the shrub-studded University of Western Ontario campus.

The weather was fit for royalty. Although it was about 83 degrees it didn't seem to bother the royal couple.

About 10,000 people crowded around the CNR station in south-central London as the Queen and Philip stepped from the train and walked across $10,000 worth of red carpeting to be welcomed by 55-year-old Mayor J. A. Johnston. It was Mayor Johnston who welcomed the Queen mother and father during the Royal Tour in 1939.

The ceremony in front of the station was brief. The party then drove four blocks past banks of shouting people to City Hall, where the Queen signed the guest book.

The Queen wrote with the same pen her father, the late King George VI, used twenty years ago.

The Queen accepted a set of bronze bookends and a $2,000 scholarship as a gift from the city. The couple then went to the stadium in a convertible to be welcomed by some 16,000 people there. Thousands in the crowd were school children who spilled over from the bleachers on to the closely cropped turf.

About 40 city and township officials were presented to Her Majesty and the royal procession headed back to the train.

Minutes after the tour began the Queen was asked to accept a bouquet of yellow tea roses from Mary Jane Kennedy, a 24-year-old blonde beauty. Miss Kennedy presented a bouquet to the King and Queen 20 years ago.

"I was only four years old then," she said. "I don't think I really appreciated it. But this time it was different. I was thrilled. This was one of the most exciting moments of my life."

Mary Jane, studying to be a nurse, is the great-great-granddaughter of Murray Anderson, first mayor of London in 1855.

The Queen walked through ranks of old war veterans after accepting the bouquet. She stopped to chat with Sergeant William Mills, 93, who fought in the Riel Rebellion in 1885.

The Queen, a straw hat with cherry-colored ribbon on her head and wearing elbow-length white gloves, said:

"You're a remarkable old gentleman."

Just as sharp as he looked, the sergeant replied: "You're a remarkable young lady."

"That's a long time ago, the North-West Rebellion," said the Queen.

"Yes, indeed, it was, Your Majesty."

The old veteran wasn't spruced up in his uniform. He looked more like a financial tycoon in his dapper grey suit and homburg. The Prince, tanned and smiling, stood by, handsome in his blue suit.

As the royal train pulled out, elderly folks seemed reluctant to depart. Some of them picked up souvenirs of the red carpet—pieces from workmen who made last minute trimmings of the covering—as souvenirs of the tour.

The Queen and Prince will be remembered in London.

2 Cabinet Men Deny Tory 'Finger' in CBC

OTTAWA (CP)—Two members of the cabinet said today they do not recall receiving representations from Quebec Progressive Conservative MPs criticizing or seeking cancellation of public affairs talks on the CBC's French-language radio and television networks.

Revenue Minister Nowlan, who reports to Parliament for the publicly-owned CBC, and Solicitor-General Balcer, senior cabinet member from Quebec, were replying in the Commons to questions by Alexis Caron (L-Hull) and H. J. Robichaud (L-Gloucester).

Mr. Caron said a story in Thursday's Toronto Star stated that last winter at least two confidential documents criticizing the talks and public affairs branch of the CBC's French-language network "were prepared by a group of Quebec Conservatives and submitted to the government."

Mr. Nowlan said Thursday he made no "representations" to the CBC for removal of the controversial Preview Commentary radio program.

PRAYER FOR TODAY

Heavenly Father, we give Thee thanks for the comforting companionship of the Holy Spirit, for the living presence of One Who is concerned with our affairs. Awaken us from our spiritual dullness, that we may obey His promptings and beckonings. May we yield our wills to the promptings of Thy Spirit, that we may know His strengthening joy and His victorious power. Amen.

OTTAWA (CP)—Opposition Leader Pearson today renewed his suggestion that Canada get out of the air defence business.

He said in a continuing Commons defence debate that this country can't afford to provide air defence against nuclear attack and conventional forces at the same time.

But more emphasis should be placed on conventional forces to prevent limited wars turning into all-out nuclear conflict. Canada could supply an airborne brigade group if it reduced its air defence commitments.

Attendance in the 265-seat chamber fell to the quorum of 20 while Mr. Pearson was speaking. One committee was meeting. At the same time, there were 21 defence department officials in the gallery ready to provide answers to members' questions on defence.

TIME "APPROACHING"

Defence Minister Pearkes said in reply to Mr. Pearson that the stage is fast approaching when Canada and the United States can sign an agreement for use of American nuclear weapons by Canadian forces.

Mr. Pearson asked whether Canada would be in the same position as the United Kingdom which had control of U.S. nuclear weapons in its hands.

Mr. Pearkes said he could say nothing more until the negotiations were completed.

Mr. Pearson said Canada must have control over the atomic weapons allotted to its troops.

Mr. Pearkes said this matter is under active consideration and the subject of negotiation.

Prime Minister Diefenbaker said Feb. 20 that American nuclear weapons stores in Canada would remain under U.S. custody.

Castro Battles Plotters

HAVANA (UPI)—Fidel Castro will summon half a million Cuban peasants to Havana July 26 "with their machetes" to demonstrate popular support for his revolutionary government.

The bearded prime minister spoke on television shortly after his secret police announced discovery of a vast anti-government conspiracy operating in the heart of the capital.

Police said they had arrested "many" Cubans and seized "great quantities" of uniforms, arms and ammunition. The manhunt continued today and police said more arrests were imminent.

Castro's speech bristled with challenges to the Dominican Republic. He denounced "international interests." He flayed his air force chief who resigned and disappeared after charging there were Communists in the government.

U.S. RAPPED

Castro rapped the United States by saying that henchmen of Fulgencio Batista in exile in Florida "each day have more influence and official aid."

Castro's revolutionary force which overthrew Batista's dictatorship was known as the 26th of July movement after the date on which it started with an abortive uprising in 1953.

He said assembling the peasants in the capital on that day would show the world the force of his revolution, which he considers still in progress.

The Cuban secret police pressed their gangbusting manhunt in an effort to wipe out the conspiracy to overthrow the government.

Secret police chief Erundino Vilela said the gang was responsible for a recent outbreak of sabotage and terrorism in the greater Havana area and had planned assassinations as the next stage of its operation.

FIVE KILLED IN FLAMING CAR SMASH

SPOKANE, Wash. (AP)—A speeding car smashed into the concrete abutment of an overpass on a super highway early today, then burst into flames. The driver and all four passengers were killed.

Four of the bodies were burned beyond recognition and hours later they still were unidentified. Police said the accident may have been caused by the driver dozing at the wheel.

RENTS, POTATOES HIGH

Cost of Living Again Climbs

OTTAWA (CP) — Canadian living costs rose in May, largely as a result of higher potato prices and steeper rents, and pushed the consumer price index up by three-tenths of a point to 125.9 on June 1, the Bureau of Statistics reported today.

The rise, from 125.6 on May 1, was the second monthly increase in a row following a five-month decline in the index. The index is based on 1949 prices equalling 100.

Its June 1 level of 125.9 compares with the record high point of 126.3 last Nov. 1, and with 125.1 June 1 last year.

Wages rose slightly in April after a slight dip caused by the Easter holiday in March. The index of average industrial wages and salaries at May 1—latest date for which figures are available — was 170.5, based on 1949 equalling 100. This was up from 169 April 1 and 170.2 March 1.

The index is computed from a survey of firms employing more than 15 persons and covering a wide range of industries. It represents an average of total wages paid.

INSURANCE UP

The bureau said the higher cost of shelter in May was also due in part to a 6 per cent increase in fire insurance rates.

In other fields of expenditure, Canadians faced higher prices for a wide range of pharmaceuticals, train fares, interurban bus fares and gasoline — with the end of the gasoline price wars during the month.

Workers Leave Woods Monday

By PETE LOUDON

Last-minute personal intervention of Labor Minister Lyle Wicks in the threatening strike of B.C. woodworkers failed this morning and the 26,600-member union prepared to "hit the bricks" Monday morning.

Following a morning-long meeting at Vancouver Hotel with leaders of the International Woodworkers of America, and representatives of Forest Industrial Relations who speak for lumber operators, the minister blamed management for the impasse.

He washed his hands of further attempts at negotiation.

"That's it. I am disappointed and annoyed," he said.

He said he knows of no further meetings planned by the opposing factions before the strike deadline at 11 a.m. Monday.

The minister added there were no plans by his department to enter again into the dispute.

Loggers Ready for Long Seige

Meantime, IWA officials gave final instructions to picket control committees, prepared placards, and made ready for a long siege.

Despite instructions to loggers to stay in the woods until Monday, it was reported a general exodus from outlying camps is already underway in some strength — in fact, it started as early as Tuesday, the eve of the Dominion Day holiday.

Several outlying camps were reported running short-handed —"on short shifts."

One official said the woods crews actually have been short-handed in many places since May. "Everybody is going into construction, where they are offering more stable employment."

The labor minister issued a formal statement following meetings this morning in his hotel room, held with each side separately.

Some Progress Made With IWA

"During my discussions with top officers of the IWA, I feel some progress was made," the statement said, and continued: "My meeting between representatives of industry, through the Forest Industrial Relations indicated clearly, there was no basis for entering into or carrying on further negotiations at this stage.

"I am keenly disappointed in the attitude of management as expressed through their spokesmen, representatives of Forest Industrial Relations."

The FIR represents some 126 firms. The minister said the FIR representatives were "a lot more reticent" than the IWA. In a statement last week, the minister noted the IWA was not willing to co-operate.

The union is demanding a 20-per-cent wage increase over a base rate of $1.72 an hour. A majority recommendation by a conciliation board favored a seven per cent raise in a two-year contract, which was acceptable to management.

More than 90 per cent of its members have voted to strike against the operators.

Mr. Wicks has said a woodworkers' strike would cost British Columbia industry $1,000,000 a day. He said today before meeting with union and employer representatives:

"The government will not sit idly by in a situation of this kind. I'm meeting separately with both parties and we'll see what they have to offer."

The government has no power to prevent a strike.

MODERN DAVID PUTS NEW TWIST TO OLD TALE

CITY SHAREHOLDER WINS SUIT AGAINST LABATTS

By HAL MALONE

David slew Goliath again Thursday.

This time the scene of battle was B.C. Supreme Court Chambers in Vancouver instead of at Ephesdammin in the valley of Elah.

The upset victory occurred when Mr. Justice A. M. Manson ruled in favor of "David", personified by Victoria chartered accountant G. F. Dunn, his wife and Sooke Investments Ltd. in their fight against "Goliath", the giant brewing firm of John Labatt Ltd.

The "Davids", facing what investment and legal experts regarded as insurmountable odds, had asked the court to set aside a previous ruling which compelled them to sell their handful (1,260) of shares in Lucky Lager Brewing Co. to the "Goliath", Labatts.

After four hearings, Mr. Justice Manson declared invalid an arrangement under which minority Lucky shareholders would be compelled to sell to Labatts.

He accepted the argument of Mr. Dunn and his counsel J. G. McIntosh that Labatt's offer of $5.25 per share "was not a fair and equitable one."

Mr. Dunn estimated the value of his holdings at from $6.18 to $8.40 per share, based on different evaluation methods.

The jurist's judgment climaxed a 14-month battle by the Dunns and Sooke Investments.

Ever since May 8, 1958, when Labatt's first offered to purchase their holdings at $5.25 each the Dunns and Sooke Investments have fought to keep their Lucky shares.

DARKEST MOMENT

When they continued to resist Labatts offers, the brewing firm obtained an ex parte (only one side appearing) order from Mr. Justice Ruttan last November compelling them to sell.

The Dunns' darkest moment came in February when Mr. Justice A. D. Macfarlane temporarily stalled their application to have the "sell" order set aside. He ruled that the applicants could not call witnesses to testify, then left the door open by advising them that they could produce evidence later by means of affidavit (sworn written testimony).

This they did. On June 25 they presented an intensive, detailed argument before Mr. Justice Manson.

He became so interested in the application he tried to absent himself from daily chamber matters so he could hear the argument without interruptions. Because of a "shortage of judges" he was compelled to hear the application after routine chamber sessions.

VIOLATED ACT

Thursday he said the agreement under which the shareholders would be required to sell at $5.25 per share was invalid because Labatts had not complied with the Companies Act in making its original offer to Lucky shareholders. He ordered Labatts to pay costs of the action.

The judge said the company "failed to observe" Section 128 of the Companies Act when it offered to acquire a 51 per cent interest in Lucky Lager on May 9, 1958, and the following month announced its intention to buy all the shares of Lucky.

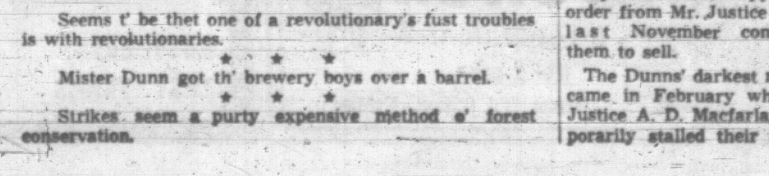
"There must be strict compliance with the law in such matters. The two Labatt letters were not such as the law requires."

Mr. Justice Manson said it was not for him to fix the value of the shares but he found Mr. Dunn's evidence "more satisfactory" than that put forward by Labatts counsel.

The judge said he found it "difficult to understand" the steps taken by Labatts.

They had obtained 98.28 per cent of the shares and "why they want the rest I cannot understand."

Mr. Dunn owns 60 Lucky shares, his wife 200 shares and Sooke Investments 1,000. Labatts own 1,803,150 shares.



Seems t' be thet one of a revolutionary's fust troubles is with revolutionaries.

NEW YORK—Louis Satchmo Armstrong, who hopes to play his famous trumpet "another 20 years or so," plans to celebrate his 59th birthday Saturday by attending a July 4 jazz concert at Lewissohn Stadium.

Reporting "I have never felt better," old Satchmo arrived home from Rome Thursday night. He told a crowd of 100 well-wishers at Idlewild he had recovered from a pneumonia attack and added, "I know they wanted to get me up there to play first horn for Gabriel but I don't think I'll be up there for a long time yet."

CHESTERFIELD, Eng.—Joseph Hollis, 42, was acquitted of drunk driving charges after a doctor testified a blood test showed he had drunk twice the amount needed to kill him.

"According to this, my client is dead," Hollis' lawyer objected.

PARIS — The 13 cleanest kids in France got their weight in soap as a reward Thursday along with a diploma from the education ministry. They were selected in a school competition by experts who computed that a youngster weighing 115 pounds was worth 540 cakes of soap.

GARDEN GROVE, Calif.—Two months ago four-year-old J. Byron Patterson dashed into the street, was hit by a car and dragged 44 feet.

A leg and ribs were broken. He underwent four-hour brain surgery for multiple head injuries.

Yet his mother says: "For his sake, it's the best thing that has ever happened."

Since the accident the boy, almost deaf since birth, has begun to hear.

MELBOURNE — Bounce a crying baby to sleep, don't rock it, is an Australian doctor's advice to sleepless parents.

Dr. Frederick Knowles, who lives in Syndham in northwestern Australia, says bouncing will silence an angry baby in seconds.

MONTCLAIR, N.J. — Her cheetah is being cheated, says a woman who rides about town in her Jaguar sports car with a six-foot jungle cat beside her.

Marcel High said Thursday that pressure from the town commission is forcing her to sell her pet cheetah, Blitz. The commission passed an ordinance this week banning "non-domestic" animals from Montclair.

Miss High claims that the leopard-like animal is domesticated. She keeps it tethered outdoors across the street from her home. At night the cheetah sleeps in a garage.

Truck Hunted As Student's Murderer Flees

(From CP Dispatches)

PRINCE GEORGE—Police throughout British Columbia have been asked to watch for a white panel truck owned by a 30-year-old university student whose body was found Sunday at a picnic spot 90 miles north of here.

They said the person who murdered Bruce Worline, a student at University of Alaska in Fairbanks, apparently escaped in the white Alaska-registered panel truck Worline was driving.

Worline was driving from Fairbanks to join his wife at her parents' home in Santa Monica, Calif. Police believe his murderer was someone to whom he gave a lift in the truck. He apparently was shot with his own .22-calibre rifle after a violent struggle.

BACK IN CUSTODY

VANCOUVER — Mike Tran, 18-year-old right fielder on the Oakalla Prison baseball team, is back in custody after a week of freedom.

Tran sprinted into deep right after a fly ball June 23 and kept going. He leaped over a prison fence and escaped.

Prison officials said they haven't decided whether Tran will rejoin the baseball team.

CRASH KILLS PILOT

TRAIL—A light spray plane crashed into a power line six miles north of here Thursday night, killing the pilot and cutting off the city's electricity supply for 10 minutes.

The pilot was Ronald Elmore, an employee of Skyways Air Services of Langley, B.C.

TUG SAVES FISHBOAT

VANCOUVER (CP) — A nearby tug went to the aid of the 36-foot fishing boat Sheila Mac today and prevented her from sinking after she was holed near Redonda Island, 100 miles northwest of Vancouver.

The Sheila Mac struck a rock, driving a hole in her hull. Water flooded into the engineroom and disabled the engines.

The tug Scotch Fir pumped water from the fishboat and towed the vessel to Redonda Harbor.

WHIRLPOOL SWALLOWS BOY

SQUAMISH—A nine-year-old boy plunged down a cliff to his death in a whirlpool at Pemberton Creek, 40 miles north of here.

Police said Robert Gillis of Pemberon and three other boys were trying to approach a waterfall while on a hike.

Federal Civil Service Analysis Recommended

(From Times News Services)

OTTAWA. — The Commons estimates committee Thursday recommended that independent consultants be hired from time to time to analyze operations of Canada's federal civil service.

In a report tabled by committee chairman Art Smith (PC., Calgary South), the committee suggested that present methods of the civil service commission in carrying out this function are not effective enough.

A commission analysis of any department's operations and personnel growth was caried out only at the invitation of the depatment in question.

The committee, which reported on its findingns after a study of commission activities, said the commission itself should initiate departmental analyses—"thus maintaining some assessment of those departments that are reluctant to invite such an examination."

While the commission had performed a useful function in this direction in the past, "its capacity to provide a completely independent evaluation is open to question."

Other points made by the committee:

1. The present merit system as opposed to a political patronage system — for hiring government employees should be continued. It "provides the one assurance that the civil servant will remain free from political or other influences in discharging his responsibility to the Canadian public."

2. A uniform regulation should be used by the civil courage nepotism—hiring relatives — in government departments.

3. More consideration should be given older persons in hiring government employees.

4. The present charge of 50 cents each for copies of patents should be doubled to $1 in an attempt to cut down the deficit of the state secretary"s department in this field, which amounted to $584,000 last year.

In the marathon defence debate, neither Opposition Leader Pearson nor Harold Winch (CCF, Vancouver East) could get a direct reply from Defence Minister Pearkes to the question of whether Canada will have control of nuclear weapons, if the agreement is signed with the U.S.

Mr. Pearkes said the practice followed in other countries with agreements on use of U.S. nuclear weapons is that the U.S. retains custody until the Americans decide to release them for use by the other country.

But the other country would not necessarily have to use the weapons then. The decision would be up to that other country.

Mr. Pearson said the only satisfactory agreement would be with the provision that Canada have complete control over any nuclear weapons its forces might use.

Mr. Winch, urging that Canada not allow the U.S. to station nuclear weapons on Canadian soil, said preparation for a nuclear conflict might leave the West open to defeat in a non-nuclear war.

He said Canada should not manufacture, use or allow to be stored on Canadian soil any nuclear weapons.

Instead, it should devote its major defence efforts toward establishing an effective, integrated mobile force for use in conventional warfare.

Only the United States and the Soviet Union could afford to indulge in nuclear weapons.

'Political Hacks' Hit In UIC Jobs

TORONTO (CP)—The Toronto District Labor Council charged Thursday night that "political hacks" are disrupting the operation of the Unemployment Insurance Commission.

The council said that three Toronto chairmen of the board of referees were dismissed and their jobs given to Conservative oppointees.

Herbert Gargrave of the United Steel Workers of America (CLC) said:

"If this were a real political plum with men being paid for doing nothing it would be of less concern than the dismissal of three competent chairmen."

The oppointments, said Mr. Gargrave, suggested that the labor department is being riddled with political patronage.

Canadian Labor Congress appointees recently resigned from the commission in protest against the appointment of A. F. MacArthur as labor representative on the commission.

FBI AND RCMP TEAM UP IN BROCKVILLE BOND CASE

5 Indicted in 'World's Biggest Theft'

SAM MANNARINO arrested.

CHICAGO (UPI) — Dovetailed sleuthing by the FBI and the Royal Canadian Mounted Police led to the indictment of five men in an alleged plot to dispose of more than $12 million in Canadian bonds stolen in the "world's largest theft," authorities said today.

Three men were arrested by the FBI Thursday on charges of concealing stolen Canadian government bonds and aiding and abetting each other in disposing of the securities.

The bonds, together with about $15,000 in cash and more than $40,000 in jewelry, were stolen from the Brockville Trust and Savings Co., Brockville Ont., May 4, 1958.

Assistant U.S. Attorney James B. Parsons said he would start extradition proceedings through the state department today in order to obtain the arrest of two Montreal men indicted with the three Americans

All are accused of being co-conspirators in the bizarre case, which led investigators from Brockville to Montreal, Chicago, Pittsburgh, Miami Beach, Fla., and even abroad to Basel, Switzerland.

Secret indictments were returned by a federal grand jury in Chicago and released after Thursday's arrests.

CRIME BOSS

Arrested were Sammual Mannarino, 53, of New Kensington, Pa., reputed bigwig in Pittsburgh district rackets; Normal Rothman, Surfside, Fla., former operator of a slot machine distributorship in Cuba, and William W. Rabin of Chicago, who, authorities say, posed as a business counsellor here. Mannarino was arrested in New Kensington and the other two in Miami Beach.

Parsons identified the Canadians indicted as Gueseppe Cotroni, who has been described as the "head of Canada's crime syndicate," and Renee Robert.

Named in the indictment, but not indicted, was Rene Martin who was arrested two days after the burglary and sentenced on last Dec. 5 to 12 years in Kingston, Ont., prison. Authorities here said Martin, accused of being one of the burglars, went to prison refusing to name his accomplices.

'FORCE WITH FORCE'

Berlin Threat Made by Kozlov

WASHINGTON (AP)—Soviet Deputy Premier Frol R. Kozlov warned Thursday that Russia would meet force with force if the Western Allies resort to military action in the Berlin crisis.

Kozlov coupled these words with renewed demands the West accept the Kremlin's formula for making West Berlin a Communist-ringed "free city".

If not, he said, Russia would ignore Western protests and sign a separate peace treaty with Communist East Germany —"with all the consequences."

The Russian leader spoke on television on the second day of his round of talks in the capital.

"If a war is reached, if force is resorted to, then force will be met with force," he said.

His main theme was a plea for better Soviet-American understanding to end dangerous world tensions.

Midsummer Charade

A FEW DAYS HENCE THE finance ministers of the 10 Canadian provinces will assemble in Ottawa for a solemn farce. They are to meet with Mr. Fleming and begin a lengthy study of federal-provincial relations which have been under continual study for more than 20 years.

Why the new study? Its only purpose is to stall off a new tax settlement which the Federal Government simply cannot afford.

Accordingly, the finance ministers will take a general look at the old problem, make appropriate speeches, resolve to do something some day and then turn over the job of investigation to their officials.

With good management, the officials' deliberations can easily be delayed for another year or two. Then, maybe, Mr. Diefenbaker will call the full-dress federal-provincial conference which he promised to call immediately on taking office. At an opportune time, shortly before the next federal election, the provincial governments may receive some more revenue handouts from Ottawa—paid for, of course, by the residents of the provinces who are the only taxpayers.

In the meantime the officials, earnestly poring over the old, well-known figures, cannot possibly find out anything new about the financial condition of the national or provincial governments. The Rowell-Sirois Commission dissected that anatomy before the Second World War and the figures, as they changed from year to year, have been kept constantly up to date.

But, of course, it is not the figures but the politics that concern the forthcoming conference in Ottawa.

The Diefenbaker Government has promised huge new grants of money to the provinces and has no money to provide them, being deep in deficits. Its great ally in Ontario, Premier Frost, is demanding $115,000,000 a year and, in his recent election campaign, assured the voters that he would get it from his friend, Mr. Diefenbaker.

It would be difficult for Mr. Diefenbaker to find even that amount but if he gives it to Mr. Frost he must give corresponding amounts to the other nine provinces. This would probably double the Federal Government's existing deficit and completely destroy its attempt to stabilize its finances.

So the promise cannot be delivered, at present anyway. It can only be blurred and postponed indefinitely by a ceremony and spectacle at Ottawa. Mr. Fleming will welcome his distinguished guests (most of whom are in far better financial shape than his Government), assure them of his highest consideration and get them out of town as soon as possible while he returns to his empty treasury.

The Queen's Visit Bonus

PREMIER BENNETT'S largesse with the people's money, as a "Queen's visit" gift to old-age pensioners and social assistance cases, is difficult to understand on at least three counts.

First, the gift is announced at a time when other essential services are being rebuffed, and even curtailed, on the basis of a hold-the-line policy. The general belief is that this has been done in connection with Mr. Bennett's bond-burning festival, shortly to take place at Okanagan lake. Meanwhile, hospital boards are being told to postpone much-needed building additions, the municipalities are crying starvation and the University of B.C. is still waiting for the "matching grant" dollars promised 18 months ago.

Second, the gift is clearly irregular, since it has been announced without prior consultation with the legislature, not now in session. The Premier has arrogated to himself the right to disburse these funds and undoubtedly feels that—since almost everyone recognizes the plight of aged people on fixed incomes—that he will receive a sympathetic audience when he goes through the motions of ratifying the gift in the House. This, of course, does not make it proper.

Finally, the $25 gift, just as the $28 tax rebate, cannot escape certain political overtones. The Premier's comment that "this is not so because there will be no election this year" is specious in the extreme. Everyone likes to receive a bonus; and it is logical to expect that that gratitude will be reflected at the polls. Mr. Bennett will receive credit for the gift, even though it is the taxpayers' money he has handed out without consultation or vote.

Rescues and Warnings

VICTORIANS HAVE READ OF two more small boat rescues—in this case during the July 1 holiday.

This could become a familiar news item, with tragic overtones, if inexperienced people do not learn their lessons in water safety more quickly.

The fortunate presence nearby of people able to handle boats, or experienced in the water, brought the July 1 incidents to a relatively happy ending.

It is obvious, however, that at some time similar accidents, in which small craft founder or capsize, will occur when there are no rescuers in the vicinity.

The danger increases as a larger percentage of our growing population turns to the water for recreation. Many of the new boatmen have little knowledge of the way to handle their craft and more of them are unfamiliar with the waters hereabouts.

The double danger thus posed cannot be ignored.

The situation calls for several precautions. Those who go out in small boats should know how to swim—and should have buoyancy jackets or belts with them when they are some distance from shore. The inexperienced should seek the company of those who know how to handle boats and should gain a measure of proficiency before they venture out alone or with youngsters also inexperienced.

The two rescues on the holiday reflect credit on the people who were able to give assistance. They stand, also, as warnings to others who may be completely ignorant of the risks they take.

New Words, Old Facts

BRITAIN is reported to be seeking allied support for a presentation of the West's Berlin solution in a new form. There would, however, be no change in the actual content of the Western policy.

Such a move may help to prolong the Geneva foreign ministers' conference when it reconvenes in July, but it is not likely to win any agreement from Russia. The Soviet Union seems to be either fishing for a definite concession on the part of the West—which may or may not fall short of withdrawal from Berlin—or is playing a waiting game to increase the tension between the allies. Redraughting the offers which have already been rejected by Russia will not alter that situation to any extent.

One of the noticeable things about the Geneva talks, however, is the way in which Britain has taken the lead in trying to find an accommodation with Russia. That arises partly from the slightly more open attitude of Britain towards Soviet demands — although not countenancing appeasement — and partly from a feeling of greater urgency in the British camp.

Prime Minister Macmillan, on the basis of his talks with Mr. Khrushchev earlier this year, feels that a peaceful solution can be found. He believes, also, that a summit meeting should be held regardless of the progress, or lack of it, made by the foreign ministers—that a failure at Geneva would make a summit meeting more necessary than ever.

The British leader may be getting this idea across to the Americans, since Mr. Eisenhower has apparently shifted his stand from a strict insistence on some preliminary advance in reaching agreement on Berlin, to much more liberal acceptance of almost any kind of progress on almost any topic.

As of now, however, the basic situation has not changed. The Russians want the West out of Berlin, and seem willing to risk a war to achieve it. The Geneva talks will resume at that point.

FOR A MORE COLORFUL FUTURE

By B. A. TOBIN

The Latest Development Hints at Tints

Tobin

I HEAR some mention of a new medical treatment now being used in Australia, in which the doctors inject special dyes into victims of severe burns. The dye, in the process of counteracting the effects of the burn, turns the patient a deep green. I don't know how long the technicolor effect lasts, but the idea seems to suggest a few improvements that could be made in the human appearance. The ladies started a year or two ago to tint their hair blue. Since then the fashion has included other colors. Why could not the process be extended to the skin as well?

Already we have certain standard shades that are widely accepted. A peaches-and-cream complexion, not so often seen in reality, is well known as a stand-by of the novelist faced with the job of describing his heroine. Various shades of tan are popular in the summer, and socially obligatory in some environments such as swimming pools, club locker rooms and the more fashionable holiday resorts.

Shades of Meaning

On the literary side, we read that this or that character is deeply tanned, dark brown, bronzed, and so on, and the thought of skin shades has come—quite apart from any racial consideration—to have a significance in our concept of the person described.

A story which tells of a beach scene, for instance, may mention so and so as appearing white in his swim suit.

At once we know that this fellow is not quite on the mark. He may be all right in his way, but some bronzed chap is going to beat him out for the girl. His whiteness is a social handicap; it sets him off as being not in the charmed circle.

In the same way, a deeply browned character may win out over an only slightly tanned person; a ruddy complexion may prove to be a great social advantage over a pale one.

The chances, then, appear good that a new style of skin tints could be imposed on us at any time. Protective coloration, which up to now has meant the camouflage effect of our furred and feathered friends, could come to mean a dyeing process which protected us from the sneers of our more style-conscious associates.

Suitable Attire

The ancient Britons no doubt attached social meaning to their coatings of woad. We, too, would come to assess our companions on the basis of their color.

Miss Jones, for instance, might choose a fashionable light orange skin, while her friend Miss Smith would go for a chartreuse facial complexion with matching arms and legs.

Joe Doakes, a man of some prominence in the business world, would select a conservative and dignified blue to bolster his position. His wife, on the other hand, might favor mauve and his daughter old rose.

Depending on the dye process, these colors might be quickly interchangeable. It is easy to imagine the convenience which this feature would provide.

Mr. Bennett, for example, rising in the Legislature to present his budget speech, would avoid any semblance of appearing in the red. He might choose a good, substantial blue, or an optimistic-looking green. For such occasions as the Kelowna bond-burning, however, he could sport a dashing crimson.

Mr. Gaglardi would naturally try to achieve a matching shade for a blue streak; Mr. Strachan might find appropriate a rich pink, deepening into magenta to match his indignation; the Liberal MPPs might be able to manage a red, white and blue effect to cover all the virtues.

Obviously, the idea has great possibilities. In summer, with bare necks, arms and legs in evidence, the streets would become a kaleidoscope of cheery tones, while in winter the dark days would be brightened by glimpses of multicolored hands and faces.

Inevitably, certain shades would soon be reserved for certain occasions or moods. Blue of a particular hue would mean "I'm in the dumps, leave me alone," and the wearer's wishes would be respected. A light green girl might signify she was open for dates; a darker shade might mean she was booked up.

To Each His Own

Certain pastel shades, of an expensive nature, might come to denote the financial status of the wearer—"rich coloring" might take on real meaning as a descriptive phrase.

These are just suggestions, of course, thrown out for what they're worth. No doubt they will be thrown out, for what they're worth.

But don't bet that nothing will come of them. After all, who would have thought, only a few years ago, that 1959 would see women walking through town with green eyelids, blue hair, bronze legs, purple lips and silver fingernails? After this, anything can happen.

In the Opinion of Our Correspondents

Elk Lake Needs Control

A week ago I came to Victoria for a visit to my daughter and family. Not knowing I was coming they had organized a picnic party at Elk Lake, to which they invited me.

On arrival at the lake I saw a natural beauty picnic spot, and dozens of mothers with their families all enjoying a good time picnicking and swimming.

I was only there half an hour when I thought we had all got into a fog or a storm. One could hardly see people next to you. I looked around after it all calmed down and discovered this storm, as I thought, was nothing else than auto picnickers speeding wildly into the road that leads off the highway to the lake. It continued all the afternoon. As a result I gather everyone needed a wash or dip in the lake to say nothing of the dirt spreading over the eatables. Since I noticed there is a squabble as to which of the municipalities should take care of the ground and development, might I suggest it needs control. The first suggestion I make is that the drive-in road be oiled to lay dust. Secondly, a 10-mile speed limit should be set on that road off the highway in towards the lake, and thirdly, that an auto barrier be placed so autos can't occupy picnic spots close to water. This can prevent some autos driving over picnickers at high speed.

This can be a beauty spot for residents and visitors but it needs control.

I. J. WALSHE.

Burning Taxpayers

On August 1, the Premier says the province will be debt free and the cancelled bonds will be burned up. Right now the municipal taxpayers are burned up.

Because of the "equalization" of assessments many property taxes are up $80, $100, $120, $140 this year. Older homes are hardest hit. Why? Older homes have supported the city with their taxes over the years and, like senior citizens, should be entitled to some concessions in their old age. Many do not get the $28 rebate.

We hereby register a vigorous protest against this heavy raise in taxes. Furthermore we request that some relief be given by taking the iniquitous school tax off the property owners, and we fully endorse the UBCM plan for doing this.

We understand 1 per cent of the sales tax was saved to the province when the federal government entered into the hospital insurance plan and we suggest that this could be used to lift the education burden off the property owners.

EVELYN MACKENZIE.

Lift Fuel Oil Tax

A decade or two ago a tax was put on fuel oil by Provincial Government to supposedly help to encourage the continuation of coal mining. The tax has always been unfair and discriminating and could not possibly accomplish what it was supposed to do. It is discriminating because all other types of fuel are free from this tax.

With the almost complete discontinuance of coal mining on Vancouver Island and the fact that oil is used so generally, it is now quite apparent that in all fairness the tax should be cancelled on fuel oils to help reduce present terrific costs a little to householders and business.

It is obvious that the tax was never equitable.

The consumption of oil now produced in Western Canada should be encouraged.

Night to Remember

Through the medium of your newspaper, I would like to congratulate the firm of Evans, Coleman and Evans for their interest and support of the good old game of soccer in this city.

With their co-operation I understand we were privileged to see this great South American team perform with our local lads, who incidentally played a great game against a team of wizards.

For soccer fans it was a night to remember and once again thanks to all those people who were responsible for the appearance of the Lima club in Victoria.

Let us all continue our support of this fine sport.

"DON'T WORRY. YOU KNOW HOW BIG PEOPLE ARE . . . THEY GET TIRED OF THINGS FAST."

From Our Files

July 3, 1899 — The young people of the Calvary Baptist Church will have an outing up the Gorge this evening. The boats will leave MacIntosh's wharf at 7.30.

July 3, 1919 — London: Wilhelm Hohenzollern, former German kaiser, will be placed on trial, and Mr. Lloyd George told Commons the tribunal will likely sit in London.

July 3, 1939 — Paris: Correspondents from Italy suggests Premier Mussolini will offer himself as a last-minute negotiator in the current international tension.

FROM LONDON:

People and The Press

MR. HERBERT MORRISON'S decision to leave the House of Commons at the end of this Parliament is not surprising, but is a sharp reminder of the harsher aspect of political life.

Those who worked in Parliament from 1945 to 1950 will never forget Mr. Morrison's "glad confident morning" air which he wore as leader of the House and Lord President of the Council. It was the mood in which he had led the London County Council so gaily and successfully from 1934 to 1940.

At his best Mr. Morrison has the resilience of the Londoner born—bustling, cheerful, building his new society with the material, both human and physical, which he knew around him. Mr. Morrison has never been dismayed because people are as they are, and he has had the energy to jolly them along the way he has wanted them to go—with great success.

This is an aspect of his career which the Labor movement should never forget. Perhaps it will be easier for Londoners to remember: Mr. Morrison has written them an excellent book, "How London is Governed."

Future Prospect

But the morning light faded when Mr. Morrison was rejected as leader of the Parliamentary Labor Party in favor of Mr. Gaitskell, with Mr. Bevan as runner-up. He could not after that find a place in the Commons in which he could sit comfortably after years of authority.

The circumstances of his rejection illustrate with painful clarity the advantages of the Tory system of dismissal. Sentence is pronounced by the Tory leader. There is no canvassing of opinion and counting of heads.

Although the Tory rank and file may agree with their leader's decision they are spared the responsibility of passing sentence. Mr. Morrison suffered the added bitterness of published voting figures.

It would please many members of the Commons if Mr. Morrison were to bob up again as a viscount or a life peer. After all, he likes the ceremonial side of the Lords, and he has much still to contribute to debate from his experience and wisdom.

Noble Reviewers

"The Lords were particularly smeary, I thought," was Mr. Randolph Churchill's comment on Monday on three noble reviewers of his book "The Rise and Fall of Sir Anthony Eden," Lords Attlee, Coleraine, and Lambton.

Mr. Churchill was in high good humor at a press conference called by his publisher. He thanked Lord Attlee for discovering "three small inaccuracies" which he undertook would be put right in the "numerous editions" to come.

"I am delighted by the amplitude if not the quality of the reviews," Mr. Churchill said. It was a pity that many newspapers were out of action "but I didn't know there was a strike in the Rothermere press, the Daily Telegraph, the Star or the Daily Herald. I suppose there's some sort of boycott going on."

It could be that some of these newspaper's think Mr. Churchill's book will keep until their regular book pages appear later in the week.

Why Mr. Churchill was asked, had Sir Winston recommended Sir Anthony Eden as his successor if he looked so unpromising? "I don't know at all," came the reply. "It's a free country, isn't it?"

Storm in a Watering-Can

The affair of the Chelsea Flower Show sprinkler system, the Duke of Edinburgh, and the two watered photographers has now blossomed to official proportions.

The executive of the National Union of Journalists is investigating this storm in a watering can, as well as other incidents where the Duke is said to have been more than breezy and less than royal towards the persistent men with press cameras.

Journalists are being asked by their union to supply evidence with a view of taking up with Commander Colville "the whole question of relations between photographers and the Palace."

The Duke's attitude appears at least to be consistent. It is claimed that his sharp playfulness—although the victims would give it another word—began at his wedding-eve party and continued through various polo matches to Gibraltar, where he pelted both apes and cameramen with nuts, to his seeming lack of concern for a climbing photographer's neck in India, and finally to that fateful day at Chelsea.

(At the time everyone said it was the Duke who pressed the button of the sprinkler control system. This has now been formally denied by the Palace.)

A local union official said that the investigation might well end in a visit by the executive to Commander Colville. Do the gardeners spray the Palace lawns every day?

DIFFERENT TODAY

There have been three big changes at the old universities since my day. They have been completely democratized. Thanks to state and other scholarships nobody is excluded for financial reasons. The idler has almost disappeared. That is not due to any improvement in human nature, but to the fact that some 80 per cent of the undergraduates hold scholarships and lose them if they are idle. So they work. Finally, men and women mix freely. In my youth women came to Oxford. But at lectures they sat apart from the men with a chaperon and if you asked a girl to tea in your room, she came also with a chaperon. Now the two sexes are free to benefit by each other's society or to waste each other's time, as the case may be.

Sir Richard Livingstone.

ON THE TIMES

By ART STOTT

But Who Wants Fish?

Stott

LAST year, by combining sundry cash gifts presented to me on my anniversary, I acquired a glass fishing rod—something I've wanted for a long time.

As is often the case, the total of the sundry gifts was slightly below the sum asked by the sporting goods store for the rod, so I added a small supplement from my own purse and made the purchase. This, explained the salesman, was a superior rod. I'd never regret paying a little more for it.

The gentleman in the store was quite right. It is a handsome piece of equipment. I admire, particularly, the purple binding which holds the line-guides in place.

Since this slender example of art and engineering came into my possession I have caught one small grilse. This places me in the melancholy position so often exploited by cartoonists — the man with wonderful fishing tackle who can't catch fish.

Better I should have stayed with a snowberry stem, a length of wrapping string and a bent pin, with a limpet for bait.

* * *

My failure as an angler is having an interesting psychological effect. When I telephone my erstwhile fishing partner, I no longer ask if he'd care to go fishing.

"It looks nice on the water," I tell him. "Would you like to go for a boat ride?"

He understands the code and off we go, I with my shiny rod, he with a veteran piece, and we troll across the bay and out to the island. There is still hope in our hearts, but we avoid mentioning it.

Instead we talk of the fresh air, the wonderful serenity of calm water, the health-giving sun, the magnificence of the Olympics and the individual grandeur of towering Mount Baker in the northeast.

We break out lunches and picnic afloat, sing different songs whose words we have forgotten and pretend we're just cruising. The pretense is a little difficult in a nine-foot, leaking, clinker-built rowboat powered by a three-horse outboard.

To give the outings purpose, we devise little excursions. Our most interesting is to an island where sea birds nest.

Within 30 seconds of beaching the boat, we can find the first of dozens of gull nests and any number of cormorants' households.

They help us to understand why gulls are the low-grade, scavenging and squawking creatures they are—no decent home life. The nests are so casual they're scarcely nests at all, just places where a bird has squatted, scrunched around a couple of times and laid the green-brown-mottled eggs.

As we gaze at them the parent birds yell and holler—all noise and no reason.

* * *

The cormorants, on the other hand, are more dignified, take slightly greater pains with their nests and could discourage a more sensitive intruder by their aloof disapproval.

On our last visit to the island we literally stumbled upon two unique nests.

One carried two white, dark-spotted eggs, and was located at the bottom of a two-foot, narrow pothole in the rocks. Nearby a guillemot—we call them sea pigeons — looked on in fluttering anxiety.

As we waded through the marsh grass at the crest of the island, a startled hen mallard took off at our feet. We traced the short tunnel in the reeds from which she had flown and found, at its end a dozen eggs in a nest that was a credit to avian architecture.

So we picked our way carefully back to the shore, to avoid stepping on unseen eggs, and watched an oyster catcher play bird-with-a-broken-wing to decoy us away from his nest.

Then we gathered a crate of bark, placed it in the boat and came home, telling each other that there were lots of things to claim your interest besides fish when you went fishing.

Somehow, though, you can't kid yourself that way, particularly when you have an almost untried glass rod with pretty purple bindings.

UN CORRESPONDENCE

By STANLEY BURKE

'Nothing More Rewarding'

Burke

NEW YORK—A Canadian lady professor from Toronto is the envy of the United Nations technical assistance people. She is one of the 8,000 experts the UN has sent across the world in the past 10 years—but there's a difference.

Whereas the other experts have gone into the jungles, across the deserts, over mountains, Prof. Ray Godfrey of the University of Toronto is being sent to perhaps the most civilized place in the world—Paris.

"France has sent out hundreds of experts herself and now she's going to get a little return on her money—I'm the return," explained Prof. Godfrey over a cup of coffee in the UN Press Club.

She is a professor of social work and it seems that North American-trained social workers are eagerly sought after in Europe. France asked to obtain an expert through the UN.

The United Nations people, after looking for a French-speaking expert, consulted the Colombo Plan people who, in turn, looked up the bilingual lady professor at Toronto.

As a matter of fact, she is the second Canadian to be chosen to do good works in a particularly pleasant part of the world. A few months ago Peter Aylen, the director of UN Radio, formerly with the CBC, went to Jamaica to set up the Jamaican Broadcasting Corporation. Complete with yacht, he's organizing the first integrated broadcasting system for the new dominion.

* * *

Miss Godfrey will instruct at French schools on case work; in other words dealing with social problems in terms of individual people rather than as impersonal "problems" or cold statistics. Prof. Godfrey said that, while Europeans also work on an individual basis, these techniques are more highly developed in North America.

The lively little Toronto professor said that social work had its beginnings in North America and remains a characteristically new world profession.

"It's in the North American tradition to put everything on a professional and scientific basis—even good works," she said.

The "Lady with the Basket" went out in earlier years among the poor. Today, said the Toronto professor, she's tended to become professional doer of good works.

Europeans are also actively combatting their social problems and France has, in fact, over 70 schools of teaching social work, far more than there are in North America. The cultural background is different, however, and French authorities feel they can make good use of North American ideas.

Toronto-born, Prof. Godfrey has been on the staff of the University of Toronto for the last nine years, and before that put in two and a half years in the Canadian army. She says she drifted into social work as a young graduate during the depression years.

HOME GARDEN

By HILDA BEASTALL

Flag Iris Seek the Sun

Hilda

Iris to most gardeners means the German, or bearded (Iris Germanica), which is also called the flag iris by some of the older gardeners.

Whatever its name in your garden, Iris Germanica needs attention now that it has finished blooming for this season.

If the rhizomes (as the rootstock of this iris are called) were planted individually last year, all that is necessary now is a handful of bonemeal to each plant, followed by a thorough watering.

Removal of the flower heads to prevent seed pods forming is taken for granted, since this is a practice which all you good gardeners follow.

NO CROWDING

If your bearded iris are becoming crowded now is the time to lift and divide them, replanting only the firm, healthy rhizomes with a new growth tip already apparent.

Having selected the rhizome you wish to replant, sever it with a sharp knife from the mass to be discarded. The leaves should be reduced by halving them diagonally with the same sharp blade, and the fibrous roots may also be reduced to about three inches in length.

A place in almost full sun suits iris well, and the soil should be well dug and firmed.

Each rhizome should be placed on a small hummock of soil with the three inches of firbrous roots each side in pockets of soil to act as anchors. New roots will be formed in the next few weeks.

Draw soil up to the rhizome, barely covering it, since it likes both sun and cold. The only elemental enemy of practically all the iris is being under water for a considerable time.

When the rhizomes are all planted, one watering will settle them into place and start them on their way for next season.

If buying new iris plants for your garden at this time, don't forget some of the fine shades of pink, bronze, purple and near red.

LAW TO CURB UNREST PREPARED

Danger Ahead for Spain As Austerity Drive Set

FRANCO . . . broke.

MADRID (AP) — Generalissimo Francisco Franco is to launch a sweeping program of economic reform and austerity shortly. Dangerous social unrest is expected to follow.

Reliable political informants said the austerity measures will be announced within the next two weeks and will hit both workers and business.

A new law of public order is being pushed through the Cortes (parliament) to reinforce the regime's power to put down unrest.

The Franco regime is forced to begin the austerity program because of vital need for foreign credit just when foreign countries are losing interest in loaning money on past terms. Spain's present dollar holdings are said to be less than $5,000,000.

SEEKING HELP

This has meant seeking help from international organizations, the International Monetary Fund, the Organization for European Economic Co-operation and the United States.

They demanded that Spain put its financial house in order. After months of negotiation, Spain agreed and a memorandum of proposed changes was initialled in Madrid June 26, reliable sources said. They added that final agreement will be reached in Paris within two weeks, making Spain a full-fledged member of the OEEC.

There still is little solid information and much speculation, but these appear to be the main reforms the regime has promised to carry out:

1. A sharp cut in government spending.
2. Tight restrictions on bank and public credit to private business and industry.
3. A devaluation of the peseta to a so-called realistic rate, generally believed to be somewhere between 56 and 60 pesetas to the dollar.
4. Elimination of Spain's multi-exchange rate system which ranges from 11 to 90 pesetas to the dollar according to the product to be imported or exported.
5. Liberalization of foreign trade to permit foreign goods to compete in Spain with Spanish products.

Government sources said they expect the austerity program to increase unemployment to 100,000 from 60,000 during the first two or three months.

This will come at a time when businessmen are complaining that runaway inflation has put their prices at a level where the public can no longer buy. Business is stagnant far beyond the normal summer slowdown.

STRACHAN ON RETRIALS:

'Cloud Over Industry'

A cloud will hang over the forest industry for all time if attorney-general's department does not proceed with retrials of defendants whose guilt or innocence was not established by the Sommers case jury, CCF leader Robert Strachan said today.

Commenting on a stay of proceedings ordered by the attorney-general Tuesday, Mr. Strachan said, "I can understand Mr. Bonner's reluctance to have any further court action in this sorry mess—but he has only himself to blame because it was his ineptitude that kept the matter before the courts for so long.

"If he holds to his present course, then for all time this cloud will hang over the forest industry and those who are involved, without presenting any opportunity to the companies or individuals concerned to clear themselves."

The six-month trial found former forest minister Robert Sommers and timber executive H. Wilson Gray guilty on charges of bribery and conspiracy. Their five-year sentences are now under appeal.

The jury disagreed on charges against Gray's brother, John Gray; C. D. Schultz, C. D. Schultz and Co., B.C. Forest Products, Evergreen Lumber Sales and Pacific Coast Services.

BOY OF 13 BEATS SHARK AT WRESTLING

DELRAY BEACH, Fla., (UPI) — A 13-year-old boy who outwrestled a sand shark in an underwater battle said today he "wasn't scared 'cause I've seen my father catch them in his bare hands plenty of times."

The boy, King Scherer, was skindiving when he was attacked by the two-foot shark Thursday. King fastened a firm headlock on the shark, rose to the surface and swam to shore.

Scherer showed a 20-stitch gash in his arm to prove it wasn't just another fish story.

$8 Million Plant For Port Maitland

TORONTO (CP)—A zinc-roasting plant and a sulphuric-acid plant will be built at Port Maitland on the north shore of Lake Erie by Matthesen and Hegeler Zinc Company of La Salle, Ill.

Total cost is estimated at $5,000,000. Work is scheduled to start almost immediately, and production is planned for early next July.

The project will supply sulphuric acid to Electric Reduction Company of Canada Ltd., which has already announced a $10,000,000 to $12,000,000 chemical project at Port Maitland—also scheduled to come into production a year from now.

Matthesen and Hegeler has formed a Canadian subsidiary—Sherbrooke Metallurgical Co. Ltd.—for the Port Maitland enterprise.

Dr. David E. Jones, president of Electric Reduction, and Herman D. Carus, president of Matthesen, today announced that a long-term agreement has been concluded between the tw ocompanies.

Matthesen and Hegeler last week were given permission by the Ontario government to build a zinc smelter and refinery at Port Maitland.

Estimated cost of this project would be $10,000,000 to $12,000,000, but only the roasting phase is being proceeded with now.

Electric Reduction has plants also at Buckingham and Varennes in Quebec and at North Vancouver, B.C.

NO U.S. STOCKS

NEW YORK (AP)—U.S. security and commodity markets are closed today for an extended Independence Day weekend. Because New York banks are open, there will be foreign exchange quotations.

MARKET SUMMARY

Trading Dull But Industrial Stocks Move Up

Industrials and base metals were the leaders at Toronto today as the stock market moved ahead in dull mid-afternoon trading.

Despite a lack of leadership from New York, where markets are closed for the Independence Day holiday, industrials at one point set a new index mark with a better than two-point win to boost their rating to 545.50.

Base metals were up more than one point while western oils added nearly one-half. Golds, ahead in morning trading, slipped back a few decimal points.

Among industrials banks, steels and pipelines were higher. Other groups were generally mixed. Canadian Tire had the big win, up 5 at 190.

Hudson Bay added 1¼ at 53¼ and Steep Rock gained ⅝ at 13⅝ in base metals. Uraniums were easier. Consolidated Denison dipped ⅛ at 15⅛.

Golds lost as Hollinger and Kerr-Addison were ⅛ easier. Dome added ⅛ at 19 while other moves were in pennies.

Central Del Rio added 25 cents at $7.50 for the best win in western oils.

AT MONTREAL most stock groups were higher mainly in a fractional range today in quiet early afternoon trading.

Dominion Iron gained one point at 5¾ in steels but in papers Powell River dropped two points to 32½. Others were fractionally higher.

In beverages Labatt's dropped ½ at 29. Other issues were higher with Canadian Malting up 1½ at 68½ and Canadian Breweries up ¾ at 40¼.

Among utilities Bathurst Power B gained ½ at 32½ and Newfoundland Light gained one point at 49.

General Dynamics rose 1½ at 54 and A. V. Roe gained ⅛ at 10⅞.

Most speculative issues were steady with the exception of Mitchell B down 25 cents at 3.50, New Mylama down 48 cents at 1.52 and St. Lawrence River down 10 cents to 4.30.

Industrial volume was 66,700 shares, mines and oils 146,900.

AT LONDON there was renewed firmness with selective support stimulated by the further overnight advance on Wall Street and the satisfactory June gold and convertible currency reserve figures.

Gilt-edged securities, however, were quiet and narrowly irregular.

Dollar stocks were again adjusted to higher levels. Among Canadian issues, A. V. Roe was strong.

Industrials were generally firm, leading oils were mainly better while gold shares were quiet and irregular.

TODAY'S GRAIN

WINNIPEG (CP) — Fairly active trading in flax, with export and international accounts making purchases, featured business today on the Winnipeg Grain Exchange.

The activity was accompanied by reports that 240,000 bushels of flax had been purchased for export to East Germany. Prices moved higher under the strong demand.

Oats and barley dealings were slow and mostly domestic. Interest from American agents was limited by the Independence Day holiday in the United States.

Rye trade was small and prices moved narrowly.

No information was available on overnight loadings of Canadian wheat.

Lakehead prices for Class 2 IWA and domestic wheat all were unchanged from Thursday.

BUSINESS VIEW

City Insuranceman Wins Political, Business Honor

By HAL MALONE
Times Business Editor

Canadian Life Underwriter Sid Smith was accepting double congratulations last week.

Malone

Mr. Smith assumed the presidency of the Victoria Chapter, Canadian Life Underwriters, when incumbent John Wodell was transferred by his firm to Trail.

Almost at the same time Mr. Smith took over as top man in the Victoria Liberal Association when president Hugh Ramsay resigned for business reasons.

* * *

Canadian National Railways showed a net operating profit of $736,000 in May, up slightly from the May, 1958, net profit of $694,000. CNR's revenues amounted to $62,929,000. Expenses totalled $62,193,000. To the end of May the company has an operating deficiency of $4,242,000 compared with $18,327,000 for the same period last year.

Net profits of Canadian Breweries Ltd. fell off slightly—from $1,722,866 or 52 cents per common share to $1,377,216 or 40 cents—in the second quarter of 1959. But sales of $63,595,287 brought sales for the first half of the year to $131,323,084—a new high or 4.7 per cent higher than last year's volume of $125,384,709. The company's working capital of $34,128,243 compares with $38,156,992 a year ago. Funded debt is down $3,964,500; net fixed assets are up $1,594,070 and other assets increased by $2,376,091. Earned surplus was $53,557,808 at April 30.

Empire Development Co. and Consolidated Mining and Smelting Co. have entered an agreement whereby Cominco will investigate the Quatsino Copper-Gold Mines Ltd. property in the Port McNeil area of northern Vancouver Island for copper ore.

Empire acquired the property from Quatsino which retains an interest in it. Iron concentrates totalling 305,000 tons were produced from the mine last year.

A leading Canada-U.S. auto insurance firm reports that bodily injury liability and property damage frequencies are double for young drivers who have not taken high school driver training courses over those who have.

The company has kept statistics on the injury and damage frequencies of both drivers since 1954 when it first offered premium discounts to high school trained drivers under 25 years. Since the courses are attended on a voluntary basis, the company believes that attendance alone indicates the driver is safety-conscious.

Happiest young woman at last week's luncheon of Victoria Chapter, Canadian Life Underwriters, was Betty Salmon, 3835 Tillicum. The fact she was the only woman present (female CLUs being as rare as interest-free bank loans) had nothing to do with it.

Miss Salmon, a graduate of Mt. View High School, attended to pick up a $100 cheque. To earn it she had produced the best essay among 40 competitors on "What Life Insurance Means to Me and My Family." Her introductory paragraph was succinct and the key to victory. It read: "Life insurance is a co-operative enterprise through which a large number of people are assured protection on a risk-sharing basis against the uncertainties of life."

Somewhat surprised and slightly nervous Betty declined to make an acceptance speech. But her father, Henry Salmon, did it nicely. Said he:

"I have never been pressured to buy life insurance. It has never been sold to me. I have always bought it. Fortunately for me I have always encountered life insurance representatives in Victoria who took the time to give me all the information and guidance I needed."

Good Day for Fleetways

VANCOUVER—Jockey Jack Arterburn and the Fleetway family turned out to be a hot combination at Vancouver's Lansdowne Park Thursday.

With Arterburn in the saddle, Sir Fleetway, a 10-year-old bay gelding, captured the featured seventh race in near-record time. Covering the six-furlong distance in 1.10.4, Sir Fleetway was just four-fifths off the track record set in 1956 by Broad Bend.

Sir Fleetway won by a neck over Avondale while Toll Cross was third.

Arterburn came right back in the eighth to score his second straight victory aboard Mr. Fleetway.

About 3,200 fans wagered $11,370 during the card.

SPORTS DIARY

BY

Jimmy Cannon

The right hand Ingemar Johansson used to liberate Floyd Patterson's mind from his body was as unrehearsed as death and just about as conclusive. The champion is a gloriously obstinate man who believes that the only reason a pug should exercise is to shape himself into supple hardness. It offended Johansson when it was suggested that he entertain training-camp audiences with theatrical performances which might influence skeptical boxing journalists.

Ridicule could not goad Johansson into punching with the right which made his reputation. Supplicants, speaking out of greed and friendship, beseeched him to prove he wasn't a freak of his sport who depended on a left jab and used his right only when he was holding hands with Birgit Lundgren who is his petite-four which means, of course, a high-class cookie. The promoter, Crying Bill Rosensohn, complained that Johansson was disgracing himself with his queer style and also pushing him into insolvency because people refused to pay to see a one-armed fighter.

Guys go into the fight racket for money and Johansson was acting like a man bucking to be a pauper as every round he worked in training caused more people to stay home Friday night and listen to the radio. But Johansson, a polite man whose courtesy conceals his stubbornness, declined to encourage appreciation of his style by using the right except when he was eating corn on the cob.

* * *

I found out that he had once fractured his thumb and twice had dislocated bones in the back of his hands. I figured the fist might be crushed the first time he hit Patterson hard. It also seemed to me that it would be as rusty as the weather vane on a haunted house the night of the fight. I was wrong as a Swedish meat ball in an Irish stew. So this is kind of an apology but Johansson was an unintentional collaborator when I composed the piece in which I chose Patterson to stand out in Yankee Stadium Friday night like a silk hat at a Communist rally.

* * *

It is possible the gyms will be empty tomorrow and the fighters will flock to Arthur Murray's to take dancing lessons. Until criticism stopped him, Johansson cut many a cha-cha in the night club near Grossinger's where he trained in the Catskills. It happened only a couple of times but public opinion chased him down to a delicatessen in Liberty, N.Y., for his midnight snacks with Miss Lundgren.

Here's where I made the mistake. I didn't hold still for Johansson's explanation that he has to aleviate the monotony of calesthenics with fun or he would become deranged from boredom. I have been brought up on heavyweights beginning with Joe Louis whose training methods were as constant as a chorus girl's appetite.

I was also intimidated by the knowledge he had been disqualified for not trying to fight Ed Sanders in the Olympics. I asked him about that the first time he came to New York to negotiate the contract for the Patterson fight. The story he told seemed too simple. He discussed the temporary hatred of the Swedes for him with a nonchalance I thought was disgraceful in a guy who had been villified as a symbol of national shame. I must apologize for that because he was telling the truth and I refused to accept it. It is clear now that he is a guy who is untouched by occupational fear.

* * *

The boxing rabble plays the boost when they can turn a dollar and Cus D'Amato, Patterson's manager, publicly appraised Johansson as a hazardous opponent only because he wanted to provoke people into buying tickets. I sat in Patterson's corner Friday which was an evening as clammy as an oyster opener's handshake. Bad publicity and rain that fell until nine-thirty made the fight a losing proposition for the promoter but in the first round D'Amato put in with the rest of the fight mob as he watched Patterson reach for Johansson with a silly eagerness.

* * *

"Hands up," screamed Dan Florio who trains Patterson. "Head down, Floyd."

"Leave him alone," said D'Amato. "Floyd's just feeling him out."

He didn't sound like a troubled man even when his fighter was allowing enthusiasm to move him out of normally cautious, his style. I don't think Patterson will ever beat Johansson but he couldn't have respected him. Why would he, an intelligent boxer, come up out of his shrugging crouch to stick his head up? He also lowered his hands instead of holding his gloves to his cheeks as if he were applying a hot towel after a shave. Inexperienced kids reach for a right-hand puncher and Patterson did that until he was laid away. I think Johansson is entitled to a lot of apologies because too many of us treated him as if he were a clown. This is mine.

CENTURY CLUB

SOLARIUM DERBY

For a man who has never participated in a fishing competition, Joe Edgington is amazingly enthusiastic about the Solarium Salmon Derby.

JOE EDGINGTON

But Joe insisted there is a simple explanation for his contributions to derby campaigns over the past four years.

"My wife (Anne) was a patient at the Solarium for four years, so we both know the wonderful work done by the hospital," says the furniture salesman. "We know how much the derby has helped the Solarium youngsters in the past and I know how much is still to be done."

Since the derby, co-sponsored by the Victoria-Saanich Inlet Anglers' Association and the Daily Times, was started in 1946, it has raised more than $64,000 for the crippled children's hospital.

This year's derby is scheduled at Saanich Inlet on July 19 and Joe has again qualified for the derby's Century Club, which is limited to those who sell more than 100 tickets to the Island's biggest one-day fishing event.

He hopes to make it 500 in the next two weeks and if you drop in to see him at work or call him at EV 2-1652, he will be happy to tell how the derby helps crippled youngsters and sell you a ticket to the big event.

THAT WAY, CASEY

Although Casey Stengel still has some choice words to get off chest, umpire Jim Monochick has already heard enough and is showing New York Yankee manager way to showers. Casey was tossed out for disputing strike call in second inning of Thursday night's game at Baltimore, won by Orioles, 3-1.

Charlie's Crutch Pillar of Power

By Associated Press

Detroit's injured Tigers have hobbled back into third place, just two games short of the American League lead. And Charlie Maxwell's bat has been their crutch.

Maxwell ripped a two-run homer as Detroit returned to the first division by beating Baltimore last Sunday. Tuesday he hit a home run and scored twice as the Tigers beat Kansas City. Wednesday he had two hits and scored the winning run in a 5-4 decision over the As.

And Thursday night he scored twice and beat the second-place Chicago White Sox 9-7 with his 18th homer—a grand slam in the eighth inning.

ORIOLES BEAT YANKS

That White Sox loss left first-place Cleveland with a one-game lead despite a 6-4 defeat at Kansas City. But Detroit closed in as Baltimore took fourth place by skidding New York from third to fifth, beating the Yankees 3-1.

Last-place Boston, with manager Mike Higgins reported on the way out, lost its fifth in a row, 6-3 at Washington in 10 innings.

The National League leaders are also running into grief.

No Red Schoendienst, no Johnny Logan, no payoff power of late and almost no lead. That's the tale of Milwaukee's bid for a third straight National League pennant.

SOME SLUMP!

The champs, who have gotten only three home runs from Ed Mathews and Wes Covington in the past three weeks, have won only two of their last six games, all but blowing a two-game lead. They've made 10 errors in those half-dozen games—eight of them at second and short.

Felix Mantilla and Casey Wise, both filling in at short, and Johnny O'Brien produced three of four Milwaukee errors Thursday night that gave Pittsburgh enough for a tie, then booted the Bucs into a 4-3, 10-inning victory.

That left the Braves with only a half-game edge over San Francisco and Los Angeles, virtually tied for second place. The Giants blew a chance to get chummier with the lead by losing 10-4 to Chicago Cubs. The Dodgers closed within one percentage point of second by beating St. Louis 4-0.

Cincinnati split a twi-night pair at Philadelphia, losing 7-6, but taking the second 8-4 as Don Newcombe won his eighth in a row.

Odd-Man Play Set Stage For Jack's Payoff Tally

Victoria 14, Westminster 13

Rookies Jackie Showers and Bob McKee are developing into a payoff combination for Victoria Shamrocks.

Wednesday night at Memorial Arena, when New Westminster O'Keefes were threatening to launch a comeback in the final period, McKee battled his way down the left boards and threaded a pass to Showers in front of the goal. Jackie quickly flipped the ball into the net to stretch an Irish lead to 8-4 and the tally took the steam out of the current Canadian champions, who dropped a 9-4 decision.

THRILLING TRIUMPH

Thursday night at New Westminster they teamed up for an even more important tally—the one that produced a thrilling 14-13 triumph for the Rocks and boosted the Irish into a third-place tie with Nanaimo Labatts.

The goal climaxed a dogged uphill struggle for the Victorians, who were behind, 3-0, in the first quarter and again trailed by three goals in the second half.

O'Keefes appeared safely on their way to a win when Jack Barclay beat goalie Geordie Johnston to give O'Keefes a 13-11 lead early in the final quarter.

INTERCEPTED PASS

But Al Gill scored on Ron Jay's pass at 8.44 and Bert Bertoia converted Gill's pass at 9.59 to tie it up as the Rocks took advantage of New Westminster penalties.

Then Irish hopes were dimmed again when Derry Davies drew a penalty with two minutes remaining and the champions came storming around the Victoria goal.

Johnston made two great saves and O'Keefes were slashing in for another try when McKee alertly intercepted a pass. He hit Showers with a quick toss and the speedy forward did the rest, going it alone to whip the ball behind goalie Les Norman.

Playing probably the biggest part in the triumph was the Shamrocks' odd-man play, which finally produced a knockout punch after sputtering ineffectively through the earlier part of the campaign.

The Irish made O'Keefes pay dearly for their 24 minutes in penalties. With Ron Jay operating with Gill, Bertoia, Whitey Severson and Stew Smith, while they had a manpower advantage, the Rocks made their odd-man play click for seven goals.

Gill was the key man and finished the night with two goals and five assists. Smith, Severson and Showers each scored twice.

Jack Bionda was a rough handful for the Rocks, banging in four goals and collecting two assists to run his league-leading point total to 91.

LEADS BRITISH OPEN

Jack Cracks Course Mark

MUIRFIELD, Scotland (CP)—Reid Jack, 34-year-old former British Amateur champion from Scotland, set an amateur record for Muirfield today with 35-33—68 and moved into the early lead in the British Open golf championship with a three-round total of 214.

Jack's score broke the record of 69 set by Americans Lawson Little and Capt. E. C. Kingsley in 1948 and the great round moved him into strong contention for the title. The last amateur to win the British Open was Bobby Jones in 1930, the year of Jones' famous grand slam.

Peter Thomson, the defending champion from Australia who just qualified with 148, shot a 72 today in sunny but windy conditions. Thomson now totals 220 for the 54 holes played and has little hope of winning his fifth British title.

Gary Player of South Africa had a 37-33—70 for a total of 216. Guy Wolstenholme, British Walker Cup player, had a 73 for a three-round total of 221.

Players with three-round totals of 220 and better after the early play were Thomson, Bernard Hunt of England, who had a 71 for an aggregate of 219; Christy O'Connor of Ireland, who had 72 for 219, Harry Bradshaw of England, 72 for 219; Niel Coles of England, 71 for 217; Player, Jack and Luis Ruiz of Argentina, 69 for 215.

Fast-Sinking Vets Still in Distress

It's been a rough week for Naval Vets of the Senior Amateur Baseball League. And it's all because of the fact Eagles have decided to start flapping their wings.

Wednesday Naval Vets lost two games and the league lead when Eagles came up with 5-2 and 9-2 triumphs. Thursday they lost a third straight game to the Eagles, 11-2.

Naval Vets lost the game in the first inning at Royal Athletic Park, when Eagles scored eight big runs, sparked by a grand slam, inside-the-park homer by little Les Brice.

Garry Bishop went all the way for the win, limiting the losers to four scattered hits.

Vets are at it again tonight, hoping to regain a slice of lost ground, when they meet Wakeman-Trimble, starting at 7 p.m.

Lo, how the mighty have fallen!

Boasting an 11-1 won-lost record only 10 days ago, MacNutts dropped their fifth game in the Senior Open Softball League's second section Thursday night at Heywood Park, losing to Pat Bay 8-6.

The loss dropped MacNutts another half-game off the pace set by the leading Maycocks, just three games out of third place.

At Central Park, meanwhile, Navy were moved into sole possession of third place in section one with a 6-4 victory over last-place D & D Tire.

Mike Rye hurled the win for Navy, giving up just six hits, including a three-run homer in the ninth inning to Charlie Constable of the Tiremen.

We Do Hope Mrs. McLeod Told Hubby!

If you're of the clan MacLeod, you might ask the lady of the house if she played golf this week.

Who knows, she may have a hole-in-one to her credit!

The lady playing Cedar Hill course this week was "so excited" after scoring an ace on the ninth, she neglected to identify herself other than as "Mrs. MacLeod." Or is it McLeod?

Another ace was chalked up at Cedar Hill Thursday when Fred Worthington, a junior member playing with Greg Barnes, Roger Bishop and Glen Cutforth, sank his tee shot on the 145-yard fourth.

ARCHIE BEING CUTE? OR IS IT STALL FOR TIME?

Heel Injury Delays Title Bout

MONTREAL (CP) — Promoter Eddie Quinn said today Archie Moore's scheduled July 15 light-heavyweight title defence against Yvon Durelle will have to be postponed because of an injury to Moore's heel. Efforts are being made to have the fight rescheduled for Wednesday, July 29.

Moore bruised his heel while doing roadwork for his title defence against the Baie Ste. Anne, N.B., fisherman and is unable to continue his regular roadwork because of the injury.

The Montreal Athletic Commission would be advised and a commission doctor likely would examine Moore.

Quinn said the July 29 Wednesday night TV fight was to have originated in Miami, Fla. He now was trying to arrange a switch in dates with Chris Dundee, Miami fight promoter.

"It looks favorable," said Quinn.

Yvon's manager, Moncton grocer Chris Shaban, wasn't happy about the proposed change in plans. Kearns, he said, may be up to "another of his cute tricks".

"I think the big reason for a postponement would be to give Archie time to slim down to the 175-pound limit," Shaban said.

Durelle has been training near Montreal but Shaban said he'd bring his fighter back to the Maritimes if the fight is put off.

"Charlie Goldman (Durelle's trainer) tells me Moore had a spy in our camp Thursday," Shaban said. "I'll take Yvon out of Montreal."

Shaban said his big fighting fisherman had looked good in the workout and that had probably worried Moore's camp. But the main reason for shifting training quarters back east would be for financial reasons.

There has been some talk in the Montreal fight world that agile Archie is having trouble trimming down to the 175-pound limit. Kearns has said the champion weighs 180. But to ringsiders he has appeared heavier.

Goldman said a postponement wouldn't hurt Durelle.

"If anything," Goldman said, "it will hurt the other guy. If you get to a certain age, you're only supposed to do half the work, otherwise you strain your body. Moore is 14 years older than Yvon."

OUTDOOR REPORT BY Doug Peden

The holiday is almost over for something like 2,000 rainbow trout in Durrance Lake.

Cleared of its former fish population, mostly bass and sunfish, by poisoning, last fall, the lake was stocked last month with 10-inch rainbows as part of the fish and game branch's rehabilitation program.

Protected since being dumped into Durrance, the trout are on their own after midnight tonight. It's first come, first served—if you can catch them.

It is to be expected that the catch will be fairly heavy on the first couple of days, then it should level off and good number of fish should grow into husky old-timers.

Since rainbows will not spawn in Durrance, the lake will have to be restocked every year, if fishermen can trim the trout supply. In fact, the fisheries boys are hoping most of the fish do get caught because the idea of the program is to provide good fishing.

They will be able to collect some interesting facts from the catches in the first few days, since they know approximately the number of fish in the lake and how large they were when they took up residence in their new home.

Nobody is expected to start dunking lures at 12.01 a.m. but game branch officials expect a fair crowd of anglers around at daybreak.

Biologist Dave Hurn will be among the early arrivals Saturday and Sunday to keep records of fish taken and to see how the rainbows are thriving in the lake.

Incidentally, game warden Jack Lenfesty will probably be dropping by Durrance, too, so don't start fishing unless you have a valid angling licence in your pocket.

* * *

Salmon anglers have been having trouble locating fish in most of southern Vancouver Island areas during the past week, but there seem to be indications that some husky fish are on their way toward Victoria waters.

After a period of fairly good sport with big springs, Victoria anglers have drawn a lot of blanks on recent outings. But reports of big fish moving along the west coast and some activity with tackle-busting springs off Sooke and William Head suggests better days are just around the corner.

Several anglers coming in at Pedder Bay Marina have sadly related tales of broken tackle after tangling with big ones. However, a 25-pounder reached the dock Wednesday and yesterday morning M. S. Richards hauled in a 34½-pounder off Pedder Bay.

Saanich Inlet fishing can be classed as fair and there are enough big ones around to keep fishermen looking for smashing strikes. Most of the catches are made up of springs from six to eight pounds and coho, which are running mainly between four and six pounds.

Winds disrupted activities for a while Wednesday, but D. A. Studley and Sam Spence brought in salmon that weighed better than 20 pounds and Bob Hunt, Don Waring and Leo Hermsen, Jr., had fish above 10 pounds.

Campbell River May Be Best Bet

Most of the big ones have been getting away at the Goldstream end, but fair catches of small salmon have been coming in at Hall's Boathouse and Doug Bray brought in a pair of steelhead, seven and 10 pounds, Wednesday.

Best salt water fishing can probably be found in the Campbell River area, where springs and bluebacks are moving in good numbers.

Plugs are doing the most business with springs in that section and the average weight of 45 fish weighed in at Painter's Lodge last week was 16½ pounds. Top fish was a 33-pounder hooked by Bruce Barnes.

There have been some good flurries off Northwest Bay and French Creek and small springs were taking well off Tent Island and Porlier Pass last weekend. Another hint that big springs are on their way into Cowichan Bay is the fact that husky fish are being taken on deep lines in Sansum Narrows and a few are striking off Separation Point.

Sidney Spit and Dock Island were hot spots Tuesday evening, but most of those who managed to stay out in Wednesday's wind drew blanks at the same spots.

* * *

Best trout fishing appears to be at Upper Campbell Lake, especially off Phillips Creek and the Elk River. The top end of Cowichan Lake and Buttle Lake are also still yielding husky trout and some anglers are hauling big trout out of pools and deep runs of the Cowichan River.

There are only two more weeks until the July 19 Solarium Derby at Saanich Inlet. If you haven't made a boat reservation yet, you'd better hurry. There aren't many boats still available for the big day.

But more important, don't forget to buy your Solarium Derby ticket. All the proceeds go to help the youngsters at the crippled children's hospital.

Newcomers Lead Way In Third Test

LONDON (Reuters) — Newcomers to England's test cricket team left the squad in a strong position at the end of the first day of the third test match against India Thursday.

Harold Rhodes, young Derbyshire medium-paced bowler making his test debut, took four wickets for 50 in helping dismiss India for 161 at tea. Then England's new openers, Gilbert Parkhouse and Geoff Pullag, put on 61 without being separated before the close.

Only a fifth-wicket stand of 52 in 50 minutes by Polly Umrigar, top scorer with 29, and Dattu Gaekwad, 25, and some determined batting by the tail-enders prevented a complete rout of India.

Other results:

Surrey 172 and 132 for 2; Oxford University 144.

Cambridge University 178 and 94 for 3; Sussex 313 for 3 declared (D. Sheppard 134, J. Lenham 84).

Gloucestershire 323 for 5 declared and 132 for 2 (O. Milton 64 not out, T. Graveney 51 not out); Nottinghamshire 187 (N. Hill 47).

Hampshire 279 and 186 for 2; Yorkshire 215 for 9 declared.

Glamorgan 108 and 382 for 7; Warwickshire 291.

Worcestershire 195 and 41 for 2; Somerset 29.

Essex 309 for 9 declared and 49 for 1; Northamptonshire 365.

Ireland 146 and 75; Lancashire 204 for 8 declared and 18 for 1. Lancashire won by 9 wickets.

Canadian Juniors Lose to Felsted

FELSTED, England (Reuters) — A touring Canadian school cricket team was beaten by six wickets here Thursday by a Felsted school team.

The Canadians failed to make good use of an easy-paced wicket and despite confident batting by N. Lee, J. Essaye and D. Wigley, all of Ontario before lunch, the last six wickets fell to spin bowling for only 48 runs. The whole side was out for 128.

Olmedo Takes Over As New Tennis King

WIMBLEDON, England (CP)—Alex Olmedo, Peruvian star of the U.S. Davis Cup team, established himself as the world's No. 1 amateur tennis player today by defeating Australia's Rod Laver, 6-4, 6-3, 6-4 for the Wimbledon championship.

Before a capacity crowd, including the Duchess of Kent and Princess Margaret, the top-seeded Olmedo cracked Laver's service in the opening game and never trailed, although he suffered mild lapses during the swiftly-paced match.

The copper-skinned Latin crushed the little lefthander's hopes of becoming the first unseeded player in history to win this most prized of court crowns.

Laver, a red-haired giant-killer who knocked off America's Barry MacKay in the semi-finals, was ignored by the ranking committee.

Only three times has an unseeded player reached the men's final here—Wilmer Allison, of the United States, in 1930, and Kurt Nielson, of Denmark, in 1953 and 1955 — but both failed to win the championship.

MONOPOLY ENDS

In becoming the first South American ever to take the title, Olmedo cracked a three-year monopoly on the crown by Australia. Lew Hoad won in 1956 and 1957 and Ashley Cooper in 1958.

Saturday another South American, 19-year-old Maria Bueno of Brazil, will attempt to make it a singles sweep by taking the women's championship. She is slightly favored over Darlene Hard of Montebello, Calif. The United States has won the women's title the last 15 times.

Olmedo's strong service and deadly volleys were too much for the 20-year-old Australian, whose main weapons are speed afoot and lightning reflexes.

The Peruvian, 23, piled up a 5-1 lead in the first set almost before Laver knew what hit him. In his three service games during that period, Alex lost only two points. He broke Laver in the first and fifth.

With a fat advantage, Olmedo went into one of his characteristic slumps. He dropped three games in a row, losing his service in the eighth, before buckling down to win the 10th and deciding game without loss of a point.

ISLAND DIGEST

Saanich Group Plans Assault On 'Dry Belt'

SIDNEY—A committee has been formed here to promote a water system which experts say could serve the whole of the "dry" area of North Saanich not already served by Sidney Waterworks District.

Members are F. S. B. Heward, North Sidney; J. W. Gibbs, Deep Cove; Brig. F. N. Cabeldu, Towner Park Road; J. J. Woods, Ardmore; F. Kortmeyer, Experimental Farm area; M. R. Eaton and G. G. Hulme, Sidney and North Saanich Chamber of Commerce.

At a public meeting H. D. Dawson, consulting engineer and former Saanich municipal engineer, said an eight-inch line from McTavish Road tanks to North Mountain, a 250,000-gallon reservoir, and supervision and engineering, would cost $160,000, or three mills tax on land for 20 years.

Distribution costs in addition to the three mills would range from a low of $13 per lot per year for 20 years in the Wilson Road area to $79 at Curteis Point.

Source of water would be Elk Lake.

Mr. Dawson predicted "explosive development" in North Saanich with the arrival of a water system, and stressed the need for an adequate main.

A. K. Sutherland, solicitor with the provincial water rights branch, outlined procedures and petitions required. Boundaries would have to be prescribed, and a 70 per cent sign-up achieved, he said.

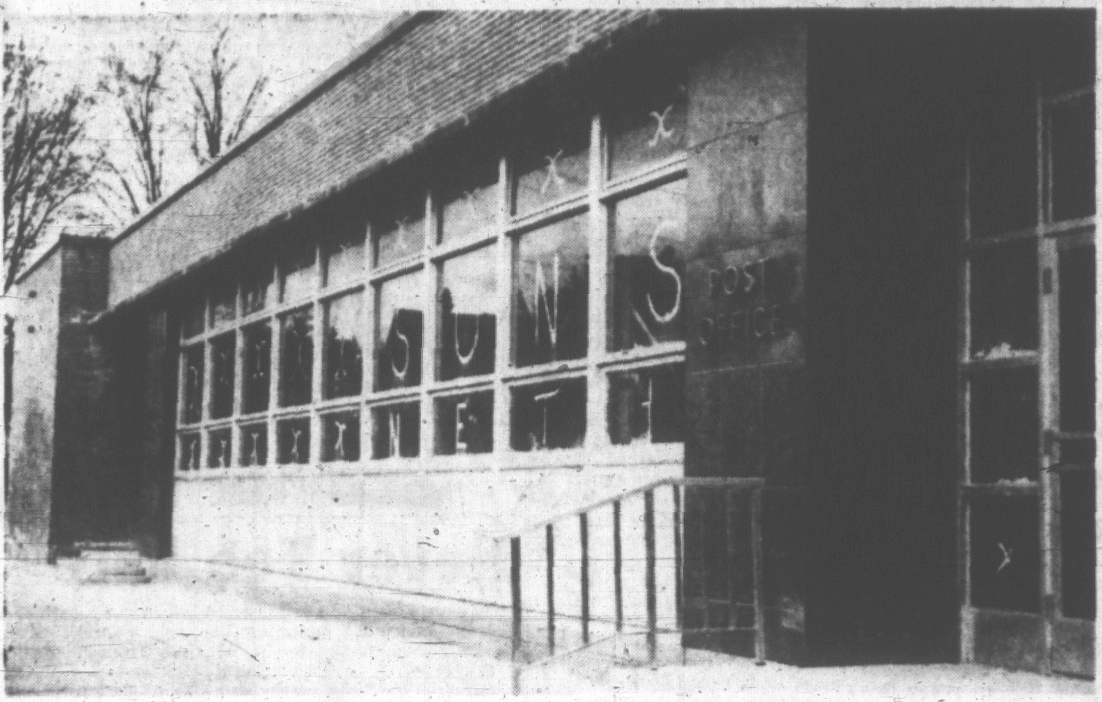
ONE OF 30 B.C. Girl Guides to attend Government House garden party July 17 in honor of Queen Elizabeth will be Sheila Hincks, 14, representing Lakes District Girl Guides Association. Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. K. B. Hincks, 760 Goldstream Avenue, Langford, she has been a Guide 2½ years and has her first class badge.

Telephone Office Closed at Ganges

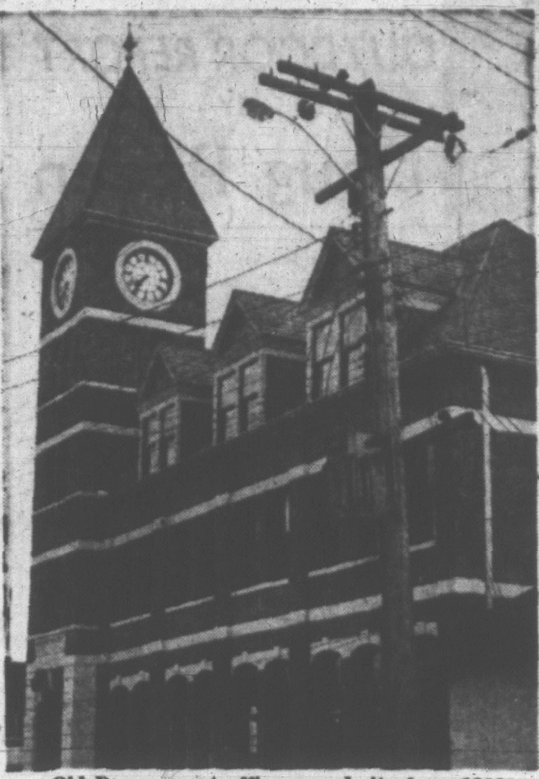
GANGAS — Salt Spring Island telephone users have been notified that the Ganges Telephone office has been closed and that all business will be conducted through the telephone office in Victoria.

There will be no toll charge to residents here calling the Victoria office. Telephone bills can be paid at the Salt Spring Lands Office in Ganges or at Fulford Post Office, Fulford Harbor.

The NEW and the OLD



POST OFFICE STAFF at Duncan is looking forward to working in new, recently-completed building to house all postal services, including wickets and lock boxes, in addition to other federal agencies. It was built by a Duncan firm at a cost of approximately $250,000. (Times Photos by D'Arcy Ricard.)



Old Duncan post office served city from 1912.

MOVING DAY AT DUNCAN

New Post Office Ready July 13

DUNCAN—Moving day for the Duncan post office has been fixed for the weekend of July 11-12, according to postmaster Robert Corney.

Last day for business in the old building will be Saturday, July 11. The staff will work on moving to its new building at Jubilee and Ingram Streets on the following day, and will open for business in the new quarters July 13.

There will be 1,920 lock boxes in the new $250,000 building, or 500 more than in the old post office. Box keys can be exchanged on the Friday and Saturday prior to the move, and in most cases corresponding box numbers will be given in the new building.

Victoria-designed, the building was erected by A. V. Richardson Ltd. of Duncan, and will have accommodation for the federal fisheries department and local VLA representative.

Lunch room, boiler room, and storage space, are in the basement.

Island Man Drowns at Buttle Lake

CAMPBELL RIVER—Albert Stamme, 21, of Merville, drowned in Buttle Lake, Wednesday, when the rowboat in which he and three other men were riding capsized at the mouth of Wolf Creek.

He hung on to the boat while his companions, Larry Woodrow, and John and Geoff Marinus, swam ashore. Woodrow swam back to help him, but was unable to reach him before he slipped from the boat and sank.

ACCLAMATION AT FULFORD

School Trustee Gets Vote of Confidence

FULFORD—A. D. Dane was re-elected by acclamation to the board of trustees of Salt Spring School District 64 at a public meeting here.

He resigned with two other trustees in a dispute with the rest of the board over extension of the probationary period for John Lawrance, former principal who resigned in company with the three trustees.

Mr. Lawrance has since taken a position with the federal government.

Residents attending the meeting here extended a vote of confidence to the three trustees concerned for their support of the former principal.

Services Held For Boy of 13 Drowned In Canal

PORT ALBERNI — Funeral services were held here Thursday for Richard Ken Walker, 13, who drowned in Alberni Canal Monday afternoon.

He was a member of Alberni Sea Cadet Corps, and cadets acted as pallbearers.

Surviving are the parents, Mr. and Mrs. Emil Walker; a sister, Louella, New Westminster, and two brothers, Melvin, Moose Jaw and Donald, Victoria.

SUPPORT SOUGHT FOR SCHOOL LOAN

(From Duncan Bureau)

DUNCAN—City council has issued a statement asking ratepayers to endorse the $1,155,292 school loan bylaw referendum on which voting will take place next Thursday.

"Do we think more of the dollar than of our youngsters? In fairness to the school board the council should come out with a statement of support at this time," Mayor J. T. Dobson said.

The statement noted that although the council does not favor increased taxation in principle, it feels the education of children is a most important function and one which must not be neglected.

"We feel the referendum must go through in that it is only providing for normal increase of the school population," the statement read.

Indian Agent To Ottawa Post

DUNCAN—J. V. Boys, superintendent, Cowichan Indian Agency, Indian Affairs Branch, will leave here late in August to assume the office of assistant director of a new inspection service in the department of citizenship and immigration at Ottawa.

Here for the past five years, he received confirmation of his appointment this week.

Mr. Boys has served the Indian Affairs Branch for 14 years at agencies here and in Cranbrook, Hazelton and Kamloops.

During the Second World War he served as a navigator in the RCAF Bomber Command overseas, and for a time with the Ferry Command.

Prior to service with the Indian Affairs Branch he spent nine years in the former B.C. Police and was stationed for a period in the Cassiar district of northern B.C.

Steel Strike Talks Reopen

VANCOUVER (CP) — The striking Ironworkers and Structural Steel Association of British Columbia have reopened negotiations, it was reported here Thursday.

The International Association of Bridge, Structural and Ornamental Ironworkers (CLC) went on strike June 23 against $90,000,000 worth of projects throughout the province.

The union is seeking a 60-cent-an-hour wage increase over a base rate of $2.62. The company has offered 44 cents.

Meanwhile, 31 union members continued Thursday to ignore union and court orders to return to work on the $23,000,000 Second Narrows bridge across Vancouver Harbor.

Mr. Justice A. M. Manson has twice ordered the union to order its men back to work because a portion of the bridge must be completed before it becomes a hazard.

The union has complied but the men have not turned up to work.

A report earlier Thursday that the Dominion Bridge Company, builders of the bridge, planned to send information to the attorney-general's department for possible use in contempt of court proceedings was denied later. Such information must be furnished to a Supreme Court judge, who could then act on it.

Murdered Family Of 7 Buried

HANNA, Alta. (CP)—Seven victims of a mass slaying in Stettler, Alta., were buried here Thursday following an open-air service attended by some 300 persons.

Raymond Cook, his wife Daisy Mae and their five young children were buried in four caskets in Hanna cemetery after a brief service performed by Rev. William Gourlay of Hanna United Church.

Their battered bodies were found Sunday in a grease pit behind their home in the central Alberta town of Stettler. Mr. Cook's son by a previous marriage, Robert Raymond Cook, 22, was charged with his father's murder and remanded a month for mental examination.

The family lived in the Hanna district 90 miles northeast of Calgary before moving to Stettler nine years ago.

TRAFFIC FINES

In city police court Thursday:

Russell Edward Weismiller, 420 Langford, $20 for following another vehicle too closely.

John William Coulter, 2841 Shelbourne, $15 for operating a vehicle with insecure load.

Robert Knowles, 15 Pilot, $10 for failing to stop at a stop sign.

Richard Colquhoun, 1746 Bay, $35 for careless driving.

James Edward Kirby, 80 Dallas, $25 for driving without a licence.

Cargo Boycott Defies Bill 43

VANCOUVER (CP) — The 200,000-member British Columbia Federation of Labor (CLC) Thursday declared all ships of Northland Navigation Company as "hot" in all B.C. ports.

The declaration, in effect a request to all union members not to handle cargoes from the ships is in direct contravention of B.C.'s Trade Union Act which forbids boycotts.

Northland Navigation operates the only regular schedule freight service to northern B.C. ports. It has 10 vessels.

ALL UNIONS ASKED

A statement issued by the federation after a meeting here between the striking National Association of Marine Engineers (CLC) and the International Longshoremen's and Warehousemen's Union (CLC) said:

"In view of the fact there is a legal strike at Northland Navigation, the B.C. Federation of Labor declares that all ships loaded and operated by strike-breakers be reclared hot at all ports. All unions have been requested to treat this policy accordingly."

In a complicated labor dispute, Northland ships now are being loaded and unloaded by members of the Seamen's International Union, recently expelled from the Canadian Labor Congress.

The N.A.M.E. went on strike against the company last week to back up demands for a wage increase.

Less Fish Landed

OTTAWA (CP) — Canadian fishermen landed less sea fish and shellfish in May than in the corresponding month last year, the bureau of statistics reported Thursday. The month's catch in British Columbia fell to 14,284,000 pounds from 15,867,000 but the value rose to $2,321,000 from $2,293,000 in May, 1958.

DAMAGE HITS MILLIONS IN FIRE AT PENTAGON

WASHINGTON (AP)—Millions of dollars worth of air force computing equipment and records—some possibly secret—were destroyed or damaged Thursday when fire burned out a small area of the vast Pentagon building.

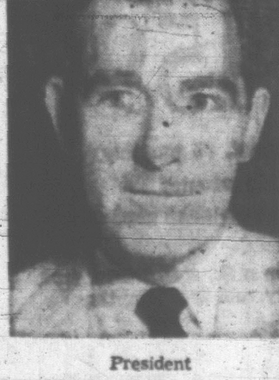
THE INCREDIBLE
DKW
AUTO UNION

The front-wheel drive, 2-cycle powered DKW is a high-performance economy car . . . precision built in Germany by Auto Union, a sister company of the renowned Daimler-Benz. Its success in international road trials is due to factors which also make it ideally suitable for Canadian needs. The DKW offers the stamina to cope with high annual mileages . . . the power to maintain constant high speeds on the highway . . . the agility to keep mobile under all road conditions . . . and almost complete freedom from mechanical breakdown and wear. For those who seek high performance and economy of operation, the DKW is an ideal choice.

MERCEDES-BENZ DISTRIBUTORS WESTERN LIMITED
FACTORY TRAINED MECHANICS — SALES, SERVICE, PARTS THROUGHOUT WESTERN CANADA.

Logan Mayhew says:



President

"THIS CAR REALLY HAS ME EXCITED! It's probably the most trouble-free economy car on the road today. The DKW's unique 2-cycle engine has only seven moving parts. No valves, tappets, pushrods or camshaft. It's so simple it practically can't go wrong.

The DKW is lubricated by oil mixed directly with the gasoline — there's no oil sump, filter or pump. Thus the engine is freshly lubricated with every power stroke. This not only provides for an almost unlimited cylinder bore life, but for instant starting and faster warm-ups in cold weather.

The drive is on the front wheels. This means you can aim your thrust — a particularly useful feature in snow areas or where extra traction is needed. Cornering is remarkable. Indeed, the DKW will take corners at speeds which would make most conventional cars swap ends.

Yes, I'm excited about the DKW. Excited about its performance . . . its elegant European styling and finish . . . it's dollar saving gas mileage — up to 35 to the gallon. I invite you to test drive the DKW. I'm sure you'll share my enthusiasm."

"THIS STAR IS A SYMBOL OF QUALITY IN EVERY PART OF THE WORLD—"
. . . says Logan Mayhew
your new Mercedes-Benz Dealer

. . . "I'm really proud to have been chosen to represent Mercedes-Benz here. A franchise like this is a feather in my cap."

"I've heard a lot about Mercedes-Benz cars . . . are they really as good as their reputation?"

"Yes, they are. And they have proved that reputation over and over again throughout the world. Years of craftsmanship . . . creative ingenuity . . . technical accomplishment lie behind every Mercedes-Benz model. Just consider, for example, the triple pointed star on the hood. Have you ever seen a more perfect example of symmetry and design? And that same perfection is reflected in the cars themselves."

"With this background I suppose a Mercedes-Benz is very expensive?"

"No . . . a Mercedes-Benz costs little more than a car in the medium price field. But here's the point. When you buy a Mercedes-Benz, you don't just buy a car — you make an investment . . . an investment in . . . quality . . . design . . . value. And you can be sure that the clean, classic lines of your Mercedes-Benz will stay young and elegant year after year — and always reflect good taste!"

"What about performance?"

"Well, come for a test drive . . . the Mercedes-Benz can best speak for itself. And that invitation goes to everyone in town. I shall be happy to welcome you, here in my showroom at

Powerful Man Sought In Nanaimo Slaying

PIGEONS SET FOR FLIGHT OVER ROCKIES

Thirty-three perky pigeons are on their way to Edmonton, Alberta today—to start a grueling, hazardous 600-mile race to Victoria. The birds, owned by Bert Owens, 3332 Painter Road, were shipped by CNR Express for release Monday in Edmonton and are shown in the picture above booking passage. Assisting in the "paper work" are Mr. Owens, son Robbie, and Dick Benwell, CNR clerk. The pigeons will attempt to beat an all-time record set two years ago by Revived Hope, who made the epic flight in 42 hours. In the new attempt for a record Mr. Owens pins his hope on Louise, a saucy bird but a strong and swift flyer. "I think she will make it," he said. "She has the makings of a winner." About half the birds are not expected to complete the journey, due to hazardous conditions along the route. "Worst danger for the birds," said Mr. Owens, "is weather. Heavy rains or fog could get them lost." Another danger are hawks who pluck the birds in their flight through the Rockies. "Sometimes a pigeon will take a month to return to his loft," Mr. Owens said. "They take a fancy to a wheat farm and return home in their own sweet time."

MONTE ROBERTS

Are there any cat people in the audience?

(Ed. Note: Is there any audience?)

(My Note: Don't interrupt.)

The reason I ask, are there any cat people in the audience, I am having cat trouble.

My cat trouble is with the small cat who lives at our house, namely Little Miss Muffet.

Now, I must explain that Little Miss Muffet is a very fierce character around the house.

She keeps my Favorite Wife and myself under control at all times, and does not hesitate to beat up on us whenever we displease her.

This I do not mind, as I realize cats are cats, and people are people, and whenever the twain meet, people are bound to lose.

But my problem is this: When faced with another cat, Little Miss Muffet:

(a) Refuses to make friends.

(b) Calls the other cat all sorts of names and challenges it to battle.

(c) Whereupon the other cat refuses to stand such nonsense, and promptly beats up on Little Miss Muffet.

I have no objection to (a) and (b), this being the anti-social type of world it is.

But I do object to Little Miss Muffet never winning a fight.

There is one cat in particular, a large, white, handsome, sort of a kind of a Persian who beats up on Little Miss Muffet with monotonous regularity.

This has resulted in two things, neither of which I appreciate to any extent.

1. After being beat up on by the white cat, Little Miss Muffet beats up on ME, claiming it is all my fault.

2. Little Miss Muffet refuses to go out of the house unless under escort by yours truly.

This point No. 2 is the real reason I am carrying my appeal to any and all cat people who may be in the audience.

I am rapidly becoming nothing more nor less than a cat-walker.

And there is something rather damaging to the ego in being at the beck and call of a cat who, when she wishes to go out into the great outdoors, fixes me with a jaundiced eye and says "come on, bud, I want an escort."

My only hope is that someone who really knows about cats will tell me how to teach my cat to beat up on other cats.

Instead of taking me for walks and beating up on me.

AUTUMN WEATHER CONTINUES

Weekend weather will be "a sort of blend of sunshine and cloud with the isolated shower across the Island," weatherman William Mackie predicted today.

Temperatures will remain on the cool side for this time of year with lows of 52 at night and highs ranging from 65 to 70 in the afternoons.

Today's strong southwest winds of 25 to 35 miles an hour are expected to abate to a more gentle 15-20 m.p.h. pace Saturday.

Two Men Rescued By Jap Freighter

Two Victorians, a marine sales employee and a shipyard worker, were to return home the long way 'round today after a harrowing 20 hours on Juan de Fuca Strait in a drifting boat.

Carmen Pascoe, 24-year-old employee of a marine sales and service depot, and 26-year-old shipyard worker Matt Nult, turned an hours-long motorboat run from Saturna Island into a three-day trip by failing to carry spare gas.

The pair left the annual Saturna Island barbecue Wednesday afternoon in a 15-foot motorboat. By evening, with the lights of Victoria in view, they ran out of gas and began drifting erratically across the strait.

They were picked up by the Japanese freighter Kibi Maru Thursday at 5 p.m., four hours after the Vancouver rescue coordination centre had alerted shipping to be on the watch for them.

The two men were discovered by the freighter five miles off Discovery Island, exhausted after nine hours of paddling to prevent the boat being carried out to sea by an ebbing tide.

The Kibi Maru took men and boat to Vancouver, where the pair stayed overnight in a hotel resting up for their second try at reaching Victoria today.

Cigarets, cigars and electric appliances were stolen in a burglary at Willows Park Pavilion overnight Wednesday, Oak Bay police reported.

A check of premises disclosed a large frying pan, electric toaster, six cartons of cigarets, four packages of cigars and 232 individual packages of cigarets were missing.

* * *

Richard M. Lloyd, Vancouver, in Oak Bay police court today pleaded guilty to theft under $50 and was adjourned to July 10 for a probation report.

Police testimony was the accused stole a wallet containing $43 and car keys from Alex Crawford, 2596 Dunlevy, when he obtained a gratuitous ride in the Victoria man's car.

Blasting on the Herd Road section of the North Cowichan municipality road program near Duncan caused a one-hour power cutoff in Maple Bay, Crofton, Westholme, Salt Spring Island, Galiano Island and Pender Island Thursday.

Rocks from the blast brought two power line conductors together, which caused fuses to blow at the B.C. Power Commission Herd Road substation.

Esquimalt municipal clerk J. W. Allan today reminded the municipalities taxpayers that deadline for payment of assessments was only two weeks away.

"All taxes should be paid here before 5 p.m. on the 16th," he said, and warned that the usual five per cent penalty would be levied for late payment.

Council changed the deadline from June 30 to July 16 because of delay in notifying residents of their assessments.

James M. Laurie, 723 Yates, in city police court today was sentenced to four months in jail when found guilty of false pretences in obtaining a car June 20 from Atlas Service Station Ltd.

Court was told he misrepresented himself as a representative of a building firm, and on the strength of that obtained the car, valued at $450. A cheque he gave for the initial down payment was not honored as Laurie's bank account had been closed.

Laurie, who received a suspended sentence last January for conversion of funds, was still on probation when the second offence took place.

CNR Loses Bid to Cut Assessment

Acting Mayor Arthur Dowell Thursday commended city assessor Alfred Joyce for trebling the Canadian National Railways assessment on 25 acres in the industrial reserve and "making it stick."

An appeal board decision in Vancouver has set the CNR's assessment this year at $147,000, city finance committee was told. The decision also fixed next year's assessment at $170,580.

Last year's assessment was $52,600 which brought in $2,617. This year's taxes will jump to $7,241 as a result of the assessment increase and next year will rise by another $1,138, based on this year's mill rate.

Properties involved include a waterfront strip between the Johnson St. and Point Ellice bridges and the freight yards north of Point Ellice.

The CNR lost two complex appeals against the increase with the involved arguments revolving around technical aspects of assessment laws.

"Mr. Joyce certainly should be commended for his work on behalf of the city," said Ald. Dowell.

Little Qualicum Camp

Weekly outings of the junior branch, Victoria Natural History Society, will be resumed July 18 after completion of summer camp at Little Qualicum Falls for older members which starts this weekend.

Natural Gas Line Still Hope

B.C. Electric officials here were still hopeful today they could supply natural gas to Greater Victoria, despite withdrawal of one of the companies which had planned a pipeline to the mainland.

R. M. Bond, president of Island Transmission Company, said Thursday, his company would withdraw its application to pipe natural gas to Vancouver Island, because the project was uneconomic.

He said the fuel would have stiff competition from California fuel oil.

A B.C. Electric spokesman said his company ". . . is extremely interested in natural gas in Victoria and we have great hopes a pipeline to the Island can be carried out."

MANY SURVEYS

The company has been making surveys for five years and will distribute natural gas over existing lines in the Greater Victoria area, "depending on whether it can be retailed to local customers at an economical price."

A Public Utilities hearing which opens in Victoria courthouse Monday is expected to clarify the question of "economic prices."

The Island Transmission Company president said California oil can be delivered here for $2.30 a barrel. Natural gas will cost about $3 for the same heat units.

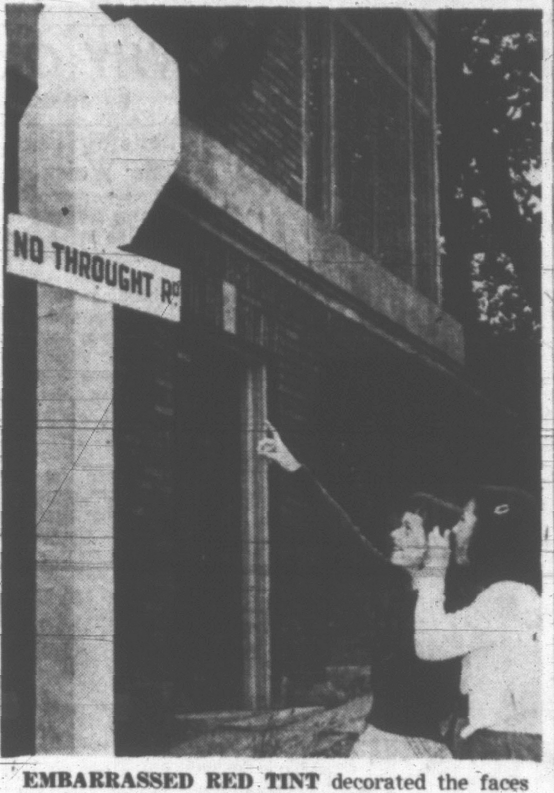
Because of this the company would not go ahead with its application "at the moment," said Mr. Bond.

Magna Pipeline Company Ltd., the second company planning a Vancouver Island pipeline, said it will appear before the Public Utilities Commission in Victoria Monday. Hearings are expected to last for three days.

TOUGH DEAL

President Ralph Farris, who is also president of Northern Ontario Natural Gas Company, said a pipeline would be a "tough deal" but that the fuel oil price is unlikely to remain at its present low level.

He said surplus oil now is being shipped to Vancouver Island. A number of projects planned in the United States would use up that surplus within the next few years and island industries would have to depend on Canadian supplies.



EMBARRASSED RED TINT decorated the faces of city painters today when these two Willows School pupils spotted an error in black and white on Verrinder Street sign at Oak Bay Junction. Joyce Kerr, 8, points out the extra "t" to friend Colleen Martin, 10. Same mistake was made on signs at Summit and Blackwood. "It must have been a slip of the brush," wailed city engineer James Garnett. (Photo by Ian McKain.)

Forest 'Giants' Merger Must Pass U.S. Regulations

Directors of the Powell River Co. and MacMillan and Bloedel today moved to set in gear the mechanics of their proposed $355,000,000 forest industries merger. Because each company has large U.S. shareholders, the merger must comply with the U.S. Securities Commission as well as Canadian securities and tax laws.

Shareholders of both companies received letters outlining the amalgamation plan, basis of which is seven shares of Powell River for six shares of M & B.

While directors of the proposed new company, MacMillan, Bloedel and Powell River Ltd. have not met to set up a single directorate, it is expected that H. R. MacMillan will be appointed honorary chairman of the board.

Other posts are expected to be filled by: J. V. Clyne, chairman; Harold S. Foley, vice-chairman; M. J. Foley, president; Ralph M. Shaw, executive vice-president. At present Mr. MacMillan is chairman of M & B's finance committee; Mr. Clyne is chairman of the board of M & B; Harold Foley is chairman of Powell River's board; M. J. Foley is its president, and Mr. Shaw is M & B president.

A spokesman for the Powell River Co. today denied that the intended merger would give the new company control of 42 per cent of B.C.'s total forest production.

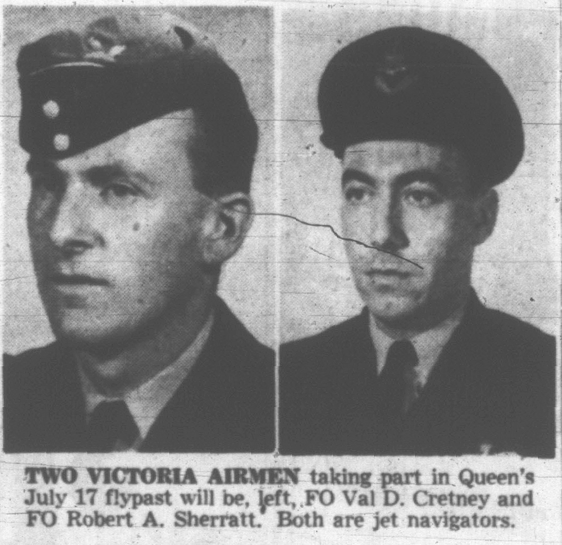
"There are too many factors to set an accurate figure," the spokesman said.

The spokesman also denied the planned merger will make the new company "the colossus" some sources say it will be.

COMBINED SALES

Combined net sales of Powell River and M & B total $225,000,000. This is lower than the net sales last year of Bowater, $294,000,000; Container Corp. of America, $259,000,000; Celanese Corp. of America (which controls Columbia Cellulose), $265,000,000; International Paper, $919,000,000; Kimberley-Clark, $335,000,000; Scott Paper (which controls B.C. Forest Products), $270,000,000; St. Regis Paper, $376,000,000, and Weyerhauser (in Washington), $417,000,000.

Meanwhile in Ottawa Justice Minister Fulton said the federal combines branch is making its customary review of the proposed merger. He was replying to a question from Frank Howard (CCF-Skeena). Mr. Fulton said it is an automatic procedure for the branch to look into big mergers and this is being done.



TWO VICTORIA AIRMEN taking part in Queen's July 17 flypast will be, left, FO Val D. Cretney and FO Robert A. Sherratt. Both are jet navigators.

FLYPAST JULY 17

Victoria Airmen In Royal Salute

Sixteen warplanes based on Vancouver Island will swoop low over Beacon Hill Park July 17 in a salute to Queen Elizabeth.

The flypast will include a large letter "E" flown by 10 speedy CF-100 twin jet interceptors following six Neptune patrol planes in two "V" formations.

The aerial salute, similar to the flypast for Princess Margaret here last year, will wheel overhead as the Queen presents Regimental Colors to the 1st Battalion, Princess Patricia's Canadian Light Infantry in the park.

Offshore, a dozen warships will form a nautical backdrop to the military ceremony.

Flying in the jet formation will be three Greater Victoria airmen: pilot F/O Henry H. Sands, 21, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry R. Sands, of Sidney; navigator F/O Robert A. Sherratt, 29, son of Mr. and Mrs. Sydney Sherratt, 2725 Musgrave; and navigator F/O Val D. Cretney, 27, son of Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Cretney, 736 Daffodil.

All are members of the 409 Squadron based at Comox.

The jet flight will be led by 38-year-old F/L Bruce Inrig, who married the former Caroline Cornwall, 4025 Lacarno Lane.

Four of the jets also will salute the Queen with a flypast July 16 at Nanaimo when she arrives there aboard HMCS Assiniboine. Four Neptunes of 407 Maritime Squadron will patrol the sealanes ahead of the vessel as it brings Her Majesty and Prince Phillip to the Island from Vancouver.

Saanich Man Fined $75 for Public Mischief

Stanley John Bullivant, 3521 Douglas, was fined $75 in Saanich police court Thursday on a charge of causing a public mischief.

The 17-year-old transferred from juvenile court, pleaded guilty to giving police false information, on which they acted to carry out a fruitless investigation.

He said a car was racing around an island at the intersection of Douglas and Trans-Canada Highway in a dangerous manner, and later admitted he thought it would be fun to see the police "chasing around."

Robbery Revealed As Motive

Police at Nanaimo today stated they are looking for a "powerful" man as the only type of person who could have committed the savage slaying sometime after 6 a.m. Saturday of Andrew Kostynuk, 62, and his wife, Lizzie, 55.

They were found by a neighbor Tuesday evening in their neat South Wellington home, five miles south of Nanaimo. Both had been viciously stabbed—Mrs. Kostynuk twice and Mr. Kostynuk five times to the heart.

RCMP now are convinced robbery was the motive for the savage knife slaying. First reports of robbery were discounted by police, but it is known that a suitcase had been slashed, dresser drawers pulled open, and that money known to have been in Mr. Kostynuk's person, said between $60 and $100, was missing.

INSTANT DEATH

Although earlier reports of the tragedy indicated the victims had died a lingering death, investigation revealed they had died almost instantly.

They were found Tuesday night by a friend, Mrs. Evelyn Gueullette, who had come to call on Mrs. Kostynuk.

Sgt. Peter Gregory of Victoria is leading the investigation.

Last time at which Mr. Kostynuk is known to have been alive was Saturday at 6 a.m., when he returned from a poker game in Nanaimo. Although not a gambler in the accepted sense of the word, he was an ardent and apparently capable poker player, and acquaintances are convinced that at times he had more than $1,000 in cash on his person.

QUIET MAN

He never "flashed" the money, however, nor mentioned carrying it. A quiet and orderly man, he was employed by Comox Logging & Railway Co. Ltd. at Nanaimo Lakes operations as a powderman.

Dr. H. W. Lewis, coroner, opened an inquest Thursday night to have the bodies viewed, then adjourned it indefinitely.

It was reported that the wounds were made by either an "angry, vicious, or powerful" man.

Mrs. Kostynuk had been born in South Wellington and lived there all her life, and her husband came from Poland.

Surviving are a son, John, Burnaby; a daughter, Mrs. J. C. Phillips, Nanaimo; five grandchildren; Mrs. Kostynuk's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Hosko, Seattle, and two brothers and eight sisters in Seattle and California.

Funeral services for the two will be held in Nanaimo Saturday at 2 p.m.

TRAFFIC FINES

In city police court today:

Gordon A. Green, 1700 Foul Bay, careless driving, $40.

Marion I. Underwood, 5172 West Saanich, no driver's licence, $25.

Edward Bittman, 961 Esquimalt Road, no driver's licence, $25.

ASK The TIMES

Q. Have you any information on the chicken egg-laying records? M.F.

A. Greatest authenticated record is 355 eggs in 365 days by a black Australorp at the Glen Agricultural College laying test, South Africa, in 1944-45. There have been unsubstantiated reports from Japan that this has been exceeded.

Q. Did Joe Louis and Tommy Farr ever fight 20 rounds for the heavyweight championship of the world? If they did, what year? C.C.T.

Q. They never fought 20 rounds. Farr lasted the full route of 15 rounds on Aug. 30, 1937, in a world championship bout. Louis won.

SHOPPING GUIDE

Fresh Vegetable Marrow, Raspberries—Local Farms

By PENNY SAVER

Local vegetable marrow has just arrived in town! Tender, new-off-the-vine, this delectable vegetable is making its first appearance this summer in local produce markets. In the shop where I found it, selling price is 20 cents a pound.

Raspberries are another summer newcomer this week. Dessert can be a special treat if you serve fresh raspberries and ice cream together. Then sit back and listen to the raves.

Raspberries are 35 cents a basket in this shop.

Loganberries will be in the produce stores at the beginning of next week. They're just about to be picked from local berry farms. Price will be from 25 cents to 30 cents a basket.

You can have creamy French salad dressing in an instant, now. It'll be perfectly blended, a chef's delight, with just the right kinds and amounts of spices, herbs. In foil envelope (just like those delicious instant soup mixes) price is 29 cents.

In the instant-mix world they're putting out a new line of mixes, specially designed for the party hostess, to save her time and energy. For the perfect chip dip these mixes combine the tastiest ingredients, again blended superbly by experts. You add the mix to cream cheese, sour cream or cottage cheese (envelope tells you proportions, and just how to mix). Result is the dreamiest chip or cracker dip you've ever tasted, and so will say all your guests. Three varieties are available: Garlic-olive, onion and bleu cheese.

Price per envelope is 25 cents.

Another party specialty I've found that will add pretty touch to bridge or card party tid-bits are multi-colored plastic tooth-pics. They have little hearts, clubs, spades and diamonds at one end. Package of 60 costs 19 cents.

The bending exercises are waist-slimming and most of these have little or no effect on the hips.

WHY GROW OLD?

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Bending Exercises Trim The Waist But Not the Hips

Q.—"What type exercises should I take for reducing the waist but not the hips? I do not want my hips any smaller."

A.—The bending exercises are waist-slimming and most of these have little or no effect on the hips.

Q.—"I am 11 years old and 4 feet 9 inches tall. I weigh 84 pounds. Am I too fat?"

A.—No. You are just about right.

Q.—"I have a problem. My friends think I am plump or just plain fat. I am 5 feet 5½ inches tall and weigh 136 pounds. My bust measures 36 inches, waist 25 and hips 37. I am 14 years old and have a small frame."

A.—Your measurements are in very good proportion but you are a little overweight. Cut out in-between meal snacks and candy bars and desserts until you lose five or six pounds.

Q.—"Can you tell me what to do about small veins in my face? They are ruining my complexion and look awful. Please answer in your column since I am most anxious to know what causes them and what to do about them."

A.—No one seems to know just what causes this condition. There have been many different theories. However, you can have them removed by a dermatologist. You also can cover them up fairly well. If you would like to know the name of the product, send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for it to me in care of this newspaper.

Q.—"My husband thinks I am overweight. I believe that I weigh just what I should. I am 18 years of age, am 5 feet 5½ inches tall, have a medium frame and weigh 120 pounds. My bust measures 41 inches, waist 25 and hips 37. Please give us your opinion."

A.—Your husband must be hard to please. By no possible calculation are you overweight.

Q.—"I am 18 years old and I have a problem. I am very shy and awkward when I am on a date. I would like to overcome it. Please tell me how I can break away from being so shy."

A.—Make an effort to get your date to talk about himself. Find out what he expects to do career wise, what hobbies he has and what sports he likes. If you are a good listener, you will be a success. By concentrating on someone else you will find that you forget yourself and are no longer shy.

Sixth annual Cadboro Bay party for young and old, organized by Mrs. J. W. Cox, in garden of 3914 Caerleon Place, Saturday, 2 to 5 p.m. Tea, bingo, games for children, white elephant, home cooking. All proceeds for Cerebral Palsy Clinic.

DEAR ABBY . . .

Questions First!

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I am a widower who is marrying a widow as soon as we can agree on a date. I have enough money to live very comfortably and I know she has, too. We each have children and grandchildren by our former mates. My lawyer suggested I have her sign papers stating that if I die first I will provide generously for her—but my own children will inherit my money. I am willing to sign a statement stating if she dies first, she can leave everything she has to her own children. Will I insult her if I make this request? SECOND MARRIAGE.

DEAR SECOND: Your lawyer's suggestion is sensible and I advise you to follow through. If the lady objects, she is no lady.

* * *

DEAR ABBY: A couple in town invited two other couples to dinner and the theatre on a Dutch-treat basis. He is an executive with a very large and well-known business firm. The "host" and "hostess" charged all the dinners to his company (as a "business expense" I presume) and we learned later from a reliable source that they got the theatre tickets the same way. Then they collected from their "guests" in full. This trick was performed by people who want to assume leadership in our community. How do we show our disapproval and how cheap is cheap? TAKEN.

DEAR TAKEN: If you feel you have been "taken" you can show your disapproval by having nothing more to do with these people. Nobody knows how cheap cheap is, but sometimes it's pretty expensive.

* * *

DEAR ABBY: What has become of the machine permanent wave? I have paid all sorts of high prices for permanent waves and they are no good—any of them—for fine hair. After one shampoo, the wave is gone. Could you advise me, please? DISGUSTED.

DEAR DISGUSTED: Occasionally an old-fashioned permanent wave machine can be seen gathering dust in the back room of a modern beauty parlor. Ask the manager if there is anyone who is old enough to remember how to operate it.

* * *

DEAR ABBY: I am 11 years old. I am a boy. Our whole class took pictures at school. Mine came out terrible. I look like there is a fly on my lip. Anyway that is not my problem as the pictures didn't cost but fifty cents. There is this silly girl who goes around telling everybody she is my girl. She is always kissing on my picture. I didn't give her my picture. She traded a boy for it and gave him a dime. How can I stop this silly girl from kissing on my picture? JULIUS.

DEAR JULIUS: You can't stop her from kissing on your picture but pretend you don't notice it and she might stop. Girls can be awfully silly the first eleven years. Pretty soon it will be your turn.

INVITATION MEANS 'NO GIFT, PLEASE':

I am pretty sure that an Open House I have been invited to is to celebrate a twenty-fifth wedding anniversary. Should I take or send a gift?

LOUISE DAVIS ANSWERS:

I wouldn't, if I were you. Even though you are positive that the party is for an anniversary, the couple didn't mention it when sending out invitations. I am certain that they leaned over backward to avoid any reference to it, because they didn't want to obligate their friends and relatives.

CAMP COLUMBIA

Hut Leader Finds New Type Holiday on Thetis Island

By Judy Nicholson

Judy

Weather is wonderful, mosquitos are hungry and I'm having a lovely holiday chasing teen-age girls around Camp Columbia — as a hut leader!

"Camp Columbia," on Thetis Island, four-and-a-half miles from Chemainus, and sponsored by the Anglican Diocese of British Columbia, got off to a good start for the summer last Monday.

First campers were 40 teenage girls, ages 13 to 16, from parishes on Vancouver Island and the Gulf Islands. They will spend 10 days here — swimming, hiking, picnicking, listening to talks of various kinds and learning to live with others.

Camp was first opened in 1947, under direction of a small group of the clergy of the diocese, led by Michael Coleman now Bishop of the diocese of Qu'Appelle, Sask.

Land was purchased from Major Philip T. Heneage and includes 88 acres of wooded property; a large, rustic English country-type home and several small cottages.

First summer, campers slept in the big home named "Heneage House" and in small cabins on the beach.

Following year several huts to accommodate 10 campers each, were built.

Now, after 12 years, there are six cabins and an outdoor chapel, the Chapel of St. Christopher, and the only Anglican church on Thetis Island.

More than 6,000 young people have attended the camp in the 12 years. Some are now church leaders in this diocese and in other dioceses across Canada. They all cherish memories of Thetis.

Staff Interest Keen; Everyone Helps

This year's summer camp has an interesting staff. The "Chief", Miss Bunny Hughes, formerly of Victoria and now of Vancouver, has spent many years in camp work. During the winter months she leads a large youth group at St. James Church in the east end of Vancouver.

Canon Harold Greenhalgh, rector of St. Paul's Church, Nanaimo, is chaplin. He too, is a pioneer in work of the camp, being one of the original group that organized it.

Other staff members include Mrs. J. Harrison, nurse, who during the rest of the year is matron at Queen Margaret's School for Girls at Duncan; Miss Jane Russell, sports instructor, who is games mistress at Queen Margaret's; Mrs. Russell Sadd, Chemainus, secretary; Mrs. J. Russell, Victoria, the cook; Misses Mary Rock, Bamfield, Janice Hickman, Victoria, Irene Smith, Port Alberni and Elizabeth Thornsett, Chemainus, kitchen helpers and affectionately known as "cookies."

Other hut leaders are Pat Horne, Victoria; Blanche Kimura, Vancouver; Barbara Ludwig, Chemainus and Margo Alexander, Courtenay.

Honorary chaplain is Archbishop Harold E. Sexton and the camp chairman, Derek Arnold.

Last named is a year-round staffer who works industriously from his home in Duncan to ensure that Thetis Camp runs smoothly during the summer months.

Marries New Victorian

Centennial United Church was the scene of a recent wedding which united Vesta Rose Briggs, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Briggs of Victoria, with Alfred Utz, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Utz of Berne, Switzerland. Rev. D. B. Carr heard wedding vows. Organist was Mrs. M. Wilmshurst, and Miss Betty-Ann Sutherland sang "O Perfect Love."

A floor-length full-skirted gown of white organza over net and taffeta was chosen by the bride. Bridal veil of French illusion net was held by a tiara of mother-of-pearl sequins. She carried a Bible topped with a small bouquet of pink roses and white stephanotis. Only jewelry was a pearl necklace, the groom's gift.

Mrs. Frank Miller and Miss Velma Neelands were senior attendants in floor-length gowns of turquoise nylon over taffeta. Junior bridesmaid, Pauline Briggs, was in pink organza over taffeta. Their flowers were pink gladioli.

Gerald Rousseau was best man; Roy Briggs and Joe Briggs, the ushers.

Out-of-town guests included the bride's uncle, Lloyd Briggs and Mrs. L. Leu from Vancouver, Mr. and Mrs. M. Solterman of Port Alberni, Mr. and Mrs. H. Meir and Mrs. Amstutz of Tacoma.

The bride's going away outfit was a pure silk fitted dress in turquoise tone, an off-white mohair coat, matching hat and accessories and turquoise gloves and flowers.

Following a mainland honeymoon the couple are making their home in Victoria.

OF PERSONAL INTEREST

Reception for Engaged Couple

Last Sunday afternoon Mr. and Mrs. George Paulin entertained at an afternoon reception at their Deep Cove home, in honor of their nephew, Mr. Don Paulin and his fiancee, Miss Elizabeth Clark. Other guests included co-workers of the honor guest in Geo. Paulin Ltd., with their husbands and wives. During the afternoon Mr. George Paulin introduced Miss Muriel Campbell, a senior member of the firm, who presented the affianced couple with a walnut coffee table from the staff. A suitably inscribed shower cake was cut by Miss Clark. Guests enjoyed swimming and boating during the afternoon.

A linen shower was held recently in the Metchosin home of Mrs. N. Helgesen, for Miss Clark. Gifts were in a decorated clothes basket. Corsages were presented to the bride-elect and to her mother, Mrs. A. R. Clark and mother of the groom-elect, Mrs. C. W. Paulin. Miss E. Ruth King presided at the refreshment table and assisting as serviteurs were Miss Margaret Clark and Miss Lorna Futcher. Other guests, many of whom had formerly been on staff of Langford Elementary School with the honor guest, were Mrs. R. Futcher, Mrs. A. Payne, Mrs. H. Polsson, Mrs. N. Bell, Mrs. G. Gurney, Mrs. R. Fryer, Mrs. G. Corkle, Mrs. A. Murray, Mrs. G. Hall, Misses Norma Erskine and Kathleen Paulin.

Going Abroad

Miss June Harris left by air for Alexandria, Va., on Wednesday where she will spend the next two months with her cousin, Miss Frances Ferris, before leaving for Europe. She will spend the next three years overseas continuing studies in medicine. Miss Harris is the granddaughter of Capt. C. I. Harris, Lansdowne Road, and Mr. and Mrs. M. G. Bullock, Bowker Avenue.

To Banff School

Miss Myrna Jenkin who has been visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. V. Jenkin, at their home on Dunlevy Street, left today for Banff where she has accepted a scholarship course at Banff School of Fine Arts. Miss Jenkin, who earlier this year graduated with honors from the artists diploma course, Faculty of Music, Royal Conservatory of Music, Toronto, will take the lead in "Madame Butterfly" and the part of Donna Anna in "Don Giovanni" at the Banff School. In the last week of the summer course she will tour with these operas to Calgary, Edmonton, Lethbridge and Red

Trousseau Tea

Mrs. Neil McKenzie Wilson, Southgate Street, entertained 40 guests recently at a trousseau tea honoring her daughter, Miss Marilyn R. Wilson, who is to be married this week to Sub-Lt. William Michael Moore. Presiding at the tea table were Mrs. E. Pollock and Miss Martha B. Hearn. Serviteurs were Mrs. E. McIsaac, Mrs. M. Rochleau and Miss Elfie Jernslet.

WILLIAM WALLACE ROOM

Holyrood House Wedding Scene

Sir William Wallace Room, Holyrood House, was decked with summer flowers recently for the wedding of Gail Florence Lajeunesse and Gordon Lewis Hall. Dr. E. A. Wright officiated.

The bride wore a gown of pure silk taffeta overlayed with a full gathered skirt of Chantilly lace, with front taffeta panel. The fitted bodice featured a high scalloped neckline trimmed with appliques of lace, and was fashioned with lily point sleeves. Her waist-length veil was held in place by a crown of sequins and pearls and her flowers were red roses.

Maid of honor, Miss Jo-Ann Elder, and bridesmaid, Miss Elinor Eve, wore matching gowns of blue organza over white printed taffeta. They carried cascade bouquets of small white chrysanthemums. Flower girl, Leslie Lajeunesse, the bride's niece, was in a floor-length dress of dotted yellow nylon. She carried a basket of blue and white flowers.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Lajeunesse of Milnes Landing. Mr. Lajeunesse gave his daughter in marriage. For the wedding Mrs. Lajeunesse wore a pure silk print in shades of brown and beige, with a corsage of Talisman roses.

Groom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Hall of Vancouver. Mrs. Hall was in navy blue with a corsage of pink roses for the wedding.

Best man was Robert Lajeunesse, the bride's brother, and another brother, Daniel Lajeunesse, and David McClimon ushered.

At a reception held also in the Sir William Wallace Room, the bride's table was centred by a three-tier wedding cake made by the bride's mother. John Martin, Milnes Landing, proposed the toast

Guests at the wedding included the bride's grandmother, Mrs. I. Lajeunesse, Gibbons, Alta., and Mr. and Mrs. N. Duncan, Mr. and Mrs. J. Gray, Mr. and Mrs. D. Rogers, Mr. and Mrs. T. McHugh, Mr. and Mrs. L. Wells, Mr. and Mrs. H. Schlegal, all of Vancouver.

Leaving for an up-Island honeymoon the new Mrs. Hall donned a pink and white ensemble, with a corsage of roses en tone

The couple will make their home in North Burnaby.

Cathedral Party

Women's Parish Guild of Christ Church Cathedral will hold its annual garden party on the lawns of the Deanery, next Saturday afternoon. The affair will be opened at 2 p.m. by Mrs. Frank Mackenzie Ross, wife of the Lieutenant-Governor of British Columbia. Afternoon tea will be served and there will be stalls of home cooking, house linens, aprons, baby wear, white elephant, novelties, ice cream, soft drinks and other things. A Punch and Judy show is on the program, also the Victoria Girls' Pipe Band and Katherine Costain's dancing classes. Proceeds will go to the guild's work of church maintenance.

'IT'S A GRACIOUS MANSION!'

Guests at a luncheon given by Mrs. Frank Mackenzie Ross at Government House Thursday, included wives of former lieutenant-governors of British Columbia. They agreed that the new mansion holds many of the gracious features of the one that burned with an added touch of modernism that gives it a new charm. Pictured above are Mrs. W. C. Woodward, Mrs. Ross, Mrs. Walter Nichol and Mrs. Clarence Wallace.

ROYAL WEDDING

Princess Had Giggles

BRUSSELS (AP) — Prince Albert of Liege, heir presumptive to the Belgium throne, today married a beautiful blonde Italian princess who broke down with giggles midway through the glittering church wedding.

The radiant 21-year-old bride, Dona Paola Ruffo di Calabria, was asked by Joseph Cardinal van Roey, "Have you come here of your own free will to engage in marriage?"

"Yes," she replied in French — and then suddenly halted, giggled and couldn't go on.

She blushed, raised her left hand to her lips and finally smothered her laughter. Her solemn 25-year-old bridegroom, kneeling on her right, gave his bride a sympathetic look. This seemed to steady her.

With only an occasional faint trembling smile, she completed the long ceremony performed amid pageantry and splendor in the Roman Catholic Collegiate Church of Saints Michael and Gudule. When she took her communion she broke down and cried, her hands once more flying to her face.

CONTROVERSIAL JOYCE BACK ON TV MONDAY

TORONTO (CP)—Joyce Davidson, the CBC television interviewer who touched off a controversy on the eve of the Royal Visit by describing Canadians as indifferent to the tour, returns to the CBC-TV program Tabloid Monday after a temporary leave of absence, the CBC has announced.

SENIOR CITIZENS

Donations Still Sought For Housing

Greater Victoria citizens missed by last week's Victoria Senior Citizens' Housing Society drive have been asked to send in their donations.

The society president, Mrs. May Campbell, said that although returns were still coming in she appealed to those not contacted to send contributions to A. V. Price, 2476 Central Avenue, or the main branch of the Royal Bank of Canada, on Government Street.

She said a total of $18,130 had been raised to date, of which $10,000 would go towards completion of Banfield Lodge the remainder to a fund for a second project.

Some 26 single old people are moving into the low-rent lodge and there is a waiting list now of over 100 more.

IT WAS IN JULY LAST YEAR that tenor Charles Davis, Hawaiian-born, arrived here to sing at the famed outdoor concerts in Butchart Gardens with the Victoria Symphony Orchestra. Here, Mrs. Hans Gruber, wife of the symphony conductor, places a lei on the neck of the popular tenor. Last year he sang here July 10; this year he sings July 9. He arrives here Monday.

SOPRANO HAS CHICKEN POX

Charles Davis Butchart Star

Tenor Charles Davis, who has sung on the Dinah Shore, Jack Paar and Ed Sullivan shows and entranced audiences here last year singing with the Victoria Symphony Orchestra, will be featured artist at the first of two outdoor concerts with the symphony in Butchart Gardens, July 9.

He will replace soprano Teresa Stratas, who wired from New York, Thursday, she could not attend because of chicken pox.

Miss Stratas' wire to symphony conductor Hans Gruber, stated:

"I am struck with a case of chickenpox. Doctor tells me I won't be better in time for concert. I am heartbroken because I was truly looking forward to working with you. Perhaps a date in August could be worked out. Sorry nature pulled a fast one. Know this is a great inconvenience to you. It is a greater disappointment to me."

A spokesman for the gardens said they were "highly elated" about securing the talents of Mr. Davis, and quoted the singer as saying "I can't wait to get back."

Later this year Mr. Davis is scheduled to go to Moscow with Ed Sullivan.

Already signed for the second outdoor concert is baritone Roald Reitan. He will appear July 23.

CANADIAN FESTIVALS ON THE AIR

VANCOUVER (CP) — The CBC will broadcast a three-week series of concerts from four Canadian and one Italian festivals this summer, it was announced here today.

The CBC announcement said the radio programs will alternate nightly from July 15 to Aug. 5 from festivals at Vancouver, Stratford, Ont., Montreal, Saskatoon and Florence, Italy.

Earn-Learn Course for Mental Nurses

Provincial mental health service is seeking students for an earn-while-you-learn course in psychiatric nursing at Essondale before July 10.

"We need all we can get," said Health Minister Eric Martin.

Graduates of the two-year course are eligible for licensing as psychiatric nurses. During the course they will earn $113 in the case of women and $150 for men, rising to $158 for women and $195 for men after the first six months. The second year of the course, women will earn $173 and men $225. Graduate nurses earn between $270 and $324.

The job also provides accommodation—rooms at $5 a month and meals at 30 cents each. Uniforms are provided for women on entrance and for the male students after one year.

Admission requirements—Grade 10 is minimum, with preference being given for higher grades. Women must be 18 or over and men 19 or over, and in good health.

The world-famous Buenos Aires newspaper La Prensa provides the public with a library, a music room, a lecture hall, a broadcasting station, a meteorological observatory, medical and dental consultation rooms and information offices on agriculture and veterinary medicine.

Gyro's $50 Endangered

Victoria golfers are getting closer to the elusive first prize at the Gyro Club hole-in-one contest and fair at Central Junior High School.

Roy Langford, 388 Walter Avenue, drove his ball 75 yards to within one inch of the cup and $50 prize. Previous days' bests have been 16 inches and 6 inches.

Second place went to Dr. R. G. Whitehead, 3850 Synod Road, who came within three inches, and third was Frank Kilshaw, 3927 St. Peter, 8¼ inches away.

Final two days of the contest, which features a number of other games and contests for young and old, will be tonight, starting at 7 o'clock, and Saturday, starting at 2 p.m.

BRANDON MAYOR CLEARED

BRANDON (CP) — County court judge A. G. Buckingham said today Mayor James Creighton had no direct interest in a property transaction that sparked a petition from the Brandon real estate board saying Mr. Creighton was disqualified from holding office because he acted as an agent in the deal involving city property.

Judge Buckingham dismissed the petition June 24 after a two-day trial.

WEARING ONLY MUSTACHE

Wife Says Actor Kicked, Beat Her

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Actor Keenan Wynn, nude, punched and kicked his wife and tossed her mother to the floor three times, the women told police.

The actor was quoted by the deputies:

"Every woman should be struck regularly. All I wanted was to get some rest because I had to get to work in the morning."

Police said Wynn's third wife, the former Shirley Jean Hudson, 26, related.

Wynn, 42, six-foot, 189-pound son of veteran comedian Ed Wynn, was in the bedroom Wednesday talking by telephone to "one of his ex-wives."

After the conversation the actor, wearing only a heavy mustache, emerged from the bedroom, struck her, dragged her into the bedroom and continued to hit and kick her.

Her mother, Mrs. Blanche Hudson, said Mrs Wynn is expecting a child and:

"I tried to stop the fight. When he attacked my daughter, I stepped in and he knocked me to the floor three times. I had to do something."

Mrs Hudson got the police. No arrests were made.

Deputies said Mrs. Wynn told them she intended to prosecute her husband but she took no steps in that direction Thursday.

Scharnhorst Hero Dies in London

LONDON—Admiral Sir Robert Lindsay Burnett, 71, a Second World War British naval hero, was found dead in bed here Thursday. Burnett, famous for his exploits in guarding convoys to Russia, was knighted for his services in helping to destroy the German battleship Scharnhorst off Norway in 1943.

Phil Lee's Two for the Show

AA (Oscar Class) BB (Worthwhile) A (Don't Miss) B (For Rainy Days) C (To put in time)

(OSCAR CLASS) "SOME LIKE IT HOT" (Odeon)—It doesn't take a high degree of bravery to come out flatfooted and say that United Artists' "Some Like It Hot" is the year's best comedy.

For it is.

From the beginning to the end of the film the opening night audience roared with laughter at the Billy Wilder farce, sometimes so much so that the lines were lost in the din. Reasons for the merriment numbered four—Marilyn Monroe, Tony Curtis, Jack Lemon and the play itself, adapted by Wilder and I. A. L. Diamond as suggested by a story by R. Thoeren and M. Logan.

The overall cleverness of "Some Like It Hot" is that two men impersonating women and joining an all-girls' band could be a fearful bore after the initial fun was over. But somehow this piece keeps skipping from highlight, to highlight, remaining carefree and buoyant throughout.

It is the prohibition era of 1929. It is Chicago ablare with jazz, bathtub gin, speakeasies and gangsters. In one of these dives work Curtis and Lemon, the first a sax player and the second thrums a bull fiddle with the band. The dump is raided. The pair flee only to find themselves witness to the St. Valentine Day massacre and must run for their lives. Knowing of two vacancies in a girls' band they don suitable (?) garments and board a train loaded with pulchritude bound for an engagement in Florida.

More than that might spoil the surprises in the film. But it will be a long time before the audience will forget the cosy little scene with Lemmon and Miss Monroe in the snortingly funny upper berth scene or Lemmon in a wild upper berth party with all the members of the band. Those who are nervous about the propriety of such shenanigans needn't worry. Although bordering upon the burlesque houses of old it is done in good taste and should offend few.

Although the three stars — Miss Monroe, Curtis and Lemmon — come off with about equal honors it is Lemmon's femme fatale that carries the day. Even at the play's end he can't persuade aging playboy Joe E. Brown that he isn't ready to marry.

But, in closing, another bow to Miss Monroe. Once again she proves why she is considered to be the finest comedienne of her day. As the Times of London said not long ago, she has that Chaplin quality of making you feel sorry even while you laugh — the prime requisite of a clown, male or female.

And Miss Monroe is so very female, very round, very soft and very stacked. Beside her the females of Curtis and Lemmon looked magnificently ludicrous.

For a happy summer's night don't miss "Some Like It Hot."

THE BIG FIGHT—Dropped in to the Plaza Theatre to see the films of the heavyweight title fight between Ingemar Johannson and Floyd Patterson. They take up 16 minutes and are big, clear and worthwhile. Fans are given ample opportunity to witness the details of the knockdowns as they are run off first at normal speed and then in slow motion.

While everyone is talking about the new champion's mighty right hand the camera shows that his left is no slouch either. It was this handy gadget that appeared to set up the kill in the third. And, by the way, the big Swede gives no quarter. If you're up and moving he'll clobber you whether your back is toward him and your hands are down and you are unconscious at the time.

The first regular newspaper in the American colonies was the Boston News Letter, founded in 1704 by John Campbell, a postmaster.

ANTI-PARK PETITION DISCOURAGES REEVE

Saanich Reeve George Chatterton said today he was discouraged by a petition signed by 19 homeowners objecting to the establishment of Braefoot Park, near Simon Road, because of the noise made by cars and members of the Lake Hill Little League.

"On one hand we are besieged with demands to open more parks and playgrounds for children," he said, "on the other hand we are asked to close them down."

He said residents complained of noise made by some 150 youngsters who attended the opening of the four-acre park recently.

The solution to the noise problem, he said, would be for council to acquire more land for the park so that the baseball diamond could be moved away from nearby homes.

Visit to Moscow

LONDON — Labor leader Hugh Gaitskell plans to visit Moscow for talks with Premier Nikita Khrushchev and other Kremlin leaders, August 29. Aneurin Bevan, the Labor party treasurer and foreign affairs spokesman, will go with him.

Tow for Japan Assembles Here

First of five 10,000-ton Liberty ships destined for Japanese breaking yards is being brought to Victoria by Island Tug and Barge Ltd.'s Island Sovereign.

It is scheduled to arrive in Victoria Saturday from Astoria, Oregon, and the Island Sovereign will return to the American port to bring back a sister ship

The two Second World War freighters will be readied in Victoria prior to being towed to Japan by the deep-sea tug Sudbury II.

U.K. BILL TO OUTLAW RACE PREJUDICE URGED

LONDON (Reuters)—The government will be asked by politicians of all parties to introduce a bill outlawing racial discrimination in Britain, it was learned Thursday.

Indians Don't Want To 'Pay' for Rights

BANFF, Alta. (CP) — Canada's Indians want the rights of citizenship but not the responsibilities, William I. Wuttunee, a Cree Indian lawyer, told a Western Canada citizenship seminar Wednesday.

"The truth hurts, but I have hit the nail right on the head. Indians want new roads but they don't want to pay the taxes to build it. They feel the government owes them a living," he said.

CHANGE TREATIES

He suggested terms of Indian treaties should be changed because they are outmoded and often meaningless. At the time they were made they brought peace to the west, but they mean little now.

"However, many Indians don't want to see the treaties changed. Words like the 'Great White Queen' impress them. They think the treaties are great documents."

Mr. Wuttunee, born the son of a chief on a reservation near Battleford, Sask., now works for the Saskatchewan government.

DENIED JOB

Discrimination by whites against Indians still exists in Canada, he said. After graduating in law he was refused a $400 a month job because he was an Indian, and on another occasion was ordered to sit on the floor rather than the seats of a bush aircraft in northern Saskatchewan.

HORSE RACING REGULATIONS DISCUSSED

Track owners and horse racing officials have met with officials of the attorney-general's department to study proposed regulations for the sport.

It will be administered by a three-man racing commission which is to be named this summer. However, due to the lateness of the season, the commission is not expected to assume its powers until next year.

Residents Protesting Gorge Smoke

A petition asking city council to "do something" about smoke and soot from lumber mills permeating the Gorge-Burnside area near Point Ellice Bridge will be presented to city council.

Donald Malcolm, 504 Cecelia, spokesman for residents, said there are about 800 to 1,000 families in the area who suffer from smoke nuisance.

Approximately 300 signatures have been obtained on the petition.

Mr. Malcolm said the smoke was caused by oil-saturated sawdust waste being burned by lumber processing firms.

He pointed out that allowing smoke in such quantities was contrary to the anti-smoke bylaw of 1951.

"And there was supposed to have been a smoke advisory board appointed; there never was."

The petitioners ask that council take steps to see that the firms involved comply with the anti-smoke bylaw.

View Royal Plebiscite In 'Early September'

Department of Municipal Affairs officials today set "early September" as probable data for a plebiscite in View Royal on the question of incorporation as a village.

The delay was felt necessary due to absence of many residents on summer holidays plus the need for time to complete a voters' list and give adequate notice of polls.

A petition requesting the change from unorganized provincial territory to village status was recently requested by a plebiscite signed by 64.8 per cent of the eligible ratepayers.

PROVING GROUND
for Chevrolet Truck dependability!

Maybe this looks like your street . . . well, maybe it is! You find Chevrolet Trucks everywhere . . . lifting loads . . . earning dollars . . . staying and saving on the job.

Yes, everywhere — right across the nation — you see Chevrolet proving its dependability. That's because, from coast to coast, more people operate Chevrolets, rely on Chevrolets to maintain their businesses at ace-high efficiency. They know, from experience, that every Chevrolet has the important extra margins of built-in strength, stamina and economical power that make for bigger profits.

These are exactly the reasons why a Chevrolet is best for your business. Check with your Chevrolet dealer today. Find out how easy it is to put a Chevrolet to work for you. Then watch Chevrolet prove its dependability . . . pile on extra payloads . . . pile up extra profits . . . day after day.

Opening lead—♥2

South's four-spade bid was an attempted sacrifice. He was sure that East would make his four-heart contract and he was willing to pay 300 points to keep the rubber going.

The result was phenomenal. The defence slipped and instead of sacrificing South was safe on an error.

East took his ace of hearts and instead of playing a second heart decided to shift to the six of clubs. He had some idea that his partner might hold the king; not the ace.

West took his ace and returned the deuce. That six spot lead looked like a singleton to him.

South gathered in his king gratefully and thought awhile. East appeared to be desperate. Why? Probably East did not hold the ace of diamonds. In that case East would surely hold the king of spades. Maybe it would be singleton.

Following that line of reasoning South led the queen of spades, went up with dummy's ace, dropped the king as hoped for, drew trumps, discarded his second heart on dummy's long club, conceded a trick to the ace of diamonds and claimed his contract.

Johnny Gonsalves Fights Len Mathews In Lightweight Bout at 7

By PHIL LEE, Times TV Editor

JOTTINGS—Hope all those youngsters with stars in their eyes (Hollywood brand, that is) were present for Close-up's interviews Wednesday night of Diane Varsi and Canada's Shirley Harmer.

If nothing else they proved that the twinkles were caused more by tears than by their proximity to the sun.

Miss Varsi, as all motion picture fans remember deserted Hollywood and stardom after proving herself one of the most capable actresses of the decade in such pieces as "Peyton Place," "10 North Frederick," "Compulsion" and for TV's Playhouse 90, "The Ding-a-Ling Girl." Still in her 20's she discovered, however, that the unhappiness of the present—including two crashed marriages—wasn't worth the hope of a better future that might never be. The tranquility of peaceful Vermont seemed much preferable.

On the other hand Miss Harmer, once the toast of Canadian TV until she made good on the George Gobel show, still has stars in her eyes even though her Hollywood career has bogged down after one picture. She didn't want to come back to Canada, she said, but would keep right on trying. Her first hope was the night club circuit.

At the present time the Canadian girl is drawing $500 every week from her studio even though she has worked only two weeks. In accepting the movie contract she admitted that she turned down a five-year TV contract with NBC and frankly wondered whether her decision had been a wise one.

TV TEE-HEES

"I'm brand X."

★ ★ ★

MARIAN BOYLAN of Bellingham's Channel 12 phoned the other day to say that her station had cancelled Monday night's Texas wrestling, a program that KVOS-TV has been carrying for at least five years. The reason? Simply no one watching. On the brighter side, she added that CBS-TV network (Channels 12 and 7) will be carrying the Queen's visit to Chicago on Monday morning starting at 10.

★ ★ ★

THE QUEEN came through beautifully from Ottawa Wednesday as she delivered her speech to the nation. Thanks to the medium she at least gets to the common herd in a very personal manner. The unveiling ceremonies of the memorial to Commonwealth air forces were also most impressive.

Once again ABC-TV's "Music For a Summer Night" proved that it was the best new program of the summer as it delved into bucketsfull of nostalgia reviewing the hits from the motion pictures over the years.

Football fans will be happy to learn that the CBC will telecast live seven western games during the 1959 season. In addition to these the web will carry the play-off games and the Grey Cup final from Toronto, Saturday, Nov. 28. The first western game will be Winnipeg at Vancouver, Saturday, Sept. 19, starting at 8.30 p.m.

107 PARTS, TIRES AND ACCESSORIES

POSITIVE CURE FOR BALDNESS

Take a look at those smooth tires of yours, those bald spots are signs of danger to yourself and others. But if you bring them along to us before it's too late, we can give your tires the GUARANTEED GOODYEAR TIRE (FACTORY APPROVED) RETREAD. But don't wait till they are worn to the canvas or structurally damaged. If in doubt bring them to us. We will not waste your time or money.

IT'S TRUE

The cost of a retread is ½ the cost of a new tire. We are proud to say we have the finest factory approved retreading equipment in Western Canada.

FISHERMEN!

Bring your family to THE ALDERS. Cottages, boats, safe sandy beach for the children. Top salmon fishing (Comox-Campbell River area), 70 acres of beautiful woodland. Complete seclusion, well off highway. Golf near by. Write The Alders, Merville, B.C.

DEAR FOLKS—WELL, IT IS HOLIDAY time again, and there is a little place on sandy Tribune Bay on Hornby Island that is an ideal spot for the whole family. You have a little cabin for sleeping, with good wholesome meals served in the dining room. No dishes for mum. Fishing is good for coho and spring. Riding horses and nice ponies for the kids, or you can dig clams on the seashore. We still have a few vacancies for the early part of July, and rates are reasonable too. So phone Hornby 1X, via Courtenay. Keith and Butie Stonehouse, Lodge, Hornby Island.

BE SURE OF YOUR ACCOMMODATION. Book at BEAUTYREST LODGE, where meals are excellent and you sleep on Beautyrest mattresses. Full catering OR complete furnished housekeeping cottage available. Maid service and dinners if desired. Landscaped gardens . . . the Gem of the Gulf Is. Play equipment includes swimming pool, shuffleboard, tennis, boats, etc. Ph. Gulf 29A or write Mrs. Lynd, Port Washington, B.C.

CARROLL RIGHTER'S ASTROLOGICAL FORECAST

SATURDAY, JULY 4, 1959

ARIES (March 21 to April 19)—A.M. is fine time to attend any civic affairs and to give expression to your ingenious ideas. However, spend the evening at home devotedly taking car of problems and kin there. Be of good cheer and have fun, too.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20)—Morning would be excellent time to meditate on putting in operation those plans you have been formulating for some time that will extend far into the future. Put abode in good order, be kind to kin. P.M. avoid inclination to extravagance in matters of pleasure.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21)—A day for thinking in terms of self-advancement. The right channel for best expression will be open to you, and you can bring your appearance up to its very peak of perfection. P.M. follow orthodox regulations. Retire early.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21)—Here is the ideal day to confide in bigwigs just what your desires are and get their support. Also to have real happiness in a quiet and charming manner. P.M. will then bring about openly the fruition of one of your cherished dreams.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21)—You have only to be together with compatibles today in order to start operating soon in efficient and grandiose fashion as most suits you. Take care they are real topnotchers. However, tonight is time for more quiet and restful activity.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22)—All sort of participation in civic affairs is excellent today. P.M. take part in group meetings and you will meet the right people who help you to advance.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22)—Spend a.m. in study of the loftier things in life, so that you may grow in wisdom and intellect. See that you take in some recreation during the day, too. P.M. be especially careful with those in power over you.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21)—It would be the height of wisdom to play your hunches now and plan your activities with partners accordingly. Then you get the results you want. P.M. is best spent in study or talking over subjects about which you know little.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21)—Now is the time to expand your consciousness so that you know better how to handle all others, particularly associates. Reach a point of real understanding. New thought occurs in p.m. how to be happier with mate. Follow hunch.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20)—Don't be afraid to do all those civic duties you are called upon to perform today, since you will make great strides in this way in your career. Show this proudly. P.M. placate anxious mate.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19)—Another day for fun and frolic, but do mix business with pleasure. Dress in good style, wear your best smile and then wow 'em with your brilliance and fine personality. P.M. retire early and rest your faithful legs.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to March 20)—Make this a productive day by doing all those things around your home that will add beauty and value. Fix those leaks, water the garden, and be a good neighbor, an ideal homebody. P.M. step out for quiet pleasure.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN SATURDAY

The wonderful child born Saturday is the rare type who will have a great attachement to kin, pride of country and phenomenal loyalty to duty. Understand your priceless youngster and let him or her be early appreciated by all others about. A gifted child such as this can reach the greatest heights in connection with government, especially. Teach the finest truths and ethics early.

SUNDAY, JULY 5, 1959

ARIES (March 21 to April 19)—This day is best spent rounding out home chores or loose ends of patriotic duties. Plan to have the most excellent and harmonious order at abode. P.M. give a quiet little party and have satisfying fun.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20)—Don't neglect your privilege of hearing inspired man of God today, for here is the key to opening up own consciousness so that you live a fuller and richer life. Then go about visiting, renewing old acquaintances. Good will come of this.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21)—A fine day to concentrate on the standards by which you were reared and to add to these the excellent philosophy you have picked up along the years. Then by combining both, you can plan for a brighter future, beginning tomorrow.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21)—There is nothing wrong in subjecting yourself to another day if it means clearing up long standing matters and clearing the slate. Also, attend worship so you learn how to live closer to God. P.M. look into health and beauty matters.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21)—A day for serious reflection, whether at services or in own boudoir. Get all of your problems and plans thought out intelligently, find peace of mind. P.M. dash about assisting those who are in need. Schedule new week properly.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22)—If you make it a point to be with true admirer and associates today, you can find a better way to reach your goals and far more easily, at that. But be certain you know what you really want. That is the first step to success.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22)—You realize the number of important things you have forgotten to do now. Devote a good part of this day, after attending worships to putting such tasks behind you. Labor so that you insure basic security.

SCORPIO (Oct 23 to Nov. 21)—It is to your best interests now to place yourself among those persons of excellent mind and moral character who will help you to envision the finest future for yourself. Then begin to take steps in the right direction.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21)—You will receive a wonderful inspiration today which will help you materially with your career in the early future, and you need not sacrifice any ethics. P.M. you also know how to please loved one better.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20)—By giving others the benefit of your knowledge so that they can become more successful in life will soon bring fine rewards your way, too. Tonight, attend to any civic affairs that need your attention.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19)—Think out how you can be more co-operative with fellow workers during the coming week and also more helpful to your dependents. Put abode in the nicest order possible, especially for future entertaining. Get vacation plans completed.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to March 20)—If living according to your astrological chart, you should feel very happy and pleased with yourself today. Let this feeling of peace and happiness be infectious so that others capture it. Good day for anything creative, too. Be joyful.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN SUNDAY

The fine child born Sunday will be either a born salesman or a great business mind. Give as comprehensive an education as pocketbook allows, filling your child's mentality with all the practical knowledge possible, without neglecting the spiritual attainments. Then the oversensitivity in this chart is dispelled. There is great success possible here if your progeny has your guidance and love.

BCPC Chief's 'Pet Project' Power Grid

The B.C. Power Commission will have customers waiting when the Columbia River is developed ". . . in six or seven years," new B.C. Power Commissioner F. A. Lee said today.

Mr. Lee began his new appointment on a full-time basis Thursday, after 32 years with West Kootenay Power and Light Company. He has attended recent meetings of the commission, since his April appointment by commuting from Trail.

Mr. Lee said in interview, his pet project would be creation of a power grid in the province, built by BCPC to connect all major power sources, "then when big industries locate they can get power from anywhere on the grid, where there is a surplus."

At the present time, he said, the Power Commission "is reasonably comfortable" as regards power sources. He noted there is a surplus in the West Kootenays at present and on the Pend Oreille River.

NEWS BRIEFS

Around the World In Sixty Seconds

(From Times News Services)

SPOKANE, Wash.—A B.C. couple filed suit for $1,650,000 Thursday against the former owners of a Honolulu gift shop, contending a "hula" skirt caught fire and permanently injured their daughter.

Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Chapman of New Westminster, filed the suit against Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Brown of George, Wash., and Mr. and Mrs. Merel Chase.

The suit was filed on behalf of the Chapman's minor daughter, Carol Lee.

Satellite Found?

TOKYO — Japanese astronomers believe they have sighted the missing American satellite Explorer IV over Japan. Explorer IV was shot into orbit July 26 last year, from Cape Canaveral, Fla.

Bomb Scare

LONDON—A BOAC airliner bound from Manchester to New York turned back over the Atlantic Thursday because of engine trouble and—at almost the same time—a report that a bomb had been put aboard. The DC-7 airliner landed safely at Shannon Airport in Ireland. No bomb was found.

Lamas Stripped

TOYKO — China's puppet ruler of Tibet, the Pachen Lama, says the big estates of Tibet's lamas will be broken up and the holy men stripped of ancient privileges.

Plot Foiled

BEIRUT, Lebanon—Premier Abdel Karim Kassem of Iraq has apparently slapped down a new Communist effort to seize control of farmers and peasants who form most of Iraq's 6,500,000 population.

Rioters Shot

TRIVANDRUM, India — Police opened fire on anti-Communist demonstrators at nearby Cherlathura today, killing a woman and wounding six other persons.

Death Sentence

BEAUFORT, S.C.—A young Marine Corps private, convicted by a jury of southern white men, was sentenced Thursday to die in the electric chair for raping a 47-year-old Negro woman.

If the electrocution, set for August 14, is carried out, Fred G. Davis, 24, will be the first recorded case of a white man being executed in the United States for the rape of a Negro.

British Press Stirred As Avro Chief Quits

LONDON (CP) — The resignation of Crawford Gordon as president of A. V. Roe (Canada) Limited causes a greater stir in the British press than the Canadian government's decision to buy American fighter aircraft.

Only The Daily Express comments directly on the decision to re-equip the RCAF's European-based air division with Lockheed F-104 Starfighters. The newspaper's aviation writer terms it a "bitter blow" for Britain's aircraft industry, which had hoped to land the order.

Other newspapers discuss the decision in stories that feature the resignation of Gordon. Most discern a direct connection between the two events.

The News Chronicle says that Avro wants the contract to build the American fighter planes under licence and "it was evident that the Canadian firm could hope for no major contract so long as Gordon was at the helm."

LONG-STANDING FEUD

The story refers to his "long-standing feud" with Prime Minister Diefenbaker which it says reached a peak when the Canadian government cancelled its contract *earlier this year for the Avro-*developed CF-105.

The Daily Telegraph says "the unprecedented attack by Mr. Diefenbaker on the company's management earlier this year obviously indicated to Sir Roy Dobson, managing director of the parent Hawker Siddeley group, that if the company wanted further government contracts, changes had to be made."

At Metz, France, headquarters of the RCAF air division which will receive the 1,200-mile-an-hour Starfighters, the government's announcement was received enthusiastically today.

Air Vice - Marshal Larry Wray, air officer commanding the division, said: "This is the best possible news and it has been received with terrific enthusiasm by all members of the division." He said it means that the division will continue "as a top-ranking operational force."

Rites Monday For Widow of Whaling Man

Funeral services will be held Monday at 1.30 p.m. in Christ Church Cathedral for Mrs. Selena Rolls, 88, widow of William Rolls, former manager of Consolidated Whaling Corporation here.

Born in St. Jacques, Nfld., she was a resident of Victoria for 45 years.

She is survived by three daughters, Mrs. C. S. Gonnason and Mrs. Archie Muir of Victoria, and Mrs. R. L. Rideout of Highland Valley, B.C.; five grandchildren and five great-grandchildren.

B.C. Royal Tour Chief Fined $200

VANCOUVER (CP)—Harold Merilees, 51, top business executive and chairman of the Vancouver Royal Tour Committee, was fined $200 Thursday for impaired driving.

A four-month suspension of his driver's licence was postponed until Dec. 1 after his lawyer told Magistrate Gordon Scott that Merilees is a "man of the community and has certain heavy responsibilities forthcoming for the Royal tour and Community Chest" between now and November.

Merilees, executive assistant of British Columbia Electric Company and chairman of the Community Chest, pleaded guilty. He was charged June 28 after police said he drove erratically.

Wheat Acreage Up

OTTAWA (CP) — Prairie grain growers have boosted wheat acreage this year 11 per cent above last year to an estimated 22,557,000 acres, the bureau of statistics reported today.

New Governor?

Gifts for Queen Of Solid Value To Canadians

By The Canadian Press

The current Royal Tour has seen a radical change from the traditionally expensive and often useless gifts for the monarch.

Among the gifts King George VI took back from his tour in 1939 was a solid gold map of Canada, a gift from the federal government.

This time, four provinces and at least three cities have announced scholarship funds, totalling $1,500,000, to honor the Queen's visit.

HINT FROM QUEEN

Before her tour began the Queen is understood to have indicated to officials her hope that any gifts would be designed to help young Canadians.

Plans for gift scholarships have been announced by Ontario, Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta. Halifax, Regina and Saskatoon have honored the Queen's visit with similar gifts.

Besides the scholarships, the federal government has set up a $1,000,000 fund to aid research into the diseases of children. Newfoundland announced a $100,000-a-year fund for research into the education of mentally retarded children and Quebec set up a $250,000 fund for research into heart diseases.

Prince Edward Island, New Brunswick and Nova Scotia have not yet announced their gifts.

BONUS TO NEEDY

British Columbia announced a special bonus payment to the needy and handicapped to mark the visit and said a further, personal gift would be announced later.

The scholarships and research funds reflect a radical change from the traditionally expensive and often useless gifts given on previous royal tours.

Ontario has announced a $500,000 Queen Elizabeth II Ontario scholarship fund.

Alberta's scholarship plan calls for $910,000 annually with the first awards to be handed out in September. The fund is divided into seven tentative categories with about $275,000 going to university undergraduates. Graduate students will receive $40,000, while $480,000 goes to teachers in training. The rest of the fund is divided among high school students, technical and vocational students, nurses and the Banff School of Fine Arts.

Saskatchewan announced a $1,200 scholarship for teachers taking post-graduate studies. The award is renewable annually.

Manitoba announced a $100,000 scholarship to be set up this year but details of its use are not specified.

Among the cities, Halifax will give two $500 scholarships to city students, Saskatoon will present two $300 bursaries and Regina will give five $200 bursaries, all for 1959 only.

Russia Behind In Some Fields

Russia is making tremendous strides but in many scientific fields of endeavor it is behind some other countries, Dr. R. M. Petrie, director of the Dominion Astrophysical Observatory, Saanichton, told a meeting of the Oak Bay Kiwanis Club Thursday.

Dr. Petrie, who attended a meeting of world astrophysicists in Russia a year ago, said that he noted that many of the scientific instruments in the Soviet Union were exact knob-for-knob duplicates of equipment in use in Canada and the United States.

This would indicate, he said, that Russia has taken full advantage of technilogical advances made in the West.

Dr. Petrie described Russia as a land of contrasts where progress and backwardness ran side by side.

"On one side of the street will rise one of the most modern science universities of the world," he said, "and on the other is a soft drink stand that owns a single glass."

"In our hotel room in the most luxurious hotel in Moscow we couldn't get cold water in our room while the tenant above couldn't get hot," he added.

Tanker Blast Kills 3

SETE, France (Reuters) — Oil from a damaged tanker burst into flames on a canal today, killing three persons and sending residents scurrying from the waterside.

Two crew members of the Italian tanker Ombrina were among those killed. The third victim was Lesley Arthur Harris, an Englishman whose yacht was destroyed by the flames. At least two other persons weer injured.

QUEEN AND PHILIP AT STRATFORD

Glittering Theatre Climax to Tiring Day

STRATFORD, Ont. (CP)—A day which began in Ottawa in rain and storm ended here in a night of glittering theatre as the Royal Tour continued its way across Canada.

After leaving Ottawa around midnight, Queen Elizabeth and Prince Philip went by train to Hamilton in the morning, where the prince broke off for a side trip to London, Ont.

The Queen wetn on through Brantford, Galt, Guelph and Kitchener and they joined again here to take in a command performance of As You Like It at the Shakespearean Festival.

'Too Darn Hot' for Feathers

It was a tiring day, especially for the Queen.

At Hamilton Civic Stadium, the Queen rode standing in a jeep and reviewed the Argyll and Sutherland Highlanders.

History was in evidence at Brantford, where the Queen signed the Queen Anne Bible, presented in 1712 to "Her Majesty's Church of the Mohawks."

All Indian chiefs in attendance except one—E. P. Garlow—wore feathers. "Too darn hot," he said.

Unlike Hamilton, where crowds were sparse, the smaller towns along the route turned out thousands to see the Queen. She waved from her car to the groups of persons crowding the intersections.

Meanwhile, Prince Philip was in London, where he presented colors to the Royal Canadian Regiment's first and third battalions, just as he had done to the regiment's second battalion in Soest, Germany, in 1955.

The Queen was radiant in a diamond and pearl tiara and drop diamond earrings. She wore a full-length dress of soft grey, covered with pale rose design. She carried a white fur stole and wore silver dancing slippers.

From there to the sawtoothed outline of the festival theatre, it was pure pageantry, with pipers, drums and bugles. Children hung from trees directly over the royal car and motorcycles as they drove along.

The play pleased the suntanned prince, who leaned forward in his seat several times, smiling and applauding. The Queen, however, was seen to yawn at one stage and, after a short, formal visit back stage, they left for the train and a night's sleep parked on a siding between here and London.

IDEAS CHANGED

U.K. Press Plays Down Royal Tour

LONDON (CP)—The Royal Tour practically dropped out of the news today.

British papers confined themselves to brief, factual accounts, relegated to inside pages, of the whistle-stop tour in Ontario.

Until today, the tour has rated as a top story, although some dispatches have a lean and scrappy look suggesting the editor's pencil has been freely brandished here.

No consistent theme has emerged in British comment on the first two weeks of the tour. The suggestion has been made, most forcefully by The Daily Herald, that this may well be the final "marathon" tour by the Queen and Prince Philip, the idea being that in future one-point visits may be preferred.

Countering this has been the argument that future stress on regional tours would almost certainly invite criticism from communities that don't happen to be on the list.

Some British correspondents have found space for a quick look at Canada and its people. In The Evening Standard, Anne Sharpley has noted Toronto women doing their shopping in shorts and what she calls brassieres, possibly misled by the housewifely habit of wearing halters on excursion to the supermarket.

Patrick O'Donovan of The Observer, a Sunday paper, has lavished hundreds of words on the French-Canadians, whom he calls an "astonishing people." He speaks of Canada's dualism as a "curiously unresolved fusion."

Concurrent Terms for Burglaries

Burglary of two West Burnside businesses brought concurrent sentences of 14 months definite and four months indeterminate to Andrew McGoldrick, 203 Montreal, when he appeared in Saanich police court Thursday.

Magistrate William Ostler ordered the term to be served at Oakalla jail young offenders' unit.

McGoldrick, 21, was found clutching an axe as he tried to hide in grass growing between Handi-Spot Cleaners, 9 West Burnside, and Ball and Shemilt Electronics Ltd., 1 West Burnside.

Police said $5.03 was stolen from the first place, nothing from the second, although both had been entered by means of smashed windows.

Mental Patient Transfer Begins To Kamloops

First transfer of mental patients to the former tuberculosis sanitorium at Tranquille, near Kamloops, takes place July 8, Health Minister Eric Martin announced Thursday.

Those being moved are male patients, aged 20 to 40, who are now resident at Woodlands School, New Westminster.

The shift will be made by special bus carrying 25 patients and members of the staff. It is planned to transfer 130 patients during the next year and another 130 the year after.

SOLUTION—MONDAY

ask Andy
HE GIVES AWAY GRAND PRIZES

Is there something you want to know? Do you want to win a set of valuable books or other instructive prizes? Then ask Andy.

Andy will answer questions submitted by child readers and those who submit the questions he selects to answer will receive worthwhile prizes.

The youngster who asks the first question answered each day receives a 15-volume set of Compton's Pictured Encyclopedia (Canadian edition) and of the second question a Hammond Atlas or Globe.

Address your questions to "Ask Andy," Victoria Daily Times.

Andy sends a complete, 15-volume set of Compton's Pictured Encyclopedia to Judith Appleton, age 12, of Ottawa, Ont., for her question:

What is the Zodiac?

Man has always been a stargazer and, even before the dawn of history, he noticed that certain constellations return with the seasons. He noticed especially 12 constellations which seem to parade around the earth each year, one behind another. They are the 12 constellations of the zodiac and they occupy a belt across the sky 16 degrees wide. The sun, the moon and most of the planets also appear in this zodiac belt.

The word zodiac means circle of animals and perhaps at one time the signs or constellations were all named for animals. The present sign of the zodiac is always the one occupied by the sun. During a year, the sun occupies all 12 of the zodiac signs, one after another.

In the spring months, the sun passes from the zodiac constellation Aries the Ram, through Taurus the Bull and Gemini the Twins. During the summer months it occupies first Cancer the Crab, then Leo the Lion and Virgo the Maiden. During the fall it occupies Libra the Scales, Scorpius the Scorpion and Sagittarius the Archer. During the winter the sun passes through Capricornus the Goat, Aquarius the Water Carrier and Pisces the Fish.

These constellations were named in early times and have had their present names for at least 2,000 years. Each occupies 30 degrees of sky, which is one 12th of the entire zodiac circle. The constellations do not all fit neatly into their signs. Pisces sprawls over into Aquarius and between Aries and Taurus there is a starless gap. Nevertheless, the constellations of the zodiac are a convenient way to mark the seasons.

Occupies Signs in Turn

As the earth moves around its orbit, the sun is always directly between us and one of the signs of the zodiac. The sun is then said to occupy this sign. The spring months begin when the sun moves into the Aries sign. The sun is then between Aries and the earth. Aries is in the daytime sky, invisible to us because it is out-dazzled by the glory of the sun. We see it only briefly just before dawn and just after sunset. At this time the night sky shows the spring constellations Leo and Virgo. We do not have to look across the sun splattered hole in the doughnut to see them because they are on the opposite side of the zodiac from Aries.

Andy sends a Hammond's Nature Atlas of America to Raymond Streb, age 12, of Rochester, N.Y., for his question:

How can a fly walk on walls and ceilings?

Mr. Fly can walk straight up a wall and upside down over a ceiling and he can do these acrobatics whether the surface is rough, smooth or even slippery. To do these feats, the pesky little fellow has special feet, six of them.

Each foot ends with two strong claws which look like a pair of cow's horns. These claws help the fly to cling to a rough surface, and a surface which may look smooth to you may seem rough to a tiny fly.

In addition to the claws for grappling over a rough surface, the fly has two hairy pads under each foot. These pads give off a sticky goo, just strong enough to support the fly's weight. This is what helps him to walk over a smooth or even slippery surface. With his sticky pads and clinging claws he can walk up any wall and over any ceiling.

CITY MAN SETS SETS OUT

'Beachcombers' Hike All Way to New York

SANTA BARBARA, Calif. (AP)—A couple of fellows set out on a walk along the beach the other day—to New York.

Their route: Los Angeles, San Diego, the peninsula of lower California, the west coast of Mexico and Central America, along the Panama Canal, then up the east coast of the continent.

Former Victorian, Don Jenkin, 22, and Frank Culy, 21, figure it will take them 18 months. They started last Saturday without a cent, saying they plan to live off the land.

Each took a machete, hunting knife, two changes of clothes, a compass, maps, knapsacks, blankets, first-aid kits, flashlights and toilet articles, plus 20 pounds of food, enough, they figure, for two months.

They hope to cover 45 miles a day. They won't leave the shore unless they absolutely have to.

Jenkin, originally from Victoria, and Culy, of Oakland, Calif., met last year. Both have recently been on construction projects here.

NEW YORK — In this era of "The Big Rich," when there are more multimillionaires than there used to be millionaires, when "everydoby" has a house in town, one in the country and one in the south of France, the yacht is coming back.

And do you know who the new yacht owners are? Texans, of course. There was a brief decline in yacht sales, though, this week. Several Texans discovered land on their oil.

Toots Shor's new place (at 31-33 W. 52nd St. or thereabouts) will open around March or April. A plan of the new restaurant, by the famous Charles Luckman firm, showing a swanky canopy, etc., was available for guests at the Toots' testimonial. (Toots is being urged to open an interim spot called "Toots' Temporary.") Some cracks at the party: Jackie Gleason (drinking scotch at the table): "This is the best soup I ever tasted." . . . Tom Meany the m.c.: "Ford Frick just ordered bourbon, the first decisive move he's made in five years." . . . When Craig Wood presented Toots with a set of woods which turned out to be irons, Bill Morrow said: "Toots'll never know the difference" . . . Toots (talking about his "wonderful store" meaning saloon) said: "You're here just to see a saloon-keeper. Nobody comes to see you guys anywhere!"

John Wayne literally cried at Toots' nostalgic speech; Don Ameche and most everybody got misty-eyed when Quentin Reynolds read a letter which Toots' son, Roy, now eight, is to read in 1972, when he is 21.

300 Militiamen Start Five-Day Island Camps

Nearly 300 militiamen from nine lower mainland reserve army units Wednesday started five-day camps at Albert Head and Nanaimo.

They were brought to Vancouver Island by the RCN frigates Jonquiere and New Waterford.

Six of the nine units taking part will be at Albert Head.

The troops are scheduled to embark from Nanaimo Sunday following official visits by Brig. R. T. DuMuoulin, commander of 24 Militia Group, and Brig. J. W. Bishop, B.C. Area commander.

Sunshine Queen Wins Roar of London Pride

(See Also Page 26)

LONDON, Ont. (CP)—The Queen and Prince Philip kicked off the seventh day of their Royal Tour of Ontario in a scorching sun today. They took this picturesque old city by storm.

Upwards of 60,000 people — some leathery veterans of the Boer War and the Riel Rebellion and many wildly cheering school children—jammed the main arteries and tree-lined boulevards to welcome the royal couple.

The Queen and Prince, who arrived here from Stratford at 9.54 a.m., spent 21 minutes longer than their scheduled stay of one hour. They departed by royal train for Chatham at 11.15 a.m., 15 minutes late. They had arrived six minutes early.

The Queen, who appeared tired Thursday night after a whirlwind tour of six Ontario cities, was a striking figure in her cherry-red and white-spotted silk dress as she and the Prince drove four miles from the CNR station to Little Memorial Stadium on the shrub-studded University of Western Ontario campus.

The weather was fit for royalty. Although it was about 83 degrees it didn't seem to bother the royal couple.

About 10,000 people crowded around the CNR station in south-central London as the Queen and Philip stepped from the train and walked across $10,000 worth of red carpeting to be welcomed by 55-year-old Mayor J. A. Johnston. It was Mayor Johnston who welcomed the Queen mother and father during the Royal Tour in 1939.

The ceremony in front of the station was brief. The party then drove four blocks past banks of shouting people to City Hall, where the Queen signed the guest book.

The Queen wrote with the same pen her father, the late King George VI, used twenty years ago.

The Queen accepted a set of bronze bookends and a $2,000 scholarship as a gift from the city. The couple then went to the stadium in a convertible to be welcomed by some 16,000 people there. Thousands in the crowd were school children who spilled over from the bleachers on to the closely cropped turf.

About 40 city and township officials were presented to Her Majesty and the royal procession headed back to the train.

Minutes after the tour began the Queen was asked to accept a bouquet of yellow tea roses from Mary Jane Kennedy, a 24-year-old blonde beauty. Miss Kennedy presented a bouquet to the King and Queen 20 years ago.

"I was only four years old then," she said. "I don't think I really appreciated it. But this time it was different. I was thrilled. This was one of the most exciting moments of my life."

Mary Jane, studying to be a nurse, is the great - great - granddaughter of Murray Anderson, first mayor of London in 1855.

The Queen walked through ranks of old war veterans after accepting the bouquet. She stopped to chat with Sergeant William Mills, 93, who fought in the Riel Rebellion in 1855.

The Queen, a straw hat with cherry-colored ribbon on her head and wearing elbow-length white gloves, said:

"You're a remarkable old gentleman."

Just as sharp as he looked, the sergeant replied: "You're a remarkable young lady."

"That's a long time ago, the North-West Rebellion," said the Queen.

"Yes, indeed, it was, Your Majesty."

The old veteran wasn't spruced up in his uniform. He looked more like a financial tycoon in his dapper grey suit and homburg. The Prince, tanned and smiling, stood by, handsome in his blue suit.

As the royal train pulled out, elderly folks seemed reluctant to depart. Some of them picked up souvenirs of the red carpet—pieces from workmen who made last minute trimmings of the covering—as souvenirs of the tour.

The Queen and Prince will be remembered in London.

SORRY GABRIEL, NOT YET

Back and blowing in New York today, Louis Armstrong joked about his bout of pneumonia in Italy, which sparked rumors of a serious heart attack. Louis is 59 on Saturday, said he never felt better, despite fact that "Bix (late trumpeter Bix Beiderbecke) tried to get me up there to play his first horn."

Canada Can't Afford Air Defence—Pearson

OTTAWA (CP)—Opposition Leader Pearson today renewed his suggestion that Canada get out of the air defence business.

He said in a continuing Commons defence debate that this country can't afford to provide air defence against nuclear attack and conventional forces at the same time.

But more emphasis should be placed on conventional forces to prevent limited wars turning into all-out nuclear conflict. Canada could supply an airborne brigade group if it reduced its air defence commitments.

Attendance in the 265-seat chamber fell to the quorum of 20 while Mr. Pearson was speaking. One committee was meeting. At the same time, there were 21 defence department officials in the gallery ready to provide answers to members' questions on defence.

TIME "APPROACHING"

Defence Minister Pearkes said in reply to Mr. Pearson that the stage is fast approaching when Canada and the United States can sign an agreement for use of American nuclear weapons by Canadian forces.

Mr. Pearson asked whether Canada would be in the same position as the United Kingdom which had control of U.S. nuclear weapons in its hands.

Mr. Pearkes said he could say nothing more until the negotiations were completed.

Mr. Pearson said Canada must have control over the atomic weapons allotted to its troops.

Mr. Pearkes said this matter is under active consideration and the subject of negotiation.

Prime Minister Diefenbaker said Feb. 20 that American nuclear weapons stores in Canada would remain under U.S. custody.

SOUTH AFRICAN WINS BRITISH GOLF 'OPEN'

2 Cabinet Men Deny Tory 'Finger' in CBC

OTTAWA (CP)—Two members of the cabinet said today they do not recall receiving representations from Quebec Progressive Conservative MPs criticizing or seeking cancellation of public affairs talks on the CBC's French-language radio and television networks.

Revenue Minister Nowlan, who reports to Parliament for the publicly-owned CBC, and Solicitor-General Balcer, senior cabinet member from Quebec, were replying in the Commons to questions by Alexis Caron (L-Hull) and H. J. Robichaud (L-Gloucester).

Mr. Caron said a story in Thursday's Toronto Star stated that last winter at least two confidential documents criticizing the talks and public affairs branch of the CBC's French-language network "were prepared by a group of Quebec Conservatives and submitted to the government."

Mr. Nowlan said Thursday he made no "representations" to the CBC for removal of the controversial Preview Commentary radio program.

PRAYER FOR TODAY

Heavenly Father, we give Thee thanks for the comforting companionship of the Holy Spirit, for the living presence of One Who is concerned with our affairs. Awaken us from our spiritual dullness, that we may obey His promptings and beckonings. May we yield our wills to the promptings of Thy Spirit, that we may know His strengthening joy and His victorious power. Amen.

Wicks Drops Attempt To Settle IWA Dispute

Castro Battles Plotters

HAVANA (UPI)—Fidel Castro will summon half a million Cuban peasants to Havana July 26 "with their machetes" to demonstrate popular support for his revolutionary government.

The beaded prime minister spoke on television shortly after his secret police announced discovery of a vast anti-government conspiracy operating in the heart of the capital.

Police said they had arrested "many" Cubans and seized "great quantities" of uniforms, arms and ammunition. The manhunt continued today and police said more arrests were imminent.

Castro's speech bristled with challenges to the Dominican Republic. He denounced "international interests." He flayed his air force chief who resigned and disappeared after charging there were Communists in the government.

U.S. RAPPED

Castro rapped the United States by saying that henchmen of Fulgencio Batista in exile in Florida "each day have more influence and official aid."

Castro's revolutionary force which overthrew Batista's dictatorship was known as the 26th of July movement after the date on which it started with an abortive uprising in 1953.

He said assembling the peasants in the capital on that day would show the world the force of his revolution, which he considers still in progress.

The Cuban secret police pressed their gangbusting manhunt in an effort to wipe out the conspiracy to overthrow the government.

Secret police chief Erundino Vilela said the gang was responsible for a recent outbreak of sabotage and terrorism in the greater Havana area and had planned assassinations as the next stage of its operation.

FIVE KILLED IN FLAMING CAR SMASH

SPOKANE, Wash. (AP)—A speeding car smashed into the concrete abutment of an overpass on a super highway early today, then burst into flames. The driver and all four passengers were killed.

Four of the bodies were burned beyond recognition and hours later they still were unidentified. Police said the accident may have been caused by the driver dozing at the wheel.

RENTS, POTATOES HIGH

Cost of Living Again Climbs

OTTAWA (CP) — Canadian living costs rose in May, largely as a result of higher potato prices and steeper rents, and pushed the consumer price index up by three-tenths of a point to 125.9 on June 1, the Bureau of Statistics reported today.

The rise, from 125.6 on May 1, was the second monthly increase in a row following a five-month decline in the index. The index is based on 1949 prices equalling 100.

Its June 1 level of 125.9 compares with the record high point of 126.3 last Nov. 1, and with 125.1 June 1 last year.

Wages rose slightly in April after a slight dip caused by the Easter holiday in March. The index of average industrial wages and salaries at May 1—latest date for which figures are available — was 170.5, based on 1949 equalling 100. This was up from 169 April 1 and 170.2 March 1.

The index is computed from a survey of firms employing more than 15 persons and covering a wide range of industries. It represents an average of total wages paid.

INSURANCE UP

The bureau said the higher cost of shelter in May was also due in part to a 6 per cent increase in fire insurance rates.

In other fields of expenditure, Canadians faced higher prices for a wide range of pharmaceuticals, train fares, interurban bus fares and gasoline — with the end of the gasoline price wars during the month.

Workers Leave Woods Monday

By PETE LOUDON

Last-minute personal intervention of Labor Minister Lyle Wicks in the threatening strike of B.C. woodworkers failed this morning and the 26,600-member union prepared to "hit the bricks" Monday morning.

Following a morning-long meeting at Vancouver Hotel with leaders of the International Woodworkers of America, and representatives of Forest Industrial Relations who speak for lumber operators, the minister blamed management for the impasse.

He washed his hands of further attempts at negotiation.

"That's it. I am disappointed and annoyed," he said.

He said he knows of no further meetings planned by the opposing factions before the strike deadline at 11 a.m. Monday.

The minister added there were no plans by his department to enter again into the dispute.

Loggers Ready for Long Seige

Meantime, IWA officials gave final instructions to picket control committees, prepared placards, and made ready for a long siege.

Despite instructions to loggers to stay in the woods until Monday, it was reported a general exodus from outlying camps is already underway in some strength — in fact, it started as early as Tuesday, the eve of the Dominion Day holiday.

Several outlying camps were reported running short-handed —"on short shifts."

One official said the woods crews actually have been short-handed in many places since May. "Everybody is going into construction, where they are offering more stable employment."

The labor minister issued a formal statement following meetings this morning in his hotel room, held with each side separately.

Some Progress Made With IWA

"During my discussions with top officers of the IWA, I feel some progress was made," the statement said, and continued: "My meeting between representatives of industry, through the Forest Industrial Relations indicated clearly, there was no basis for entering into or carrying on further negotiations at this stage.

"I am keenly disappointed in the attitude of management as expressed through their spokesmen, representatives of Forest Industrial Relations."

The FIR represents some 126 firms. The minister said the FIR representatives were "a lot more reticent" than the IWA. In a statement last week, the minister noted the IWA was not willing to co-operate.

The union is demanding a 20-per-cent wage increase over a base rate of $1.72 an hour. A majority recommendation by a conciliation board favored a seven per cent raise in a two-year contract, which was acceptable to management.

More than 90 per cent of its members have voted to strike against the operators.

Mr. Wicks has said a woodworkers' strike would cost British Columbia industry $1,000,000 a day. He said today before meeting with union and employer representatives:

"The government will not sit idly by in a situation of this kind. I'm meeting separately with both parties and we'll see what they have to offer."

The government has no power to prevent a strike.

MODERN DAVID PUTS NEW TWIST TO OLD TALE

CITY SHAREHOLDER WINS SUIT AGAINST LABATTS

By HAL MALONE

David slew Goliath again Thursday.

This time the scene of battle was B.C. Supreme Court Chambers in Vancouver instead of at Ephesdammin in the valley of Elah.

The upset victory occurred when Mr. Justice A. M. Manson ruled in favor of "David", personified by Victoria chartered accountant G. F. Dunn, his wife and Sooke Investments Ltd. in their fight against "Goliath", the giant brewing firm of John Labatt Ltd.

The "Davids", facing what investment and legal experts regarded as insurmountable odds, had asked the court to set aside a previous ruling which compelled them to sell their handful (1,260) of shares in Lucky Lager Brewing Co. to the "Goliath", Labatts.

After four hearings, Mr. Justice Manson declared invalid an arrangement under which minority Lucky shareholders would be compelled to sell to Labatts.

He accepted the argument of Mr. Dunn and his counsel J. G. McIntosh that Labatt's offer of $5.25 per share "was not a fair and equitable one."

Mr. Dunn estimated the value of his holdings at from $6.18 to $8.40 per share, based on different evaluation methods.

The jurist's judgment climaxed a 14-month battle by the Dunns and Sooke Investments.

Ever since May 8, 1958, when Labatt's first offered to purchase their holdings at $5.25 each the Dunns and Sooke Investments have fought to keep their Lucky shares.

DARKEST MOMENT

When they continued to resist Labatts offers, the brewing firm obtained an ex parte (only one side appearing) order from Mr. Justice Ruttan last November compelling them to sell.

The Dunns' darkest moment came in February when Mr. Justice A. D. Macfarlane temporarily stalled their application to have the "sell" order set aside. He ruled that the applicants could not call witnesses to testify, then left the door open by advising them that they could produce evidence later by means of affidavit (sworn written testimony).

This they did. On June 23 they presented an intensive, detailed argument before Mr. Justice Manson.

He became so interested in the application he tried to absent himself from daily chamber matters so he could hear the argument without interruptions. Because of a "shortage of judges" he was compelled to hear the application after routine chamber sessions.

VIOLATED ACT

Thursday he said the agreement under which the shareholders would be required to sell at $5.25 per share was invalid because Labatts had not complied with the Companies Act in making its original offer to Lucky shareholders. He ordered Labatts to pay costs of the action.

The judge said the company "failed to observe" Section 128 of the Companies Act when it offered to acquire a 51 per cent interest in Lucky Lager on May 9, 1958, and the following month announced its intention to buy all the shares of Lucky.

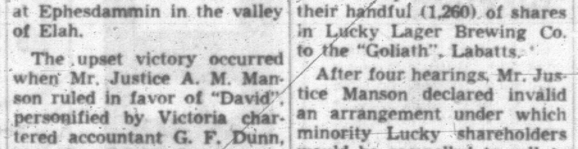
"There must be strict compliance with the law in such matters. The two Labatt letters were not such as the law requires."

Mr. Justice Manson said it was not for him to fix the value of the shares but he found Mr. Dunn's evidence "more satisfactory" than that put forward by Labatts counsel.

The judge said he found it "difficult to understand" the steps taken by Labatts.

They had obtained 98.28 per cent of the shares and "why they want the rest I cannot understand."

Mr. Dunn owns 60 Lucky shares, his wife 200 shares and Sooke Investments 1,000. Labatts own 1,803,150 shares.



Seems t' be thet one of a revolutionary's fust troubles is with revolutionaries.

Mister Dunn got th' brewery boys over a barrel.

Strikes seem a purty expensive method o' forest conservation.

NO U.S. STOCKS

NEW YORK (AP)—U.S. security and commodity markets are closed today for an extended Independence Day weekend. Because New York banks are open, there will be foreign exchange quotations.

MARKET SUMMARY

Trading Dull But Industrial Stocks Move Up

Industrials and base metals were the leaders at Toronto today as the stock market moved ahead in dull mid-afternoon trading.

Despite a lack of leadership from New York, where markets are closed for the Independence Day holiday, industrials at one point set a new index mark with a better than two-point win to boost their rating to 545.50.

Base metals were up more than one point while western oils added nearly one-half. Golds, ahead in morning trading, slipped back a few decimal points.

Among industrials banks, steels and pipelines were higher. Other groups were generally mixed. Canadian Tire had the big win, up 5 at 190.

Hudson Bay added 1¼ at 53¼ and Steep Rock gained ⅛ at 13⅝ in base metals. Uraniums were easier. Consolidated Denison dipped ⅛ at 15⅛.

Golds lost as Hollinger and Kerr-Addison were ¼ easier. Dome added ¼ at 19 while other moves were in pennies.

Central Del Rio added 25 cents at $7.50 for the best win in western oils.

AT MONTREAL most stock groups were higher mainly in a fractional range today in quiet early afternoon trading.

Dominion Iron gained one point at 5¾ in steels but in papers Powell River dropped two points to 30½. Others were fractionally higher.

In beverages Labatt's dropped ½ at 29. Other issues were higher with Canadian Malting up 1½ at 68½ and Canadian Breweries up ⅜ at 40¼.

Among utilities Bathurst Power B gained ½ at 30½ and Newfoundland Light gained one point at 49.

General Dynamics rose 1½ at 54 and A. V. Roe gained ⅛ at 10⅞.

Most speculative issues were steady with the exception of Mitchell B down 25 cents at 3.50. New Mylama down 48 cents at 1.52 and St. Lawrence River down 10 cents to 4.30.

Industrial volume was 66,700 shares, mines and oils 146,900.

AT LONDON there was renewed firmness with selective support stimulated by the further overnight advance on Wall Street and the satisfactory June gold and convertible currency reserve figures.

Gilt-edged securities, however, were quiet and narrowly irregular.

Dollar stocks were again adjusted to higher levels. Among Canadian issues, A. V. Roe was strong.

Industrials were generally firm, leading oils were mainly better while gold shares were quiet and irregular.

AT VANCOUVER prices were unchanged on a dull market during the forenoon.

Vantor moved 1,200 at 71. Bethlehem Copper traded 1,800 at $1.38. Cowichan Copper sold 1,000 at 68. Canadian Collieries moved 1,300 at $7.25.

TODAY'S GRAIN

WINNIPEG (CP) — Fairly active trading in flax, with export and international accounts making purchases, featured business today on the Winnipeg Grain Exchange.

The activity was accompanied by reports that 240,000 bushels of flax had been purchased for export to East Germany. Prices moved higher under the strong demand.

Oats and barley dealings were slow and mostly domestic. Interest from American agents was limited by the Independence Day holiday in the United States.

Rye trade was small and prices moved narrowly.

No information was available on overnight loadings of Canadian wheat.

Lakehead prices for Class 2, IWA and domestic wheat all were unchanged from Thursday.

Canadian Life Underwriter Sid Smith was accepting double congratulations last week.

Mr. Smith assumed the presidency of the Victoria Chapter, Canadian Life Underwriters, when incumbent John Wodell was transferred by his firm to Trail.

Almost at the same time Mr. Smith took over as top man in the Victoria Liberal Association when president Hugh Ramsay resigned for business reasons.

Canadian National Railways showed a net operating profit of $736,000 in May, up slightly from the May, 1958, net profit of $694,000. CNR's revenues amounted to $62,929,000. Expenses totalled $62,193,000. To the end of May the company has an operating deficiency of $4,242,000 compared with $18,327,000 for the same period last year.

Net profits of Canadian Breweries Ltd. fell off slightly—from $1,722,866 or 52 cents per common share to $1,377,216 or 40 cents—in the second quarter of 1959. But sales of $63,595,287 brought sales for the first half of the year to $131,323,084—a new high or 4.7 per cent higher than last year's volume of $125,384,709. The company's working capital of $34,128,243 compares with $38,156,992 a year ago. Funded debt is down $3,964,500; net fixed assets are up $1,594,070 and other assets increased by $2,376,091. Earned surplus was $53,557,808 at April 30.

Empire Development Co. and Consolidated Mining and Smelting Co. have entered an agreement whereby Cominco will investigate the Quatsino Copper-Gold Mines Ltd. property in the Port McNeill area of northern Vancouver Island for copper ore.

Empire acquired the property from Quatsino which retains an interest in it. Iron concentrates totalling 305,000 tons were produced from the mine last year.

A leading Canada-U.S. auto insurance firm reports that bodily injury liability and property damage frequencies are double for young drivers who have not taken high school driver training courses over those who have.

The company has kept statistics on the injury and damage frequencies of both drivers since 1954 when it first offered premium discounts to high school trained drivers under 25 years. Since the courses are attended on a voluntary basis, the company believes that attendance alone indicates the driver is safety-conscious.

Happiest young woman at last week's luncheon of Victoria Chapter, Canadian Life Underwriters, was Betty Salmon, 3835 Tillicum. The fact she was the only woman present (female CLUs being as rare as interest-free bank loans) had nothing to do with it.

Miss Salmon, a graduate of Mt. View High School, attended to pick up a $100 cheque. To earn it she had produced the best essay among 40 competitors on "What Life Insurance Means to Me and My Family." Her introductory paragraph was succinct and the key to victory. It read: "Life insurance is a co-operative enterprise through which a large number of people are assured protection on a risk-sharing basis against the uncertainties of life."

Somewhat surprised and slightly nervous Betty declined to make an acceptance speech. But her father, Henry Salmon, did it nicely. Said he:

"I have never been pressured to buy life insurance. It has never been sold to me. I have always bought it. Fortunately for me, I have always encountered life insurance representatives in Victoria who took the time to give me all the information and guidance I needed."

Powerful Man Sought In Nanaimo Slaying

Robbery Revealed As Motive

Police at Nanaimo today stated they are looking for a "powerful" man as the only type of person who could have committed the savage slaying sometime after 6 a.m. Saturday of Andrew Kostynuk, 62, and his wife, Lizzie, 55.

They were found by a neighbor Tuesday evening in their neat South Wellington home, five miles south of Nanaimo. Both had been viciously stabbed—Mrs. Kostynuk twice and Mr. Kostynuk five times to the heart.

RCMP now are convinced robbery was the motive for the savage knife slaying. First reports of robbery were discounted by police, but it is nown that a suitcase had been slashed, dresser drawers pulled open, and that money known to have been in Mr. Kostynuk's person, said between $60 and $100, was missing.

INSTANT DEATH

Although earlier reports of the tragedy indicated the victims had died a lingering death, investigation revealed they had died almost instantly.

They were found Tuesday night by a friend, Mrs. Evelyn Gueullette, who had come to call on Mrs. Kostynuk.

Sgt. Peter Gregory of Victoria is leading the investigation.

Last time at which Mr. Kostynuk is known to have been alive was Saturday at 6 a.m., when he returned from a poker game in Nanaimo. Although not a gambler in the accepted sense of the word, he was an ardent and apparently capable poker player, and acquaintances are convinced that at times he had more than $1,000 in cash on his person.

QUIET MAN

He never "flashed" the money, however, nor mentioned carrying it. A quiet and orderly man, he was employed by Comox Logging & Railway Co. Ltd. at Nanaimo Lakes operations as a powderman.

Dr. H. W. Lewis, coroner, opened an inquest Thursday night to have the bodies viewed, then adjourned it indefinitely.

It was reported that the wounds were made by either an "angry, vicious, or powerful" man.

Mrs. Kostynuk had been born in South Wellington and lived there all her life, and her husband came from Poland.

Surviving are a son, John, Burnaby; a daughter, Mrs. J. C. Phillips, Nanaimo; five grandchildren; Mrs. Kostynuk's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Hosko, Seattle, and two brothers and eight sisters in Seattle and California.

Funeral services for the two will be held in Nanaimo Saturday at 2 p.m.

Natural Gas Line Still Hope

B.C. Electric officials here were still hopeful today they could supply natural gas to Greater Victoria, despite withdrawal of one of the companies which had planned a pipeline to the mainland.

R. M. Bond, president of Island Transmission Company, said Thursday, his company would withdraw its application to pipe natural gas to Vancouver Island, because the project was uneconomic.

He said the fuel would have stiff competition from California fuel oil.

A B.C. Electric spokesman said his company ". . . . is extremely interested in natural gas in Victoria and we have great hopes a pipeline to the Island can be carried out."

MANY SURVEYS

The company has been making surveys for five years and will distribute natural gas over existing lines in the Greater Victoria area, "depending on whether it can be retailed to local customers at an economical price."

A Public Utilities hearing which opens in Victoria courthouse Monday is expected to clarify the question of "economic prices."

The Island Transmission Company president said California oil can be delivered here for $2.30 a barrel. Natural gas will cost about $3 for the same heat units.

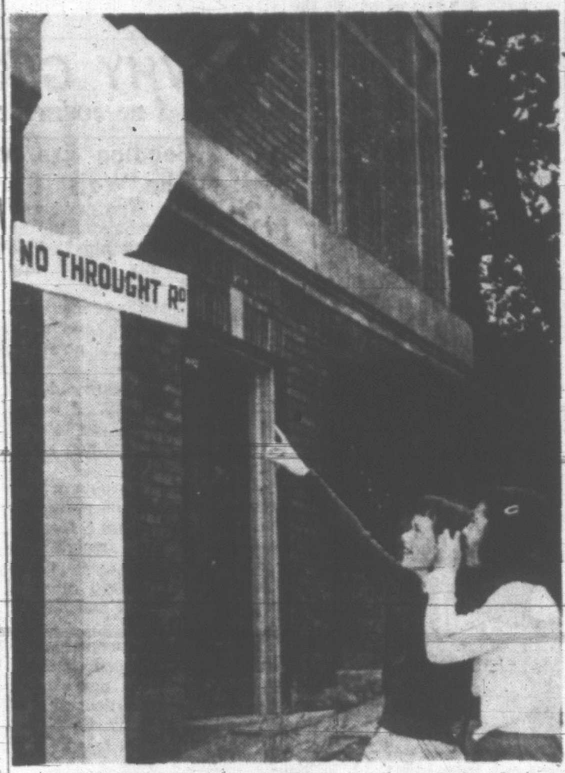
Because of this the company would not go ahead with its application "at the moment," said Mr. Bond.

Magna Pipeline Company Ltd., the second company planning a Vancouver Island pipeline, said it will appear before the Public Utilities Commission in Victoria Monday. Hearings are expected to last for three days.

TOUGH DEAL

President Ralph Farris, who is also president of Northern Ontario Natural Gas Company, said a pipeline would be a "tough deal" but that the fuel oil price is unlikely to remain at its present low level.

He said surplus oil now is being shipped to Vancouver Island. A number of projects planned in the United States would use up that surplus within the next few years and island industries would have to depend on Canadian supplies.



EMBARRASSED RED TINT decorated the faces of city painters today when these two Willows School pupils spotted an error in black and white on Verrinder Street sign at Oak Bay Junction. Joyce Kerr, 8, points out the extra "t" to friend Collean Martin, 10. Same mistake was made on signs at Summit and Blackwood. "It must have been a slip of the brush," wailed city engineer James Garnett. (Photo by Ian McKain.)

Forest 'Giants' Merger Must Pass U.S. Regulations

Directors of the Powell River Co. and MacMillan and Bloedel today moved to set in gear the mechanics of their proposed $355,000,000 forest industries merger. Because each company has large U.S. shareholders, the merger must comply with the U.S. Securities Commission as well as Canadian securities and tax laws.

Shareholders of both companies received letters outlining the amalgamation plan, basis of which is seven shares of Powell River for six shares of M & B.

While directors of the proposed new company, MacMillan, Bloedel and Powell River Ltd. have not met to set up a single directorate, it is expected that H. R. MacMillan will be appointed honorary chairman of the board.

Other posts are expected to be filled by: J. V. Clyne, chairman; Harold S. Foley, vice-chairman; M. J. Foley, president; Ralph M. Shaw, executive vice-president. At present Mr. MacMillan is chairman of M & B's finance committee; Mr. Clyne is chairman of the board of M & B; Harold Foley is chairman of Powell River's board; M. J. Foley is its president, and Mr. Shaw is M & B president.

A spokesman for the Powell River Co. today denied that the intended merger would give the new company control of 42 per cent of B.C.'s total forest production.

"There are too many factors to set an accurate figure," the spokesman said.

The spokesman also denied the planned merger will make the new company "the colossus" some sources say it will be.

COMBINED SALES

Combined net sales of Powell River and M & B total $225,000,000. This is lower than the net sales last year of Bowater, $294,000,000; Container Corp. of America, $259,000,000; Celanese Corp. of America (which controls Columbia Cellulose), $265,000,000; International Paper, $919,000,000; Kimberley-Clark, $335,000,000; Scott Paper (which controls B.C. Forest Products), $270,000,000; St. Regis Paper, $376,000,000, and Weyerhauser (in Washington), $417,000,000.

Meanwhile in Ottawa Justice Minister Fulton said the federal combines branch is making its customary review of the proposed merger. He was replying to a question from Frank Howard (CCF-Skeena). Mr. Fulton said it is an automatic procedure for the branch to look into big mergers and this is being done.

TWO VICTORIA AIRMEN taking part in Queen's July 17 flypast will be, left, FO Val D. Cretney and FO Robert A. Sherratt. Both are jet navigators.

FLYPAST JULY 17

Victoria Airmen In Royal Salute

Sixteen warplanes based on Vancouver Island will swoop low over Beacon Hill Park July 17 in a salute to Queen Elizabeth.

The flypast will include a large letter "E" flown by 10 speedy CF-100 twin jet interceptors following six Neptune patrol planes in two "V" formations.

The aerial salute, similar to the flypast for Princess Margaret here last year, will wheel overhead as the Queen presents Regimental Colors to the 1st Battalion, Princess Patricia's Canadian Light Infantry in the park.

Offshore, a dozen warships will form a nautical backdrop to the military ceremony.

Flying in the jet formation will be three Greater Victoria airmen: pilot F/O Henry H. Sands, 21, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry R. Sands, of Sidney; navigator F/O Robert A. Sherratt, 29, son of Mr. and Mrs. Sydney Sherratt, 2725 Musgrave; and navigator F/O Val D. Cretney, 27, son of Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Cretney, 736 Daffodil.

All are members of the 409 Squadron based at Comox.

The jet flight will be led by 38-year-old F/L Bruce Inrig, who married the former Caroline Cornwall, 4025 Lacarno Lane.

Four of the jets also will salute the Queen with a flypast July 16 at Nanaimo when she arrives there aboard HMCS Assiniboine. Four Neptunes of 407 Maritime Squadron will patrol the sealanes ahead of the vessel as it brings Her Majesty and Prince Phillip to the Island from Vancouver.

Saanich Man Fined $75 for Public Mischief

Stanley John Bullivant, 3521 Douglas, was fined $75 in Saanich police court Thursday on a charge of causing a public mischief.

The 17-year-old transferred from juvenile court, pleaded guilty to giving police false information, on which they acted to carry out a fruitless investigation.

He said a car was racing around an island at the intersection of Douglas and Trans-Canada Highway in a dangerous manner, and later admitted he thought it would be fun to see the police "chasing around."

TRAFFIC FINES

In city police court today:

Gordon A. Green, 1700 Foul Bay, careless driving, $40.

Marion I. Underwood, 5172 West Saanich, no driver's licence, $25.

Edward Bittman, 961 Esquimalt Road, no driver's licence, $25.

ASK The TIMES

Q. Have you any information on the chicken egg-laying records? M.F.

A. Greatest authenticated record is 355 eggs in 365 days by a black Australorp at the Glen Agricultural College laying test, South Africa, in 1944-45. There have been unsubstantiated reports from Japan that this has been exceeded.

Q. Did Joe Louis and Tommy Farr ever fight 20 rounds for the heavyweight championship of the world? If they did, what year? C.C.T.

Q. They never fought 20 rounds. Farr lasted the full route of 15 rounds on Aug. 30, 1937, in a world championship bout. Louis won.

Anyone wishing a question answered is invited to send the problem along to The Times, addressed to "Ask the Times" Editor. Questions and answers will be published daily.

All questions should deal with matters of fact and be of general interest. The Times does not undertake to solve conundrums or legal problems. Nor will it attempt to put a value on old coins, stamps or antiques. These should be submitted to dealers.

PIGEONS SET FOR FLIGHT OVER ROCKIES

Thirty-three perky pigeons are on their way to Edmonton, Alberta today—to start a grueling, hazardous 600-mile race to Victoria. The birds, owned by Bert Owens, 3332 Painter Road, were shipped by CNR Express for release Monday in Edmonton and are shown in the picture above booking passage. Assisting in the "paper work" are Mr. Owens, son Robbie, and Dick Benwell, CNR clerk. The pigeons will attempt to beat an all-time record set two years ago by Revived Hope, who made the epic flight in 42 hours. In the new attempt for a record Mr. Owens pins his hope on Louise, a saucy bird but a strong and swift flyer. "I think she will make it," he said. "She has the makings of a winner." About half the birds are not expected to complete the journey, due to hazardous conditions along the route. "Worst danger for the birds," said Mr. Owens, "is weather. Heavy rains or fog could get them lost." Another danger are hawks who pluck the birds in their flight through the Rockies. "Sometimes a pigeon will take a month to return to his loft," Mr. Owens said. "They take a fancy to wheat farm and return home in their own sweet time."

MONTE ROBERTS

Are there any cat people in the audience?

(Ed. Note: Is there any audience?)

(My Note: Don't interrupt.)

The reason I ask, are there any cat people in the audience, I am having cat trouble.

My cat trouble is with the small cat who lives at our house, namely Little Miss Muffet.

Now, I must explain that Little Miss Muffet is a very fierce character around the house.

She keeps my Favorite Wife and myself under control at all times, and does not hesitate to beat up on us whenever we displease her.

This I do not mind, as I realize cats are cats, and people are people, and whenever the twain meet, people are bound to lose.

But my problem is this: When faced with another cat, Little Miss Muffet:

(a) Refuses to make friends.

(b) Calls the other cat all sorts of names and challenges it to battle.

(c) Whereupon the other cat refuses to stand such nonsense, and promptly beats up on Little Miss Muffet.

I have no objection to (a) and (b), this being the anti-social type of world it is.

But I do object to Little Miss Muffet never winning a fight.

There is one cat in particular, a large, white, handsome, sort of a kind of a Persian who beats up on Little Miss Muffet with monotonous regularity.

This has resulted in two things, neither of which I appreciate to any extent.

1. After being beat up on by the white cat, Little Miss Muffet beats up on ME, claiming it is all my fault.

2. Little Miss Muffet refuses to go out of the house unless under escort by yours truly.

This point No. 2 is the real reason I am carrying my appeal to any and all cat people who may be in the audience.

I am rapidly becoming nothing more nor less than a cat-walker.

And there is something rather damaging to the ego in being at the beck and call of a cat who, when she wishes to go out into the great outdoors, fixes me with a jaundiced eye and says "come on, bud, I want an escort."

My only hope is that someone who really knows about cats will tell me how to teach my cat to beat up on other cats.

Instead of taking me for walks and beating up on me.

AUTUMN WEATHER CONTINUES

Weekend weather will be "a sort of blend of sunshine and cloud with the isolated shower across the Island," weatherman William Mackie predicted today.

Temperatures will remain on the cool side for this time of year with lows of 52 at night and highs ranging from 65 to 70 in the afternoons.

Today's strong southwest winds of 25 to 35 miles an hour are expected to abate to a more gentle 15-20 m.p.h. pace Saturday.

Two Men Rescued By Jap Freighter

Two Victorians, a marine sales employee and a shipyard worker, were to return home the long way 'round today after a harrowing 20 hours on Juan de Fuca Strait in a drifting boat.

Carmen Pascoe, 24-year-old employee of a marine sales and service depot, and 26-year-old shipyard worker Matt Nult, turned an hours-long motorboat run from Saturna Island into a three-day trip by failing to carry spare gas.

The pair left the annual Saturna Island barbecue Wednesday afternoon in a 15-foot motorboat. By evening, with the lights of Victoria in view, they ran out of gas and began drifting erratically across the strait.

They were picked up by the Japanese freighter Kibi Maru Thursday at 5 p.m., four hours after the Vancouver rescue co-ordination centre had alerted shipping to be on the watch for them.

The two men were discovered by the freighter five miles off Discovery Island, exhausted after nine hours of paddling to prevent the boat being carried out to sea by an ebbing tide.

The Kibi Maru took men and boat to Vancouver, where the pair stayed overnight in a hotel resting up for their second try at reaching Victoria today.

Richard M. Lloyd, Vancouver, in Oak Bay police court today pleaded guilty to theft under $50 and was adjourned to July 10 for a probation report.

Police testimony was the accused stole a wallet containing $43 and car keys from Alex Crawford, 2596 Dunlevy, when he obtained a gratuitous ride in the Victoria man's car.

Blasting on the Herd Road section of the North Cowichan municipality road program near Duncan caused a one-hour power cutoff in Maple Bay, Crofton, Westholme, Salt Spring Island, Galiano Island and Pender Island Thursday.

Rocks from the blast brought two power line conductors together, which caused fuses to blow at the B.C. Power Commission Herd Road substation.

Esquimalt municipal clerk J. W. Allan today reminded the municipalities taxpayers that deadline for payment of assessments was only two weeks away.

"All taxes should be paid here before 5 p.m. on the 16th," he said, and warned that the usual five per cent penalty would be levied for late payment.

Council changed the deadline from June 30 to July 16 because of delay in notifying residents of their assessments.

Pte. Bodo Hans Unger, Work Point Barracks, was fined $250 in city police court today after pleading guilty to impaired driving.

Offence took place June 28 on Esquimalt Road.

Police said he drove over the curb at one spot and on the wrong side of the road further along.

James M. Laurie, 723 Yates, in city police court today was sentenced to four months in jail when found guilty of false pretences in obtaining a car June 20 from Atlas Service Station Ltd.

Court was told he misrepresented himself as a representative of a building firm, and on the strength of that obtained the car, valued at $450. A cheque he gave for the initial down payment was not honored as Laurie's bank account had been closed.

Laurie, who received a suspended sentence last January for conversion of funds, was still on probation when the second offence took place.

CNR Loses Bid to Cut Assessment

Acting Mayor Arthur Dowell Thursday commended city assessor Alfred Joyce for trebling the Canadian National Railways assessment on 25 acres in the industrial reserve and "making it stick."

An appeal board decision in Vancouver has set the CNR's assessment this year at $147,000, city finance committee was told. The decision also fixed next year's assessment at $170,580.

Last year's assessment was $52,600 which brought in $2,617. This year's taxes will jump to $7,241 as a result of the assessment increase and next year will rise by another $1,138, based on this year's mill rate.

Properties involved include a waterfront strip between the Johnson St. and Point Ellice bridges and the freight yards north of Point Ellcie.

The CNR lost two complex appeals against the increase with the involved arguments revolving around technical aspects of assessment laws.

"Mr. Joyce certainly should be commended for his work on behalf of the city," said Ald. Dowell.

HENLEY, Eng. (UPI)—The Harvard University heavyweight and lightweight crews today won victories over the ISIS Rowing Club of Britain in the Royal Henley Regatta. The heavyweights gained the final of the Grand Challenge Cup.

St. Louis Manager Suspended

ST. LOUIS (UPI)—The St. Louis Cardinals announced today that manager Solly Hemus had been suspended for five days and fined $250 for his part in a seventh-inning rhubarb in Thursday night's game against the Los Angeles Dodgers. Coach Harry Walker was suspended for two days and fined $100.

3 Miners Killed in Gas Pocket

MARSEILLES, France (AP)—A deadly gas pocket in a lead mine claimed the lives of three miners today. The first miner was descending into the shaft to pump water when he fell unconscious and slumped into the water. Two comrades went down and were overcome in turn.

Whitehorse 'Shakedown' Charged

GRAND PRAIRIE, Alta. (UPI)—A group of Flying 49-ers en route home to various points in the United States from statehood celebrations in Alaska arrived here today up in arms over an alleged shakedown racket in Whitehorse. Harry B. Collins said a cab driver demanded $1.50 from each pilot, explaining that the cash was to transport the local customs officer from town to the airport.

U.S. 'Invasion' To See Queen

WINDSOR, Ont. (UPI)—Queen Elizabeth and Prince Philip re-boarded the royal yacht Britannia today after a brief trip to this border city that attracted an estimated 100,000 visitors from Detroit.

The Detroit citizens flocked across the border all day in an attempt to rival the welcomed planned when the royal couple make their only U.S. stop on the 45-day Canadian tour at Chicago on Monday.

LONDON, Ont. (CP)—The Queen and Prince Philip kicked off the seventh day of their Royal Tour of Ontario in a scorching sun today. They took this picturesque old city by storm.

Upwards of 60,000 people — some leathery veterans of the Boer War and the Riel Rebellion and many wildly cheering school children—jammed the main arteries and tree-lined boulevards to welcome the royal couple.

The Queen and Prince, who arrived here from Stratford at 9:54 a.m., spent 21 minutes longer than their scheduled stay of one hour. They departed by royal train for Chatham at 11.15 a.m., 15 minutes late. They had arrived six minutes early.

The Queen, who appeared tired Thursday night after a whirlwind tour of six Ontario cities, was a striking figure in her cherry-red and white-spotted silk dress as she and the Prince drove four miles from the CNR station to Little Memorial Stadium on the shrub-studded University of Western Ontario campus.

The weather was fit for royalty. Although it was about 83 degrees it didn't seem to bother the royal couple.

Mayor Repeats Royal Welcome

About 10,000 people crowded around the CNR station in south-central London as the Queen and Philip stepped from the train and walked across $10,000 worth of red carpeting to be welcomed by 55-year-old Mayor J. A. Johnston. It was Mayor

RENTS, POTATOES HIGHER

Living Costs Up

OTTAWA (CP) — Canadian living costs rose in May, largely as a result of higher potato prices and steeper rents, and pushed the consumer price index up by three-tenths of a point to 125.9 on June 1, the Bureau of Statistics reported today.

The rise, from 125.6 on May 1, was the second monthly increase in a row following a five-month decline in the index. The index is based on 1949 prices equalling 100.

Its June 1 level of 125.9 compares with the record high point of 126.3 last Nov. 1, and with 125.1 June 1 last year.

Wages rose slightly in April after a slight dip caused by the Easter holiday in March. The index of average industrial wages and salaries at May 1—latest date for which figures are available — was 170.5, based on 1949 equalling 100. This was up from 169 April 1 and 170.2 March 1.

The index is computed from a survey of firms employing more than 15 persons and covering a wide range of industries. It represents an average of total wages paid.

INSURANCE UP

The bureau said the higher cost of shelter in May was also due in part to a 6 per cent increase in fire insurance rates.

In other fields of expenditure, Canadians faced higher prices for a wide range of pharmaceuticals, train fares, interurban bus fares and gasoline — with the end of the gasoline price wars during the month.

Castro Battles Plotters

HAVANA (UPI)—Fidel Castro will summon half a million Cuban peasants to Havana July 26 "with their machetes" to demonstrate popular support for his revolutionary government.

The bearded prime minister spoke on television shortly after his secret police announced discovery of a vast anti-government conspiracy operating in the heart of the capital.

Police said they had arrested "many" Cubans and seized "great quantities" of uniforms, arms and ammunition. The manhunt continued today and police said more arrests were imminent.

Castro's speech bristled with challenges to the Dominican Republic. He denounced "international interests." He flayed his air force chief who resigned and disappeared after charging there were Communists in the government.

U.S. RAPPED

Castro rapped the United States by saying that henchmen of Fulgencio Batista in exile in Florida "each day have more influence and official aid."

Castro's revolutionary force which overthrew Batista's dictatorship was known as the 26th of July movement after the date on which it started with an abortive uprising in 1953.

He said assembling the peasants in the capital on that day would show the world the force of his revolution, which he considers still in progress.

The Cuban secret police pressed their gangbusting manhunt in an effort to wipe out the conspiracy to overthrow the government.

Secret police chief Erundino Vilela said the gang was responsible for a recent outbreak of sabotage and terrorism in the greater Havana area and had planned assassinations as the next stage of its operation.

FIVE KILLED IN FLAMING CAR SMASH

SPOKANE, Wash. (AP)—A speeding car smashed into the concrete abutment of an overpass on a super highway early today, then burst into flames. The driver and all four passengers were killed.

Four of the bodies were burned beyond recognition and hours later they still were unidentified. Police said the accident may have been caused by the driver dozing at the wheel.

Back and blowing in New York today, Louis Armstrong joked about his bout of pneumonia in Italy, which sparked rumors of a serious heart attack. Canada Can't Afford Air Defence—Pearson

OTTAWA (CP)—Opposition Leader Pearson today renewed his suggestion that Canada get out of the air defence business.

He said in a continuing Commons defence debate that this country can't afford to provide air defence against nuclear attack and conventional forces at the same time.

But more emphasis should be placed on conventional forces to prevent limited wars turning into all-out nuclear conflict. Canada could supply an airborne brigade group if it reduced its air defence commitments.

Attendance in the 265-seat chamber fell to the quorum of 20 while Mr. Pearson was speaking. One committee was meeting. At the same time, there were 21 defence department officials in the gallery ready to provide answers to members' questions on defence.

TIME "APPROACHING"

Defence Minister Pearkes said in reply to Mr. Pearson that the stage is fast approaching when Canada and the United States can sign an agreement for use of American nuclear weapons by Canadian forces.

Mr. Pearson asked whether Canada would be in the same position as the United Kingdom which had control of U.S. nuclear weapons in its hands.

Mr. Pearkes said he could say nothing more until the negotiations were completed.

Mr. Pearson said Canada must have control over the atomic weapons allotted to its troops.

Mr. Pearkes said this matter is under active consideration and the subject of negotiation.

Prime Minister Diefenbaker said Feb. 20 that American nuclear weapons stores in Canada would remain under U.S. custody.

Strikes seem a purty expensive method o' forest conservation.

Coast Loggers To Quit Monday

Premier Bennett will make himself available in Vancouver tonight to either side in the B.C. lumber dispute now nearing climax in a strike.

"But I don't want to build false hopes," he told newsmen this afternoon. "The situation is serious."

He made it clear, beyond assisting in negotiations, his government would not attempt to force settlement.

By PETE LOUDON

Last-minute personal intervention of Labor Minister Lyle Wicks in the threatening strike of B.C. woodworkers failed this morning and the 26,600-member union prepared to "hit the bricks" Monday morning.

Following a morning-long meeting at Vancouver Hotel with leaders of the International Woodworkers of America, and representatives of Forest Industrial Relations who speak for lumber operators, the minister blamed management for the impasse.

He washed his hands of further attempts at negotiation. "That's it. I am disappointed and annoyed," he said.

He said he knows of no further meetings planned by the opposing factions before the strike deadline at 11 a.m. Monday.

The minister added there were no plans by his department to enter again into the dispute.

Loggers Ready for Long Seige

Meantime, IWA officials gave final instructions to picket control committees, prepared placards, and made ready for a long siege.

Despite instructions to loggers to stay in the woods until Monday, it was reported a general exodus from outlying camps is already underway in some strength — in fact, it started as early as Tuesday, the eve of the Dominion Day holiday.

Several outlying camps were reported running short-handed —"on short shifts."

One official said the woods crews actually have been shorthanded in many places since May. "Everybody is going into construction, where they are offering more stable employment."

The labor minister issued a formal statement following meetings this morning in his hotel room, held with each side separately.

Some Progress Made With IWA

"During my discussions with top officers of the IWA, I feel some progress was made," the statement said, and cintinued: "My meeting between representatives of industry, through the Forest Industrial Relations indicated clearly, there was no basis for entering into or carrying on further negotiations at this stage.

"I am keenly disappointed in the attitude of management as expressed through their spokesmen, representatives of Forest Industrial Relations."

The FIR represents some 126 firms. The minister said the FIR representatives were "a lot more reticent" than the IWA. In a statement last week, the minister noted the IWA was not willing to co-operate.

The union is demanding a 20-per-cent wage increase over a base rate of $1.72 an hour. A majority recommendation by a conciliation board favored a seven per cent raise in a two-year contract, which was acceptable to management.

More than 90 per cent of its members have voted to strike against the operators.

Mr. Wicks has said a woodworkers' strike would cost British Columbia industry $1,000,000 a day. He said today before meeting with union and employer representatives:

"The government will not sit idly by in a situation of this kind. I'm meeting separately with both parties and we'll see what they have to offer."

The government has no power to prevent a strike.

Wheat Pact Approved

OTTAWA (CP)—The Senate Standing committee on Canadian trade relations today gave its approval to the new international wheat agreement

MODERN DAVID PUTS NEW TWIST TO OLD TALE

CITY SHAREHOLDER WINS LAWSUIT AGAINST LABATTS

By HAL MALONE

David slew Goliath again Thursday.

This time the scene of battle was B.C. Supreme Court Chambers in Vancouver instead of at Ephesdammin in the valley of Elah.

The upset victory occurred when Mr. Justice A. M. Manson ruled in favor of "David", personified by Victoria chartered accountant G. F. Dunn, his wife and Sooke Investments Ltd. in their fight against "Goliath", the giant brewing firm of John Labatt Ltd.

The "Davids", facing what investment and legal experts regarded as insurmountable odds, had asked the court to set aside a previous ruling which compelled them to sell their handful (1,260) of shares in Lucky Lager Brewing Co. to the "Goliath", Labatts.

After four hearings, Mr. Justice Manson declared invalid an arrangement under which minority Lucky shareholders would be compelled to sell to Labatts.

He accepted the argument of Mr. Dunn and his counsel J. G. McIntosh that Labatt's offer of $5.25 per share "was not a fair and equitable one."

Mr. Dunn estimated the value of his holdings at from $6.18 to $8.40 per share, based on different evaluation methods.

The jurist's judgment climaxed a 14-month battle by the Dunns and Sooke Investments.

Ever since May 8, 1958, when Labatt's first offered to purchase their holdings at $5.25 each the Dunns and Sooke Investments have fought to keep their Lucky shares.

DARKEST MOMENT

When they continued to resist Labatts offers, the brewing firm obtained an ex parte (only one side appearing) order from Mr. Justice Ruttan last November compelling them to sell.

The Dunns' darkest moment came in February when Mr. Justice A. D. Macfarlane temporarily stalled their application to have the "sell" order set aside. He ruled that the applicants could not call witnesses to testify, then left the door open by advising them that they could produce evidence later by means of affidavit (sworn written testimony).

This they did. On June 25 they presented an intensive, detailed argument before Mr. Justice Manson.

He became so interested in the application he tried to absent himself from daily chamber matters so he could hear the argument without interruptions. Because of a "shortage of judges" he was compelled to hear the application after routine chamber sessions.

Thursday he said the agree-

BCPC Chief's 'Pet Project' Power Grid

The B.C. Power Commission will have customers waiting when the Columbia River is developed ". . . in six or seven years," new B.C. Power Commissioner F. A. Lee said today.

Mr. Lee began his new appointment on a full-time basis Thursday, after 32 years with West Kootenay Power and Light Company. He has attended recent meetings of the commission, since his April appointment by commuting from Trail.

Mr. Lee said in interview, his pet project would be creation of a power grid in the province, built by BCPC to connect all major power sources, "then when big industries locate they can get power from anywhere on the grid, where there is a surplus."

At the present time, he said, the Power Commission "is reasonably comfortable" as regards power sources. He noted there is a surplus in the West Kootenays at present and on the Pend Oreille River.

. . . QUEEN

Johnston who welcomed the Queen mother and father during the Royal Tour in 1939.

The ceremony in front of the station was brief. The party then drove four blocks past banks of shouting people to City Hall, where the Queen signed the guest book.

The Queen wrote with the same pen her father, the late King George VI, used twenty years ago.

The Queen accepted a set of bronze bookends and a $2,000 scholarship as a gift from the city. The couple then went to the stadium in a convertible to be welcomed by some 16,000 people there. Thousands in the crowd were school children who spilled over from the bleachers on to the closely cropped turf.

About 40 city and township officials were presented to Her Majesty and the royal procession headed back to the train.

Minutes after the tour began the Queen was asked to accept a bouquet o. yellow tea roses from Mary Jane Kennedy, a 24-year-old blonde beauty. Miss Kennedy presented a bouquet to the King and Queen 20 years ago.

"I was only four years old then," she said. "I don't think I really appreciated it. But this time it was different. I was thrilled. This was one of the most exciting moments of my life."

Mary Jane, studying to be a nurse, is the great - great - granddaughter of Murray Anderson, first mayor of London in 1855.

The Queen walked through ranks of old war veterans after accepting the bouquet. She stopped to chat with Sergeant William Mills, 93, who fought in the Riel Rebellion in 1885.

The Queen, a straw hat with cherry-colored ribbon on her head and wearing elbow-length white gloves, said:

"You're a remarkable old gentleman."

Just as sharp as he looked, the sergeant replied: "You're a remarkable young lady."

"That's a long time ago, the North-West Rebellion," said the Queen.

"Yes, indeed, it was, Your Majesty."

The old veteran wasn't spruced up in his uniform. He looked more like a financial tycoon in his dapper grey suit and homburg. The Prince, tanned and smiling, stood by, handsome in his blue suit.

As the royal train pulled out, elderly folks seemed reluctant to depart. Some of them picked up souvenirs of the red carpet—pieces from workmen who made last minute trimmings of the covering—as souvenirs of the tour.

The Queen and Prince will be remembered in London.

ment under which the shareholders would be required to sell at $5.25 per share was invalid because Labatts had not complied with the Companies Act in making its original offer to Lucky shareholders. He ordered Labatts to pay costs of the action.

The judge said the company "failed to observe" Section 128 of the Companies Act when it offered to acquire a 51 per cent interest in Lucky Lager on May 9, 1958, and the following month announced its intention to buy all the shares of Lucky.

"There must be strict compliance with the law in such matters. The two Labatt letters were not such as the law requires."

Mr. Justice Manson said it was not for him to fix the value of the shares but he found Mr. Dunn's evidence "more satisfactory" than that put forward by Labatts counsel.

The judge said he found it "difficult to understand" the steps taken by Labatts.

They had obtained 98.28 per cent of the shares and "why they want the rest I cannot understand."

Mr. Dunn owns 60 Lucky shares, his wife 200 shares and Sooke Investments 1,000. Labatts own 1,803,150 shares.
